DANCE ALL RIGHT; POSITION WRONG.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Immodest dancing was scored tonight by speakers before the National Association of Dancing Masters in convention here.

L. P. Christensen of Chicago, an officer of the association, declared the objectionable feature about dancing is the immodest position many dancers assume. "A dance, a figure, a step, matters little," he said. "Position is everything."

The "glide canter," a variation of the fox trot and one-step, was demonstrated to the association today.

NEW PHASE DEVELOPS.

Objection Raised to Freight Rate Increase Remains to be Settled.

Permanent Strike Commission Opposed by Members of Brotherhoods.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Objections which developed tonight, at a meeting of railroad presidents and managers, to points in the tentative plan evolved by the committee of eight presidents considering ways to avoid the threatened general strike, resulted in a further postponement of final action. The conference adjourned to meet again tomorrow and, as one president phrased it, the situation is such that "it may be settled in twenty minutes or the matter may go over until next week."

A statement issued by the railroad executives tonight summed it up this way:

"At the invitation of President Wilson, Messrs. Hale Holden, Judge R. S. Lovett and Daniel Willard went to the White House at noon and held a short conference with the President.

"A conference of the railroad executives was held at 3 o'clock and a new phase of the situation of some importance was laid before the conference by the special committee.

"After considerable discussion without definite action an adjournment was taken until 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

COMMITTEE'S PLAN.

The special committee's plan drafted after a week's consideration, would provide for granting an eight-hour "basic" day to the trainmen, but with assurance that every effort would be made by the administration to secure a prompt rate increase to recompense the roads, and further assurance that Congress would be asked to enact legislation to insure settlement of future labor disputes through an investigating commission.

The entire plan has not been laid before all the executives and managers, but its points have been discussed at the various conferences. It developed after the night's meeting that objection had been raised to the freight rate increase feature on at least two grounds. It was argued by some that there can be no assurance of a rate increase because no one could say what the Interstate Commerce Commission might do and that some of the most important shippers of the country already have made it plain that they are not in sympathy with any move which may mean a rate increase.

It was pointed out also that although President Wilson has expressed his belief that such a rate increase should be granted if the eight-hour day was given the employees, no one could tell how the next election was coming out and that there could be no possibility of an increase before next March.

WAGE STANDARDS.

Attention was called, too, to the fact that the commission hitherto has held that it could not consider wage standards in dealing with proposed rate increases, although legislation by Congress might remove that difficulty.

The principal arguments against the idea of a permanent commission for the prevention or settlement of strikes, were that it would almost certainly be fought by union labor in Congress, and that while President Wilson might be entirely willing now to back such legislation he might not be in a position to do so when it was proposed. Representatives of the brotherhoods who heard of this phase of the plan today were plainly against it. A counter suggestion was heard among the presidents that strike questions should be left to the I.C.C., with power to investigate and make a public report of their findings with a strike held in abeyance pending the investigation.

The special committee's plan has been accepted tentatively by the committee of eight and it was the subject of today's conference at the White House. Its substance was communicated to the labor representatives through Judge William L. Chamber of the board of mediation and conciliation.

COMMISSION IDEA.

The railroad presidents are understood not to be insistent upon the commission idea for the settlement of future disputes, and the main difficulty has been the working out of operating plans under an eight-hour day and of giving assurances to the presidents and managers that they could count upon a freight rate increase. Presidents and managers agree that the operating problem presented is one of the most complicated they have ever undertaken.

There seems to be a general opinion that the eight-hour day must be granted, but roads which now are operating on only a narrow margin of profit or on which the physical difficulties are unusual, present serious problems to be overcome. The effort has been to include in the eight-hour day concessions solution of some other questions, such as overtime pay, etc., which might make it less expensive to the railroads. There were reports tonight that some of the executives still are unalterably opposed to granting the eight-hour day under any circumstances, and might attempt tomorrow to force a decision which would

BROCKTON (Mass.) Aug. 24.—Nine persons were injured, four seriously, and nearly a score suffered hurts, when a bolt of lightning struck a shoe factory here today, causing a vat of denatured alcohol to explode and set fire to the building. UNCLE SAM SIGNS TO MANAGE HAITI.

AMERICAN OFFICERS FOR NATIVE CONSTABULARY.

Protocol Calls for Administration of Telegraph and Telephone Systems Placed in Hands of Lieut. Oberlin—Foreign Debts to be Settled by Arbitration.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—A protocol amplifying financial, economic and administrative treaties with Haiti was signed today by Secretary Lansing and Minister Menos.

The native constabulary will consist of 2100 enlisted men, with probably about 300 American officers nominated by the President of the United States and appointed by the President of Haiti. It is thought that this force will be ample to preserve peace among the 1,000,000 inhabitants of the country. The Americans will be replaced as fast as possible by native officers appointed after examination.

Administration of the telephone and telegraph systems has been placed in the hands of Lieut. Edgar G. Oberlin of the navy.

The treaty provides for an American receiver-general for customs receipts, an American financial adviser and an American engineer for sanitation and general improvements. It prohibits any increase of debt, or sale of territory. A protocol is to be drawn up to settle all foreign debts by arbitration.

The navy hospital ship Solace, in Haitien waters, has been ordered to take aboard all the sick American bluejackets and marines of the expeditionary forces in Haiti and San Domingo, and bring them home. The health of the men generally has been excellent. Of the 5000 or more, not more than seventy-five or 100 sick will be brought north on the Solace.

Infantile Paralysis.

BALTIMORE CLOSES ALL PLAYGROUNDS.

MEASURE OF PRECAUTION FOR PREVENTING EPIDEMIC.

Six New Cases of the Disease Reported in Maryland, Making Twenty to Date—Substantial Decrease in Number in New York, with Thirty Deaths.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

BALTIMORE, Aug. 24.—All the city playgrounds, between thirty and forty in number, were ordered closed today by the health authorities as a measure of precaution to prevent infantile paralysis from becoming epidemic in Baltimore.

Six new cases of the disease were reported in Maryland today, four of them being in Baltimore. The health department gave out a report showing that thus far this year there have been twenty cases and eleven deaths. Ten of these occured since August 1.

NEW YORK SITUATION.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24. — Health department officials were encouraged by today's report on the infantile paralysis epidemic, which showed a substantial decrease in the number of deaths and new cases. During the twenty-four hours ending at 10 a.m., thirty children died and 109 were stricken. This compares favorably with yesterday's figures, forty-two deaths and 131 new cases.

Despite belief that infantile paralysis seldom attacks more than one member of the family, figures prepared by the United States Public Health Service show that in 227 families here more than one child has had the disease. In more than 200 of these families only two children were afflicted, while in twenty families three children have suffered attacks. In one family there were five cases.

Nevertheless, the health commissioner asserts that the averages indicate that the great majority of children is not susceptible to infantile paralysis. Of the first 7000 cases, only 3.36 per cent. were those of children whose sisters or brothers previously had the disease.

Most of the large department stores are refusing to permit the return of children's furnishings or toys after they have once been delivered, in order to prevent a spread of the epidemic in that way. Some of the department stores refuse to accept returns of any kind from buildings in which cases of infantile paralysis have occurred.

MAY RULE THE SEA.

Dewey's Prediction for Our Navy.

Declares Senate Bill Already will Make United States a Good Second.

Admiral Insists Big Fleet is Essential to Future of this Country.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ATLANTIC CITY, Aug. 24.—"America is destined eventually to rule the seas." In concise terms, that is the answer of Admiral George Dewey to everything that has been said in recent months for and against the upbuilding of the navy. It is his final answer to the criticism of his recent utterances by Representative Augustus P. Gardner of Massachusetts. In those eight words the admiral summarized, he declared, all the knowledge he has gathered in his sixty-two years' service in the navy; the one outstanding lesson of the European war now, and his interpretation of the feeling of the American nation.

Having predicted that America would be mistress of the seas, the admiral began looking out over the ocean from his suite in the Dennis Hotel, where, with his wife, he is passing the summer, and added:

"And why should this not be so? This bill as it leaves the Senate makes us a good second—that is it, a good second. But we are the richest nation in the world. We have immense coast lines—stretches that must be defended reaching from Maine to the canal, back on the Pacific to Alaska. We have our foreign possessions, increasing as the years slip by, which must be protected. We should be second to none, if we are to maintain the position that inevitably must be ours.

LOOKS INTO FUTURE.

"I am a very old man and I do not think that I shall live to see these things come to pass. But they must come, just as surely as we now are about to be placed a good second among the navies of the world.

"I stand emphatically and unqualifiedly behind everything that I have said in my recent addresses to the American people on this matter of our navy, past, present and future. It was our navy that won the Civil War; it was our navy that won the war with Spain. It is upon our navy that we must depend in the very largest measure in the future.

"I remember that when we went ashore after our navy had passed up the Mississippi River in the Civil War, a very efficient Confederate officer expressed the sentiment of the majority of his fellows when he said that they would have chased us into the sea if they could have gotten rid of our navy.

"There again is the one great outstanding lesson of the European war, England has maintained her supremacy obviously because of her strength on the seas. I believe I expressed my very best thought on the subject when I said to Champ Clark last spring that England long since would have been a German province if it was not for her battle fleet.

LESSON TO AMERICA.

"America must take her lesson from this. Great Britain's naval strength has prevented even an attempt at invasion and her great sea power has made it possible for her to maintain, almost uninterruptedly, her commerce, and at the same time to transport, almost wherever she wished, great bodies of troops, both for herself and for her allies. It is this condition that America must achieve."

DUTCH SHIPS LEAVE MAILS IN ENGLAND.

SCHOONER SEIZURE SUBJECT OF INQUIRY.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Aug. 24, 2:20 p.m.—Inquiries are being made of the British government by Robert P. Skinner, the American Consul-General, as to the cause of the seizure of the American fishing schooners Maxine Elliott and Lizzie Griffin, which were fishing off the coast of Iceland and were taken into Lerwick, Shetland Islands, by a British patrol boat.

The belief is expressed that the schooners are the victims of the general policy which Great Britain is apparently adopting toward neutral fishermen in an effort to induce them to sell their catches to the British rather than to dispose of them in quarters through which they might reach Germany.

DESTROYERS COMING BACK FROM MEXICO.

Number of Bombs Dropped. No Casualties so Far are Reported.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Aug. 25.—German airships again have raided the east and southeast coasts of England, dropping bombs, according to an official communication issued early this morning.

The communication says:

"Several airships crossed the east-southeast coasts shortly before midnight. A number of bombs were dropped, but there has been no report of casualties or damage"

WILSON MAY WARN KAISER ONCE MORE

"WATCHFUL WAITING," HOWEVER, TO REMAIN ATTITUDE.

Refusal of Berlin Government to Comply with Requests of United States in Two Cases, Together with Information from Ambassador Increases Apprehension.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Aug. 24.—Germany has refused:

(1) To advise the United States of the punishment meted out to the German submarine commander who sank the Channel liner Sussex last spring.

(2) To make any explanation of the action of a submarine commander in firing upon the American steamer Owego.

The refusal of the Berlin government to comply with requests of the United States in these two specific cases, added to information received from Ambassador Gerard, is increasing the apprehension of the authorities in regard to Germany's future course with reference to submarine operations. Consideration is being given to the advisability of making representations warning Berlin as to the consequences of a violation of the assurances given in response to the President's ultimatum of last May. It can be confidently predicted, however, that the government will decide to pursue a policy of "watchful waiting." When a concrete case arises, which involves American life or American interests, the authorities say they will act.

The State Department officially confirmed today the report this morning that it had been advised of the publication by Grand Admiral Von Tirpitz of a manifesto, favoring war with the United States and urging the unrestricted use of submarines. Von Tirpitz was deprived of his office when Germany decided to employ her submarines more humanely. His influence is still powerful, however, and undoubtedly is having an effect in shaping German policy. This is what alarms the officials here.

NEW VICAR GENERAL OF ST. PAUL SELECTED.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. PAUL (Minn.) Aug. 24.—Announcement was made today by Archbishop Ireland that he had selected Rev. James C. Byrne, pastor of St. Mary's Church here, to succeed the late Rev. Thomas J. Gibbons as vicar-general of the archdiocese of St. Paul.

NATIONAL FORESTS AS RECREATION CENTERS.

DENVER, Aug. 24.—The growing use of national forests by the people for recreation and health purposes is the object sought by the government, according to plans outlined by H. S. Graves, chief forester, at a luncheon attended by city officials and business men today. Mr. Graves said that the government sought this end not only through the building of roads, but in making scenic spots accessible, building chalets for the convenience of tourists and encouraging people to build Poalinio Trevino in Torreon.

CHILD AUTOING TO PICNIC IS KILLED.

VIRGINIA (Minn.) Aug. 24.—An automobile belonging to Julius Shanedling, a local merchant, driven by his son Munroe and carrying eleven people, mostly children, to a Jewish picnic at Ely Lake, turned over today, killing a child and injuring most of the others.

AUSTRIAN WOMAN ACCUSES BRITISH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—Miss Nona Walker, an Austrian woman, governess with a Ceylon family when European hostilities commenced, arrived in San Francisco yesterday on the steamship Ventura from Australia with a story of months of hardship endured in a British concentration camp at Sydney. Dismissed by her employers practically without funds, Miss Walker says she was sent by the authorities to the camp at Sydney, where she was compelled to live in tiny corrugated-iron huts in which the heat was almost unbearable, was refused permission to leave the country except at her own expense, and for a long period was refused permission to cable relatives for funds. When this finally was allowed she was watched like a spy until she sailed.

SLEDGEHAMMER BLOWS LAUNCHED ON SOMME.

French and British Again Force Back the German Lines.

BY ARTHUR S. DRAPER.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, Aug. 24.—In the face of heavy counter-strokes both the British and the French renewed the attack north of the Somme today. Both blows succeeded in forcing back the German line.

Driving forward along a front of a mile and a quarter, Foch's troops completed the occupation of the village of Maurepas and pushed beyond to a depth of 250 yards.

This advance flanks the German positions on the ridge guarding Combles on the south and brings the French line here almost on a parallel with the front at Clery. The seizure of the remaining portions of that village are thus made comparatively easy.

The British pushed nearer Thiepval, gaining 300 yards on a 400-yard front and winning more spurs of the Thiepval ridge. They are now within 500 yards of this village, which has proved the strongest bulwark in the defense of the second system from Thiepval to Martinpuich.

SHELLS GERMAN LINE.

Meanwhile, from Estrees, the southernmost point of the French offensive in the Somme, to Lassigny, thirty miles to the south, Joffre's artillery is shelling the German line night and day. This may be the prelude to a wider attack.

A drive in this sector would have as its purpose the forcing back of the huge German salient which loops around Roye and Noyon. If the French can cut a gap in the line north of the apex of the salient, they will endanger the Germans at the apex and so force a retirement.

The new allied assaults today were preceded by very heavy counter-attacks by the Germans. They continued to increase in violence, but failed to win any material gain in either the British or the French sectors of the Somme front.

At Guillemont, where the British have been creeping forward steadily, the Germans hit Haig's line the hardest blow. They reached the parapets of the British trenches and engaged the enemy in hand-to-hand combat. But they were soon beaten off and fell back to their own trenches.

Soyecourt, at the southern end of the French sector, was bombarded heavily again. This suggests that the Germans intend to open a counter-attack here soon. In anticipation of this, and in the effort to clear the way for new thrusts, the French guns are pounding away day and night.

TREMENDOUS INTENSITY.

Dispatches from the front describe this bombardment as of "extraordinary intensity." The cannonading extends from Vermandovillers, through Chaulnes and Roye, to Lassigny. The Germans, in efforts to quiet it, have sent many aeros over the French lines, but Joffre's fliers invariably have driven them back.

The German losses in their counter-attacks are reported to be exceedingly severe. The Verdun situation has been reversed. While the Germans are paying a heavy toll in the Picardy struggle, the British and French have been paying a remarkably low price for their gains since the first three weeks of the big push.

GREEK TROOPS FIGHT BULGARS.

ATHENS, Aug. 23 (via London, Aug. 24.)—reek troops are still resisting the Bulgarians at Seres, in Northeastern Greece, notwithstanding the orders of the General Staff that they retire. The Greeks are being reinforced rapidly by volunteers.

From all parts of Greece officers and men are hastening to Saloniki to volunteer with the Entente forces to fight the Bulgarians. A corps of Albanians has arrived at Saloniki.

In view of the intensity of feeling over the Bulgarian advance a mass meeting planned for next Sunday in celebration of the anniversary of the revolution of 1909 is regarded with some apprehension.

The advance of the Bulgarians in Northeastern Greece was made with the sanction of the Greek government, Bulgaria and Germany having guaranteed the return of the territory after the war. The Bulgarians proceeded to take up defensive positions in anticipation of a drive by the Entente allies.

ADVANCE OF THE BRITISH.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—British troops have advanced 300 yards south of Thiepval, capturing a German trench 400 yards in length and many prisoners, said an official statement issued by the War Office tonight.

The statement reads:

"South of Thiepval this afternoon we made a further advance of 300 yards, capturing an enemy trench 400 yards in length. Many prisoners are being taken in this sector. Yesterday fifty-two, including two officers, were passed back. These are in addition to 164 already reported. Today a further number was taken.

"A hostile bombing attack against our new trenches north of Bazentine-le-Petit was easily repulsed last night. There has been considerable hostile shelling this evening along the front, mainly in reply to our bombardment."

RUSSIANS REOCCUPY MUSH.

PETROGRAD (via London) Aug. 24.—Russian forces operating in Southern Turkish Armenia have reoccupied Mush, captured by the Turks on August 8, says an official communication issued by the War Department tonight. The statement adds the Russians captured 2200 prisoners in the battle at Rachta. The communication says:

"Western (Russian) front: The situation is unchanged.

"Caucasus front: Our troops, pressing the enemy in the region west of Lake Van, entered Mush, taking some prisoners.

"Supplementary information from army headquarters says that in the battle fought near Rachta, where we surrounded positions of the Fourth Turkish Division, we took prisoner the whole of the Eleventh Turkish Regiment, consisting of its commander, fifty-six officers and 1600 men, as well as nearly all of the remnants of the Tenth Turkish Regiment, consisting of two staff officers, several other officers and 650 Askaris. We also captured in this battle three cannon and three machine guns."

FRENCH CANNON AGAIN ACTIVE.

PARIS, Aug. 24.—The French are bombarding violently the German lines from Estrees, the southern extremity of their present offensive, to Lassigny, a distance of about twenty miles, according to the war correspondent of La Liberte.

The correspondent says that heavy cannonading is in progress along the line from Vermandovillers through Lihons, Chaulnes and Roye to Lassigny. The French fire has drawn the German airmen across the French lines, contrary to their custom. They are apparently trying to reconnoiter the position of the allied artillery.

"Captive German balloons again have appeared in the air," says the correspondent, "but were withdrawn quickly when attacked by French airmen. Scouting machines sent out by the Germans were driven back after numerous air battles. The artillery action in the last thirty-six hours over the entire Somme front reached an extraordinary intensity. The German guns replied vigorously and some of their batteries were silenced."

BRITAIN AND SWEDEN ONCE NEAR A BREAK.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Great Britain, following the lead of Sweden, has made public the entire correspondence with Sweden concerning British seizures of the Swedish parcel post with the United States and Swedish retaliation in stopping all British parcels in transit to Russia.

The correspondence discloses that the situation has not been satisfactorily adjusted. Some letters and notes teem with language so sharp as to indicate that the relations of the two countries at one time approached the breaking point. As a result of the negotiations Sweden recently released 60,000 parcels to Russia under agreement with the government to submit the matter to arbitration after the war. The British government demanded that there be no more interference with traffic across Sweden to Russia, but Sweden refused to promise, saying it was not included in the original negotiations, whereupon the British government withdrew its offer to arbitrate.

The final offer of Sweden was that she would do nothing in retaliation for anything done by Great Britain prior to July 24 of this year, which was coupled with the hope that this "conciliatory" attitude would move Great Britain to cease interference with Swedish mails, thus saving Sweden from "the necessity of resorting to retaliation in the future."

In this last note Sweden threatened to make the entire correspondence public, should the occasion arise.

Great Britain in her last note, signed by Foreign Secretary Grey, said the British offer to arbitrate would remain open only on condition that Sweden should continue to forward parcels between England and Russia, and elsewhere, and otherwise carry out the postoffice agreement entered into by the two countries in 1904.

RUSSIANS TRYING TO BREAK INTO HUNGARY.

[BY WIRELESS AND A. P.]

BERLIN, Aug. 24 (via Sayville.)—Sharp fighting continues in the Carpathian regions, where Austrian and German troops are disputing Russian attempts to advance through the passes into Hungary.

In the Vienna headquarters report of August 23 a German success north of Capul, where Russian positions were taken and 200 prisoners captured, is announced.

Further attacks by the Russians in the Jablionitza Pass region, near Zabie, were repulsed.

Reports received through Stockholm indicate that the situation in Turkestan is growing worse, says an Overseas News Agency statement today. Gen. Kuropatkin, who was recently appointed Governor-General of Turkestan, has been compelled to issue severe orders to cope with the conditions, the advices declare.

ITALIAN FIRE INCREASING.

The Italian artillery is displaying increasing activity along the Isonzo front, according to the Austro-Hungarian report of August 22. No infantry engagements anywhere along the Austro-Italian front are reported in the announcement, which says:

"On the Isonzo front, the enemy's artillery has opened a livelier fire upon separate sectors.

"Near Voche, in the Stenstrig, an enemy biplane fell into our hands. The occupants were taken prisoner. In the Tyrol an enterprise on the Fleimstal front brought in eighty unwounded prisoners and two machine guns.

"On the southeastern front (Albania) in the Avlona sector, the enemy is increasing his activity.

"An Austro-Hungarian battle plane, piloted by First Sergeant Aridi, in an engagement with four Farman biplanes shot down two machines. One fell into the sea near Skumbrouth. The second fell into the sea and was recovered by an enemy destroyer."

MINOR GERMAN SUCCESSES.

BERLIN, Aug. 24 (via London.)—The official announcement of today regarding operations on the eastern front follows:

"With the exception of minor successful engagements against Russian advanced troops, as a result of which prisoners and booty were brought in, there were no developments of importance."

Regarding the western front, the statement says:

"North of the Somme, yesterday evening and last night fresh efforts on the part of the enemy were rendered futile. British attacks again were directed against the projecting angle between Thiepval and Pozieres and against our positions around Guillemont.

"Near Maurepas, and especially to the south, strong French forces were repulsed after stubborn fighting at various places.

"On the right bank of the Meuse the artillery fighting in the Thiaumont-Fleury sector and in the wooded mountain near Chapitre increased considerably in intensity. Several French attacks south of Thiaumont work broke down."

BATTERY OF INFANTRY WIPED OUT BY YAQUIS.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Aug. 24.—The twenty-second battalion, Sonora Infantry, was practically annihilated, after it had been ambushed by Yaquis near Batamonte, in the Alamos district, about ten days ago, according to reports brought here today by arrivals from Sahuaripa, 250 miles south of the frontier.

Reports of growing unrest in Western Sonora also were received in private dispatches from Hermosillo today. These gave the monetary and industrial situations as the chief causes.

The Mexican government troops, about 200 strong, were passing through a narrow canyon when the Indians fell upon them, according to the meager reports here. Only a few stragglers escaped, it was said.

The arrivals also said the Yaquis are committing numerous depredations in the district and that many of the residents have fled into the mountains. They said that a de facto cavalry command at Sahuaripa, under Col. Anchetta, has been so reduced by desertion as to be unable to take the field.

GERMANS BUILDING MANY SUBMARINES.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—While more than 100 German submarines have been destroyed or captured in the Thames Estuary or in the English Channel, the Germans are maintaining their "untersee" fleet by turning a submersible warship out every five weeks, according to Capt. Thomas Blau, commander of the American steamship Korea, recently running between New York and London.

Capt. Blau also said today:

"Hundreds of British torpedo boats patrol the waters of the channel for submarines, under the direction of submarine 'ears,' or listening mechanisms, in external appearance an ordinary bell buoy. These can detect the throb of a submarine's motor as far away as fifteen miles.

"When a submersible has been located five or six torpedo boats surround it, each paying out a long steel line with a torpedo attached. Steering a zigzag course at high speed the torpedoes frequently are brought into contact with a submarine.

"Between Boulogne and Folkestone a narrow lane marked by buoys is maintained for ship traffic, the surrounding waters being seined incessantly."

Discrimination by discerning advertisers between newspapers that bring them quick and satisfactory results and those that do not is responsible for The Times regularly printing more paid advertising than any other Los Angeles newspaper.

Every day in the year The Times leads all of its competitors by a wide margin.

The thorough and careful reading of The Times, induced by the fact that this newspaper regularly prints approximately twice as many separate "want ads" as its nearest competitor, necessarily is of great benefit to display advertisers.

land returned home slightly damaged, according to an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from The Hague, which says this information is contained in a telegram from Bremen. The members of the crew were unwilling, it adds, to give details of the return voyage. The arrival of the submarine surprised her owners, as she was not expected to dock within a week.

The departure for America a week ago of the German submarine Bremen is reported in a dispatch from Bremen as forwarded from The Hague by the Exchange Telegraph Company. It is said the owners of the Deutschland and the Bremen received word seven days ago of the progress being made by the Deutschland on her return voyage and that it was not until they had obtained this information that they permitted the Bremen to depart.

The Deutschland took the same route on both her voyages, the dispatch says, returning to Germany by the North Sea.

A LONG TRIP.

The Deutschland traveled 4200 miles on her homeward voyage. At the beginning the sea was tempestuous, but later it became more calm. The Deutschland proved to be able to navigate the stormy seas excellently. Her engines worked faultlessly. No icebergs were passed on the journey.

WILLEHAD LEAVES.

BOSTON, Aug. 24.—The North German Lloyd liner Willehad, which has been in refuge here since the outbreak of the war, slipped out of the harbor early today, presumably for New London, Ct., for which port she obtained clearance papers last night. Officials of the line asserted the change was made to reduce docking charges and denied reports that there was any connection between the Willehad's movements and the expected arrival of the German merchant submarine Bremen.

The Willehad is making the voyage under charter to the Eastern Forwarding Company, American agents of the German company which is operating the merchant submarines, according to C. Kuhlwein, local agent of the North German Lloyd line. Virtually all of the voyage would be within the three-mile limit, he said.

The Willehad went out under the flag of the German merchant marine, the first time it had been carried out of Boston harbor since the war began. She was without consorts.

Capt. J. J. Hartling, the pilot who took the steamer out of the harbor, said she was bound for New London and would make the passage through the Cape Cod Canal. Those aboard, he said, acted as if they were on a routine trip and professed to know of no special service to be rendered at her destination.

CONGRATULATIONS TO CAPT. KOENIG.

BERLIN (via London) Aug. 25.—From all parts of Germany, Austria-Hungary, Bulgaria and Turkey, messages of congratulation are arriving for Capt. Koenig and crew of the Deutschland. One came from the Hungarian lower chamber, addressed to the German Reichstag.

Count von Reventlow, in the Deutsche Tages Zeitung is almost alone in taking a pessimistic view of the entire affair. He calls attention to the fact that over-estimating the values of the merchant submarine is detrimental to German national interests. The general comment, however, is confined to a keen appreciation of the daring displayed in building and navigating the submarine.

Capt. Koenig and his crew on Friday, at Bremen, will be given an official reception which will be attended by many high government officials and prominent men.

NO WORD OF WILLEHAD.

NEW LONDON (Ct.) Aug. 24.—Up to a late hour tonight, no news had been received here of the German steamer Willehad, which left Boston suddenly today. Efforts to reach the steamer by wireless failed.

At the new State pier, where it was reported the liner would dock, no preparations were in evidence, and no one in authority at the pier had any information as to the steamer's whereabouts.

Inquiry.

OFFICER IN PANIC HAD IRISH SHOT.

THOUGHT GERMANS MARCHING ON CITY OF DUBLIN.

Report of Capt. Bowen-Colthurst Shows He Believed He had the Power, Under Martial Law, to Execute Skeffington, McIntyre and Dickson.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

DUBLIN, Aug. 24 (via London, 4 p.m.)—At the continuation today of the inquiry into the shooting without trail, during the rebellion last spring of F. Sheehy Skeffington, Frederick McIntyre and Thomas Dickson, Sir John Simon, chairman of the commission conducting the investigation, read a report made by Capt. Bowen-Colthurst, who ordered the execution of the three men.

The report was made after the arrest of the captain, who subsequently was found guilty but insane by a court martial. The captain reported he did not believe the guard room to be a safe place for such "desperate men" as Skeffington, Dickson and McIntyre. He said he had heard 600 Germans were marching on Dublin. "Believing he had the power under martial law, he ordered the shooting of the three men, though he regarded it as a "terrible duty."

The captain also said in the report he heard large forces of rebels were about to attack Portobello barracks. He was told that soldiers on leave were being "shot down in the city like dogs," and had these things on his mind at the time he ordered the shooting of the three men.

It was testified there was nothing incriminating in the documents found on the prisoners.

SERBIANS FLEE BEFORE BULGARS

Several Positions Captured South of Florina.

Cavalry Squad Annihilated, Says Berlin Report.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

SOFIA, Aug. 24 (via London.)—Bulgarian troops advancing on the western end of the Macedonia front defeated the Serbians and compelled them to retreat, the War Office announced today. They captured several positions.

The statement says:

"Bulgarian troops advancing south of Florina occupied on August 23 Kostoura and Kastoria. The defeated Serbians are retreating southward. The Bulgarians operating in the direction of Lerina, Banica and Contchero captured on August 21 a strongly fortified position on the crest of Mount Malka Nieze.

"On the following day they attacked the Serbians on the Vardar in their new positions at St. Spiddon hill 207 and Tcheganaki planina."

"We captured seven officers and 200 men and also a number of quick-firers and machine guns and other material. The fighting continues.

"We definitely consolidated our positions on the Djermattgeri Height, north of Lake Ostrovo. In the Moglenica Valley important forces attacked the Dukorz and Couri heights. All attacks were repulsed with heavy Serbian losses.

"In the Vardar Valley the day was quiet except for artillery activity.

"Southwest of Lake Doiran the enemy at 10 o'clock in the evening attempted to attack our advanced positions, but were repulsed.

"Additional information shows that the Hundred and Seventy-sixth French Regiment, which participated in the fighting on the 21st inst. lost 50 per cent. of its effectives. We found on the field 250 bodies.

"On our left wing in the Struma Valley we cleared the left bank of the river of the enemy. We buried 500 of the enemy yesterday.

"South of Drama advanced Bulgarian detachments encountered an English squadron accompanied by a company of cyclers. After exchanging shots the English retreated in the direction of Orfano. Having previously destroyed two bridges over the river, we occupied Angista station and the railway through Oxilar, Orama, Angista, Seres and Demir Hissar is now in our possession."

BERLIN ACCOUNT.

BERLIN, Aug. 24 (via Sayville.)—Defeat of the Entente forces along the Struma River on the Macedonian front in Northeastern Greece was announced by the Bulgarian War Office in a statement issued yesterday at Sofia.

The statement says the Entente forces took flight, leaving the ground covered with dead and that up to the time the statement was issued the bodies of more than 400 dead had been counted. Large quantities of ammunition and supplies, including eight machine guns were captured by the Bulgarians.

The announcement follows:

"We defeated the enemy on the Struma on August 21. The enemy escaped by flight on the right bank. The whole ground in the neighborhood of the villages of Erikeui, Mesovo and Towolova was covered with bodies of the enemy's dead. Up to the present we have counted more than 400 dead, including the bodies of several officers.

"We captured eight machine guns, a large number of rifles, grenades and wagons for artillery and supplies. We also took 190 unwounded prisoners, including four officers and sixty wounded prisoners. The battlefield was covered with a huge quantity of kits, which proved that the enemy was defeated completely.

"A squad of hostile cavalry was lured by a maneuver of our cavalry into the range of our infantry fire and literally annihilated.

"French attacks which have been directed for ten days against positions south and southwest of Lake Doiran failed completely.

"Our troops buried fifty French dead on the right bank of the Vardar. In the vicinity of Nayadagn we captured a hostile detachment and one machine gun. The French left seventy dead behind them."

The Struma River follows an irregular course through northeastern Greece, cutting across the open country along the northern shore of the Aegean Sea. Bulgarian forces appeared in this region last week and took up defensive positions along the river. They met with no opposition from the Entente forces as this region is some distance east of the old battle line. Several Greek forts were occupied and the Bulgarians threw up entrenchments. The importance of this line lies in the fact that it shuts off the allies from the easiest route into Bulgaria, if an invasion should be attempted, and enables the Bulgarians to hold strong defensive positions behind the river.

FAMOUS TREASURES FOUND BY AUSTRIANS.

GENEVA (Switzerland) (via Paris) Aug. 24, 10:15 a.m.—The Austrians, according to a special dispatch from Innsbruck, have found the famous treasures of the Detchani monastery near Cettinje, Montenegro, which the monks had buried on the approach of the invaders.

The accumulations were those of seven centuries, consisting of jewels and gold coin of every generation since the thirteenth century, golden vessels and richly-embroidered vestments. The value of the whole accumulation is estimated at several million pounds.

It is said, adds the dispatch, that a peasant betrayed to the Austrians the catacombs where the treasure was secreted.

bring the negotiations to an end, one way or another.

WILSON'S POSITION.

President Wilson is said to have taken the position that the freight rate increase will be forthcoming because the weight of public opinion will back the eight-hour day, and will also back any plan to give the railroads the revenue to provide for the added expense.

Statements were issued tonight by President Pennington of the Minneapolis, St. Paul and Sault Ste. Marie, and P. R. Albright, general manager of the Atlantic Coast Line, emphasizing the railroad view of the additional cost to them of an eight-hour day. Mr. Pennington said for the railroads to accept something which would cause them to spend $52,000,000 more annually would seriously affect their credit. He pointed out that in 1907 the railroads earned only 5.85 per cent. on their investment.

In 1913 the rate was 4.83; in 1914, 3.94, and in 1915, 4.04 per cent. Despite a large increase in earnings the past year, he added, incomplete returns show a probable rate for 1915 of about 5.50 per cent.

Hope was high among brotherhood men tonight that a satisfactory settlement would be reached tomorrow. Assurances from their leaders that the outlook was favorable, cheered them. The men maintained that they received no details of the judges' communication, but were satisfied with their leaders' optimism. The leaders declined to comment, but all of them said they believed that negotiations soon would end satisfactorily.

Brotherhood officials maintained tonight that the full plan of settlement to be suggested by the railroad heads, which is said to contain some amendment to the President's proposal already accepted by the men, had not been outlined to them officially. They knew of it only in a general way, they said.

GARRETSON SUMS UP.

"We have our ears to the ground listening," was the way A. B. Garretson summed up the situation. That, save for his statement earlier in the day that the message conveyed by Judge Chambers "certainly was not depressing," was the only comment he had to make throughout the day. Other leaders were equally silent.

It is known, however, that if the railroad heads insist upon the formation of a Federal commission for the investigation of labor differences before a strike is called, as reports have it they will, vigorous opposition will be voiced by many members of the brotherhoods. This plan, which has been freely discussed among the railroad heads, has not been suggested to the brotherhood leaders officially to determine how they stand on it, it is understood, but several of them will oppose it if it is proposed.

Fear of embarrassing the President as well as injuring their own cause today quieted the "insurgent" brotherhood element who yesterday for a time threatened to disrupt the calm daily meetings of the employees with their demands for action. As a result the gathering today was peaceful and adjournment was taken until tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock without a sign of protest.

WILSON'S SUPPORT.

The leaders had pointed out to the insurgents that thus far in the negotiations, the weight of the President's support had been with them and that to make any move which would embarrass him in his negotiations would be extremely unwise at least. Furthermore, word came from the railroad headquarters that the managers and presidents heard with unconcealed satisfaction that some of the employees were clamoring for an immediate strike. Only by remaining calm and exercising patience at such a delicate stage of the negotiations, the men were told, could the support of that share of the public now in sympathy with them be maintained.

There were no Capitol conferences regarding the threatened strike today. At the Capitol it was said that while no specific legislation had been agreed upon yet, in event of failure of the negotiations to avert the strike, both sides would be surprised at steps that would be proposed in Congress.

SICK INDIAN HELD LOSS.

Uncle Sam Increases Medical Forces to Fight Redskin Maladies.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—What has been done by the United States government to conserve the health of the Indian is detailed by Secretary Lane in a statement today. On the ground that a sick Indian is an economic loss not only to himself but to his family and his tribe, the principal efforts have been directed to introducing preventive measures on reservations, improvement of unsanitary conditions and providing treatment.

One of the most serious problems has been the widespread prevalence of trachoma and tuberculosis among the Indians. In an effort to meet the situation the government's force of medical men, nurses, field matrons and hospital facilities, has been materially increased.

The importance of well-cared for teeth has been recognized, and seven traveling dentists are now employed to look after the teeth of Indian school children.

Other things done by the government are a campaign for clean-ups and decrease in infant mortality.

War Game.

BELIEVE FLEETS ARE IN CONTACT

Atlantic Coast Maneuvers Nearing Climax.

Strict Censorship Imposed on All Reports.

First Point in Contest to Defending Forces.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Navy officials believed it possible tonight that the "red" and "blue" fleets had come into contact somewhere off the Atlantic Coast and were enacting the closing scenes of the great war game which began two days ago. A strict censorship was imposed, however, on all reports reaching the department.

A message early today from Rear-Admiral Helm, commanding the "blue" defending fleet, indicated that his scouts might have located either the "red" fleet or its phantom train of transports, hypothetically loaded with the men and supplies of an invading army Admiral Mayo is seeking to land on the Atlantic Coast. There were indications also that further reports had come showing that the "blue" fleet was hurrying toward its enemy and that the scouts, at least, were in touch.

The outcome will be determined by Rear-Admiral Knight, head of the Navy War College, who, as umpire, is on the scene of action aboard the superdreadnaught Pennsylvania. Admiral Knight receives regular reports from the commanders of the two fleets as to their dispositions.

The moves of the game are being plotted by navigators on a huge chart aboard the Pennsylvania and when Admiral Mayo has accomplished his task and made a landing or when the positions of the fleets show that Admiral Helm's ships are so disposed as to make such an accomplishment impossible, Admiral Knight will announce that the game is ended and notify the department of the result.

TRANSPORT FLEET FOUND.

The fleet of enemy transports, bringing an invading army to be landed on the Atlantic seaboard, has been found by the defending fleet and the first point goes to the defending forces.

Early today the big wireless towers at Arlington picked up orders being sent from Rear-Admiral Helm's flagship disposing his line to meet the developments.

No word has come of the whereabouts of the hostile battle fleet commanded by Admiral Mayo, but it is supposed to be near the transports.

Admiral Helm is sweeping the ocean toward the last known position of the enemy, with a line of scouts covering several hundred miles.

An inner line of scouts also is being maintained, and close into the coast, behind the defending battle fleet, the submarine flotilla is ready should the enemy evade the outer line.

Early today the navy intelligence offices discovered a "plot" to blow up the storage oil tanks at Narragansett and to destroy the magazines in the naval shore stations.

NAVY HAS SPY SCARE.

The Navy Department had a spy scare today. It was entirely theoretical, however, and was based upon the fear that information concerning the location of Rear-Admiral Helm's fleet might reach the invaders by wireless from foreign merchant ships clearing from American ports.

This information, it was pointed out, might be gathered by "foreign agents" from incoming ships which had sighted the "blue" fleet, and given to outgoing vessels for transmission after the three-mile neutrality limit was passed. It was considered extremely probable that officers of the invading fleet, before the war game actually started, did not overlook the opportunity to establish an espionage system similar to that which American authorities might have to cope with in time of real war.

For this reason, details of the "blue" fleet's tactics were guarded at the Navy Department as carefully as if the nation's safety were actually involved. Even the chances of leaks within the department were admitted as theoretically possible, although officers expressed confidence in all persons who are in position to know Admiral Helm's whereabouts.

Amateur wireless stations are under censorship and those in charge of supervising the amateurs are taking precautions to guard against dissemination of military secrets through these sources.

Considering the location of the invading fleet when first reported and the speed of the vessels which went out to meet it, an encounter might have occurred yesterday. As soon as such a meeting does happen, announcement would be made by the Navy Department, unless for some reason the disclosure would be of aid to the hostile forces.

FIFTH GERMAN LOAN IS BEING ARRANGED.

LONDON, Aug. 24, 11:56 a.m.—Arrangements have been completed for the flotation of the fifth German war loan. An Exchange Telegraph dispatch from The Hague says the loan will be issued September 4 and the interest rate will be 5 per cent., as in the case of the previous loans. Subscriptions will be received up to October 5. The issue price, the dispatch says, will be 98.

Count von Roedern, Secretary of the Imperial Treasury, has instituted measures to popularize the loan, which, the dispatch says, is being described by canvassers "as the last war loan." Former issues of war bonds may be turned in as subscriptions.

The fourth German war loan was issued in March. It was sold at 98½, as against 99 for the third loan. An issue price of 98 for the new bonds would indicate that Germany, in common with other belligerents, is being compelled to pay a higher price for its funds as the war goes on.

MACEDONIAN FRONT HAS A QUIET DAY.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Neither the Bulgarians nor the Entente forces on the Macedonian front attempted vigorous offensive actions yesterday. An official statement issued here today says that artillery fighting continues, but records no infantry encounters.

There has been artillery activity on the Doiran front," says the statement, "but no infantry action. On the Struma front our artillery dispersed Bulgarians who were intrenched on the left bank of the river. The enemy's artillery shelled Orlak bridge.

"The Serbians are on the same line as reported yesterday."

NEXT MOVE IS UP TO RUMANIA, SAYS BERLIN.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

BERLIN, Aug. 23 (via London, Aug. 24, 12:40 p.m.)—Government circles here, though none too optimistic, view the Rumanian situation calmly, taking the attitude that it is Rumania's next move. The feeling is that the central powers have done everything possible to meet Rumania's views, and that Rumania, in persisting in the course desired by the Entente and her own expansionist party, will find the central powers ready, in which event it is to be expected every effort will be made to insure that the new war theater is on Rumanian soil.

Information from Vienna indicates that the Austro-Hungarian government, bearing in mind the results of the negotiations concerning Italy's claims before that nation entered the war, has been at no time disposed to offer Rumania similar concessions for fear that this would again be mistaken for a sign of weakness.

At this moment there is not discernible the slightest effort to persuade Rumania taking any other course than the one due to her own initiative. The latest dispatch from Bucharest indicates a further cooling off of the war fever.

DANES JOLT INDIES SALE

Landsthing Rejects Proposal Favors an Election.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 24 (via London.)—The Landsthing committee this afternoon adopted a resolution that if the sale of Danish West Indies cannot be postponed until after the war the question shall be settled by a general election. The resolution was adopted 39 to 7. Three members abstained from voting and thirteen were absent. This resolution will be submitted formally to the Landsthing tomorrow at an open meeting.

King Christian received the leaders of the various parties today and thanked them for their efforts to form a coalition Cabinet, which he said he regretted they had been unable to do so.

It is expected that the present administration will go into effect after general elections are ordered. However it will be the first time that the question will be held under the present constitution, it is believed possible for the election will be held at the same time, and it probably cannot be held before the beginning of the month of October.

Some influential politicians express the opinion that the result of the elections will be that the Danish Riesdag will ratify the treaty for the sale with the United States.

REPORT IN LONDON.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—The Landsthing has rejected the proposal to sell the Danish West Indies to the United States, says a dispatch from Copenhagen.

ACTION NOT FINAL.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Senator Stone, chairman of the senate foreign Relations Committee, announced tonight that the action of the Danish Landsthing in rejecting the proposal to sell the Danish West Indies to the United States would make no difference in the ratification of the United States treaty.

"The action," said Senator Stone, "will not influence our action on the treaty here. We will go ahead with our endeavor to have the treaty ratified as soon as possible unless the Secretary of State should see fit to ask us to delay action. This will not be done I think, and there is no expectation that he will. The action of the proposal in Denmark today does not mean final action.

Some Senators thought the Danish position taken by the Danish Landsthing would serve to hasten action on the treaty in the senate, as many of them doubt that the treaty will be ratified at this session. The Foreign Relations Committee, however, received additional data regarding the treaty which Secretary Lansing requested to supply, will be received tomorrow to resume deliberations.

DANES JOLT INDIES SALE

Landsthing Rejects Proposal Favors an Election.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 24 (6 p.m. London.)—The Landsthing sitting as a committee this afternoon and adopted a resolution that if the sale of the Danish West Indies cannot be postponed until after the war the question shall be settled by general elections. The resolution was adopted 39 to 7. Three members refrained from voting and thirteen were absent. This resolution will be submitted formally to the Landsthing tomorrow at an open meeting.

King Christian received the leaders of the various parties today and thanked them for their efforts to form a coalition Cabinet, although he said he regretted they had been unable to do so.

It is expected that the new administration will go into effect when the general elections are ordered. Of course, it will be the first time that an election will be held under the new constitution, it is believed preparations for the election will take a long time, and it probably cannot be held before the beginning of the month of October.

Some influential politicians express the opinion that the result of the elections will be that the Rigsdag will ratify the treaty of sale with the United States.

REPORT IN LONDON.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—The Danish Landsthing has rejected the proposal to sell the Danish West Indies to the United States, says a Reuter dispatch from Copenhagen.

ACTION NOT FINAL.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Senator Stone, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, announced tonight that the action of the Danish Landsthing in rejecting the proposal to sell the Danish West Indies to the United States would make no difference in the attitude of the United States.

"The action," said Senator Stone, "will not influence our action on the treaty here. We will go ahead in our endeavor to have the treaty ratified as soon as possible unless the Secretary of State should send word asking us to delay action. He has not done this, and there is no expectation that he will. The rejection of the proposal in Denmark today does not mean final rejection.

Some Senators thought that the position taken by the Danish Landsthing would serve to hasten action on the treaty in this country, but many of them doubt that it can be ratified at this session. The Foreign Relations Committee, however, received additional data regarding the treaty, which Secretary Lansing had requested to supply, will meet tomorrow to resume deliberations.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PITTSBURGH (Pa.) Aug. 24.—The Central Trust Company of Pittsburgh was closed today by order of the State Banking Department, an announcement posted on the door giving bad loans and overdrafts as the cause. In its last report to the banking commissioner the company reported total deposits as $561,334. The bank, which had a capital of $150,000, was located in the wholesale produce district, and its business was almost exclusively among commission men.

FOR MEASURES AGAINST KAISER.

PARIS, Aug. 24.—What measures can be taken at the proper time against the Emperor of Germany and other persons held to be answerable for compelling inhabitants of the invaded cities of Northern France to work in the fields, and the immediate steps which France might take in behalf of these people, are questions to be raised in the approaching session of the Chamber of Deputies.

Deputy Boulsson in a letter to Premier Briand, in which he severely criticized the acts of the Germans towards the population in the invaded region, gave notice that he would interpellate the Premier on these subjects.

SPANISH ATTITUDE.

MADRID (Spain) Aug. 24 (via Paris.)—The recent note of the French government to neutrals protesting against the treatment of the French inhabitants of Lille, Roubaix and Turcoing by the Germans will be the subject of serious study by Premier Romanones, so as to permit him to act according to strict neutrality, the Premier states. The Spanish government also will consult other neutral nations regarding their attitude before giving France an answer, he adds.

Premier Romanones has already taken steps to learn the opinion of the American government as well as that of other neutral nations on the matter.

CIVIL SERVICE HUGHES'S TOPIC.

Administration Charged with 'Specious Disregard."

Wilson's Policy Toward the Philippines Scored.

Great Crowd in Salt Lake Hears Nominee.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SALT LAKE CITY, Aug. 24.—Charles E. Hughes, speaking before an audience that crowded the great Mormon tabernacle here tonight, assailed the administration for "specious disregard" of the civil service regulations in making appointments, declared that he stood for faithful observance of the civil service, and asserted that he would extend its sphere, if elected.

Mr. Hughes spoke with the Democratic candidate for Governor on the platform and with other Democratic candidates and party officials present.

"We have had under this administration," the nominee said, "law after law enacted providing for the creation of thousands of places, of provisions to the effect that it should not be necessary in making the appointments to conform with the merit system, which is another way of saying they need not be made under civil service regulations.

"Spurious excuses were made. They deceived no one. Every one of those clauses designed to make inapplicable the merit system was simply designed to afford an opportunity to provide partisan and political spoils.

"We must sedulously guard against that. So far as I am concerned, the operation of the merit system will be recognized and extended in order that we increase the standard of public work, that we elevate those standards, that we may have efficiency in the public service."

Mr. Hughes referred to "claims of all candidates that they want efficiency of government."

"I should not expect you would think what I say worthy of special attention," he said, "were it not that I have devoted four of the best years of my life, regardless of politics, to maintaining those ideals in the Empire State."

THE PHILIPPINES.

The nominee referred to the administration's policy toward the Philippines.

"We have talked too much about our privileges," he said. "It is now time to talk about our obligations. If our friends on the other side had had a proper sense of the obligations of this government they never would have proposed that we scuttle out the Philippines and leave them to take care of themselves.

"I propose that we shall have in the administration of the Philippines the highest standard of efficiency and fair dealing.

"Fundamentally, the question is one of national honor. We took the Philippines under a sacred obligation. It is our duty to discharge that obligation, and I propose that we hold the flag of the United States before the world as a flag which never betrays a trust."

Of preparedness, Mr. Hughes said: "We are not militaristic. Why, you couldn't get up a militaristic spirit in this country if you sent out a team of organizers to do so. We propose, however, to be ready for any emergency and have our words taken at their full value."

The nominee repeated his assertion that the regular army should be large and efficient enough to do border duty such as is now being done by the National Guard, and the navy adequate to protect both coasts.

The nominee repeated his condemnation of "pork barrel" legislation.

"The other day I pointed the finger of scorn at the 'pork barrel' bills passed under this administration," he said, "and immediately there was a flutter of the hit birds in the halls of Congress."

Mr. Hughes left at midnight for Cheyenne, Wyo., where he will speak tomorrow night.

SPEAKS IN TABERNACLE.

Mr. Hughes spoke from the pulpit of the Mormon Tabernacle, directly in front of the great pipe organ, famed as one of the largest in the world. Where usually sit the apostles of the church, just below the pulpit, there sat tonight invited guests of local prominence, regardless of political faith. These seats were smothered with bunting, and the great elliptical balcony also was hidden by national flags.

Republicans who arranged the meeting had sent invitations to a number of leading Democrats. Simon Bamberger, Democratic candidate for Governor, sat on the platform next to Francis M. Lyman, president of the apostles of the Mormon church. Near by sat Anthon H. Lund, first counselor of the presidency of the church.

W. H. King, Democratic candidate for United States Senator; Mathonihah Thomas, Democratic State chairman, and other Democratic leaders were present.

The big tabernacle was crowded and the men at the doors were turning belated ones away when the strains of the great organ announced that Mr. Hughes had reached the meeting.

Gov. Spry of Utah was chairman of the meeting.

Crowds were standing six deep in the aisles and many others were seeking to enter the tabernacle when Gov. Spry started to speak. The audience yelled at the mention of the nominee's name.

When Mr. Hughes started to speak the audience stood up and cheered for two minutes.

"Salt Lake City, I believe, is the most pleasantly situated city in the world," were his opening words. This met with another demonstration from the crowd.

TRADE PREPAREDNESS.

OGDEN (Utah) Aug. 24.—Charles E. Hughes today addressed an audience here on what he termed the necessity of national preparation for commercial competition with Europe after the war.

The nominee repeated his declaration that this could be done only under a protective tariff. He reiterated his statement that he would do all he could if elected to prevent abuses under a protective tariff. He declared that the time had come to protect American business and achievement, not to cripple or destroy it.

"Show me any way by which legitimate business can succeed," Mr. Hughes said, "and I am going to do my utmost to make it succeed."

Gov. Spry met the nominee at the State line, and will accompany him throughout the State. Immediately on his arrival here Mr. Hughes was taken for an automobile ride. He held a brief public reception afterward.

LARAMIE PLANS.

LARAMIE (Wyo.) Aug. 24.—A committee of the first women voters of the United States will attend the reception to Charles E. Hughes here at 1 o'clock tomorrow. Women voted here in 1872.

G.O.P. IS ENCOURAGED BY WESTERN REPORTS.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Alvin T. Hert, manager of the western Republican national campaign headquarters, today issued the following statement:

"Preliminary reports from the Middle West and the Far West are most encouraging. We are in daily receipt of advices from the chairmen of Republican State central committees. Invariably, these chairmen advise us that in normally Republican States the Republican majority this year will be larger than ever.

"Throughout the West, the harmony with which the Republicans and the former Progressives are working is even more complete than we had anticipated.

Reports from the section covered by Mr. Hughes in his recent western trip are exceptionally encouraging. The sentiment for Mr. Hughes throughout this section had manifested itself before the convention.

"The people of the West have known Mr. Hughes as insurance investigator, as Governor and as a jurist. They knew him and trusted him. They looked upon him as a man exceptionally qualified for the tremendous task devolving upon the next President of the United States. In his trip West the people of that section have come into intimate personal touch with him.

"Their admiration remains, but there is noticeably a more personal element in the attitude of the western public toward Mr. Hughes. They have seen him and shaken hands with him and the West likes him."

COL. GEORGE HARVEY TO SUPPORT HUGHES.

NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Aug. 24.—Col. George Harvey, once the chum and confidant of President Wilson, is for the election of Hughes this fall. An announcement to this effect, it is known, will come from the editor when he returns from his vacation in Canada. To his friends Mr. Harvey has expressed his desire to see the Republican candidate for President victorious, in the most vigorous terms. It was said today that he would head a committee of prominent Democrats anxious to help elect Mr. Hughes, although his secretary would not confirm this.

Looking back over the relations between the President and the editor of the North American Review for the last few years, Mr. Harvey's support of the Republican candidate for President is not surprising. Together they played the leading parts in one of the most dramatic chapters in the history of American politics, a chapter reeking with political ingratitude, which ended with Mr. Wilson in the White House and Mr. Harvey in his editorial sanctum a sadder, though wiser man. It was away back in 1906 that Mr. Harvey first proposed Woodrow Wilson as first-class material for the Democratic nomination for President.

BOOTH AT SAN JOSE.

Predicts Magnificent Republican Victory at Coming Primaries.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SAN JOSE, Aug. 24.—Predicting a magnificent victory for the Republican party in the coming primaries, and urging his auditors to adhere to a strict "square-set integrity and political morality" during the campaign, Willis H. Booth, Republican candidate for the United States Senate, stated at a reception given in his honor here tonight that the primaries were not "election," but "selection," and they should result in each party having a candidate in the field. He pointed out that if Gov. Johnson were elected there would be "no candidate for you and for me."

The statement upon which the candidate placed the greatest emphasis was one which he said was made by the representative of Gov. Johnson at a meeting in Los Angeles before the Woman's City League.

"Listen," said Mr. Booth, "and I am quoting her as near as I can remember and am not detracting nor adding to the intent of her words. The representative of Gov. Johnson, when asked to state upon what grounds the Governor expected to get the nomination, said: 'My good friends, Gov. Johnson comes before you as a Progressive and only as a Progressive. You should vote for him in this election because there is an uncertainty as to who will be elected President of the United States. There is a doubt as to whether Charles E. Hughes, Republican, or Woodrow Wilson, Democrat, will be elected. If you elect Mr. Johnson, he, being a Progressive, will be in a position to support either the Democratic or the Republican President.'

"Have you ever seen any political gymnastics to equal that?" asked the speaker.

Mr. Booth laid special emphasis upon the preservation of the integrity of the party and the maintenance of the high principles for which it stands.

A large number of Republicans were present. J. O. Hayes was chairman of the Reception Committee. A. M. Free, District Attorney, introduced the speaker, who went to Los Angeles after the meeting.

In a rapid tour today of Alameda county Booth was warmly greeted by many hundreds of citizens, who cordially offered their support. Booth met personally residents of all the larger localities in the county. After leaving Stockton, Booth's first stop was at Livermore. Thence he drove to Pleasanton, where he was met by a committee of Republicans. They accompanied Booth during the remainder of his trip. Sunol, Niles, Mission San Jose, Irvington, Centerville, Alvarado and Haward were visited.

Mexican Commission.

PROF. ROWE TO BE SECRETARY.

Pennsylvania University Man Chosen for Place.

None of American Members Speak Spanish.

Preliminary Meeting will be Held September 4.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Leo S. Rowe, professor of political economy at the University of Pennsylvania, who was secretary of the recent Pan-American Financial Congress, will be secretary of the American group of the joint commission which will seek a solution of Mexican difficulties.

Prof. Rowe has been closely identified with Latin American affairs for years, representing the United States on many important commissions. He speaks Spanish and holds honorary degrees from many South and Central American universities.

None of the three American commissioners, Secretary Lane, Judge George Gray and Dr. John R. Mott, speaks Spanish. Secretary Lansing probably will confer with the commissioners within a day or two regarding the selection of the New England coast city at which the commission will meet.

WASHINGTON WAITS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Word from Mexico City is awaited at the State Department and the Mexican Embassy today before fixing a definite date for the first meeting of the joint American-Mexican commission to discuss border problems. It tentatively has been decided, however, by Secretary Lansing and Eliseo Arredondo, Mexican Ambassador-designate, that the commissioners should meet at some place on the New England Coast during the first week in September.

With the session of the commission virtually at hand, there is much speculation here as to the procedure that will be followed. There is no question in the minds of officials that the withdrawal of American troops will be the first step taken up, to be followed by the drafting of a protocol covering future border operations. It has been stated officially that the commissioners will be authorized to submit each agreement they shall reach separately, to be acted upon by the two governments.

The third subject outlined for discussion by Gen. Carranza is an investigation of the interests behind the border raids.

PRELIMINARY SEPT. 4.

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 24.—James Linn Rodgers, the American representative to the Carranza government, made formally known to the Foreign Office here today that the preliminary conference of the representatives of the United States and Mexico for the settlement of the international difficulties would be held at the Biltmore in New York, September 4. Mexican representatives probably will leave here Saturday.

Mr. Rodgers has been ordered by the State Department to accompany the Mexican commission. He will act as adviser to the American commissioners in regard to various details of Mexican affairs. The Mexican commissioners probably will go to the United States by way of Eagle Pass.

American affairs in Mexico will be left in the hands of Charles B. Parker, now in charge of the records of the American Embassy.

MAIL FOR SOLDIERS SWAMPS POSTOFFICE.

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Aug. 24.—That the soldiers on the border may get the fastest possible service on their mail, the Postoffice Department has sent an efficiency expert, M. H. Bunn, to San Antonio.

"The Postoffice Department realized what an enormous volume of mail has been thrown on the small postoffices in the border towns," said Mr. Bunn. "There is a little postoffice at Llano Grande, Tex., now handling 14,000 pieces of mail a day, while before the soldiers came the daily run was four pieces."

INQUIRY ORDERED IN BEEF EXPORT CHARGE.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHIHUAHUA CITY (Mex.) Aug. 24.—A civil order was issued here today directing an investigation of allegations that the owners of the Zuloaga ranch in Central Chihuahua recently attempted to export 26,000 head of sheep to the United States through the American expeditionary lines of communication.

FIVE BANDITS SHOT FOR RANCH HOLD-UPS.

CHIHUAHUA CITY (Mex.) Aug. 24.—Five bandits captured by government troops after holding up ranches in the Laguna district were executed yesterday, according to reports received here today from Gen. Paolinio Trevino in Torreon.

Heavy rains have fallen over Northern Mexico in the last forty-eight hours, causing some of the smaller streams to overflow, making travel difficult.

Gen. Jose Ysabel Robles has assumed charge of the new military zone of Oaxaca, it was announced at the commandancia.

ALLEGED AMERICAN SPIES TO BE FREED.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Consul Blocker at Eagle Pass advised the State Department today he believed Malcolm Muir and Dr. Walter Staub, arrested by Mexican authorities at Piedras Negras charged with being American spies, soon will be released. As neither of the men are American citizens, Consul Blocker said, he could not officially intercede for them, but that the British Consul was active in their behalf. He added that Muir and Staub had not been imprisoned, but were being kept under surveillance.

POSTAL RATES IN MEXICO INCREASED.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 24.—An increase in postal rates to take effect September 1 was announced today. In the case of first-class mail, the advance will be from 20 to 25 centavos for letters dispatched to the United States, Cuba or Canada. The charge will be 50 centavos for mail to other countries in the international postal union and 1 peso for letters to countries not included in the union.

GEN. PERSHING OFF TO REVIEW TROOPS.

FIELD HEADQUARTERS, AMERICAN PUNITIVE EXPEDITION (Mexico) Aug. 24 (via radio to Columbus, N. M.)—Gen. Pershing left headquarters today with his staff to review and inspect American troops stationed at various points south of here. It is expected the trip will take about four days. The Test—

"If you want to know whether you are destined to be a success or a failure in life, you can easily find out. The test is simple and it is infallible: ARE YOU ABLE TO SAVE MONEY? If not, drop out. You will lose. You may think not, but you will lose as sure as you live. The seed of success is not in you."—JAMES J. HILL.

If you find it difficult to save money, let us suggest that you adopt a systematic plan. Suppose you decide to save a percentage of your earnings—say ten or fifteen per cent. You can do this easily. You will spend a little less for this and that, but all the time you will be building an independence fund that will make your future sure. We pay four per cent. interest, compounded semi-annually, on savings accounts of one dollar or more.

MANY FACTIONS AMONG CHINESE

It is Difficult to Classify Political Parties.

[A. P. FOREIGN CORRESPONDENCE.]

PEKING, July 15.—Recent political strife in China has shown that the arbitrary division of Chinese politics into the northern and southern parties is decidedly misleading. There are various factions in China which defy definite classification. But in a general way, Chinese leaders may be classed as members of a military and members of a nonmilitary party.

Yuan Shi Kai was the chief expopent of the views adhered to by the military clan. He believed in rule by might, and created a military organization which became decidedly top heavy. Many southern men shared Yuan Shi Kai's views. Liang Shih-yi and several of the other leaders whose power waned with the death of Yuan Shi Kai were Cantonese.

Militarism has not been confined to the north, and geographical lines are in no way indicative of political views. Tuan Chi-jui, the Premier under Yuan Shi Kai, who has been reappointed by Li Yuan-hung, is a militarist, but did not share the imperial aspirations of Yuan Shi Kai. He is a Republican, but not as radical a republican as Li Yuan-hung, the President.

While Li Yuan-hung is primarily a soldier, and has spent practically all of his life in naval and military effort, he is not an ultra-militarist. He believes in popular rule, and has never advocated an immense army.

Yuan Shi Kai's methods were much the same as those of the old Manchu emperors, and during his administration North China was kept at peace by great military forces, which dominated the political situation and made it impossible for independent figures from the south to come to Peking. This military strength has been transferred to Tuan Chi-jui. The methods of the military have been so reprehensible that even now southern leaders are unwilling to risk their lives in Peking and refuse to come here for conference. Shanghai is the center from which most of the negotiations for a settlement of the present controversies are conducted.

The military party, of which Tuan Chi-jui is one of the chief members, is quite willing to disband the northern armies and replace the troops now in Peking with southern soldiers. The revolutionary leaders insist that this must be done before harmony can be re-established between the warring factions, and Peking rendered a safe capital for legislators of all political faiths.

Broadly speaking, the two great factions in Chinese politicals might be characterized as the Yuan Shi Kai men and the anti-Yuan Shi Kai men. The former believe a tremendous military organization is necessary, and have little faith in popular control of the government. The latter believe a great army has defeated the development of the Chinese Republic under Yuan Shi Kai, and favor a decided reduction of the present military strength as the only possible means of bettering Chinese conditions.

CHEATING THE HOUSEWIFE.

Olive Oil Adulterated with Cotton Seed Oil and Vaseline.

[New York Herald:] As a result of unprecedented adulteration of olive oil, due to the almost total cessation of shipments of that product from abroad, wholesale arrests of jobbers and dealers handling the adulterated food articles are threatened. According to information obtained at the offices of the Board of Health some fifty samples of alleged olive oil are being subjected to analysis and the results already disclosed show that not only cotton seed oil, but liquid petroleum, a heavy coal oil, which has been purified, and other mineral oils are used and the compound sold to the consuming public as pure olive oil.

Lucius P. Brown, director of the Bureau of Foods and Drugs of the Board of Health of New York City, says that analysis of scores of samples of so-called olive oils "show the general use of liquid petroleum, which is a purified mineral oil, and which has absolutely no food value. While the adulteration is not so serious as far as health is concerned, the use of adulterated oils of this description clearly is against the law, and efforts will be made to stop the practice.

"Not only olive oil, but cod liver oil, is being adulterated to a remarkable degree. We have seized numerous samples of various oils on suspicion and they are being subjected to expert examination."

Acting on information that certain manufacturers of containers of olive and other oils were making short measure cans, John F. Farrell, State Superintendent of Weights and Measures, recently confiscated more than 500 cans in the plant of the National Tin Can Manufacturing Company, at No. 135 West Third street. All of these cans ranged from five gallons to one pint, and, according to the bureau officials, were employed by certain jobbers on the east side who make a specialty of selling cottonseed oil under the brand of pure olive oil.

The inspectors found that all of the cans lacked from one to three ounces of being what they were presumed to be, and as rapidly as their falsity was determined the cans were destroyed. Twelve dozen one-gallon cans which were duly stamped were found to measure two ounces and two and one-half drams less than one gallon. Seventy-five one-half gallon cans were found to be three ounces and three-quarters of a dram less in size than the figures stamped thereon. Twenty-four dozen one-pint cans were found to be one ounce and six and one-half drams short measure. The cans were destroyed and orders given that in future manufacture of cans the regulation measures must be adhered to.

STRAW PLAITING.

Once a Considerable Industry in Lorraine and England.

[London Chronicle:] Straw-plaiting was an industry in Lorraine before it found a place in Great Britain. Mary, Queen of Scots, during a progress through that district, observed that women and children were profitably employed in that industry, and thought that such a light and pleasant occupation would flourish in Scotland, so she took with her a company of the Lorraine workers. Her tragic fate deprived them of royal patronage, but they continued to exist until her son, James, transplanted them to England on his accession to the English throne.

It is only since the influx of Chinese and Japanese plait that the straw-plaiting industry has decayed. Only recently I was talking with an old straw-plaiter. She learnt her straw-plaiting at a dame's school, the fee for which was three pence per week. For this princely sum she was taught to read in addition to straw-plaiting. Twice a day she was called out from her seat to read. The dame always made her pupils plait twenty yards of plait before she allowed them to go home, and also expected ten yards more to be brought in the morning, so that by the end of the week 150 yards were ready for the buyers. This fetched about half a crown, the rate being 4d per score yards.

VIOLENT ACCUSATIONS EXCHANGED IN SENATE.

Owen Declares Republicans are Trying to Sidetrack Corrupt Practices Bill to Prevent Action Before November Elections——Insists Lumber Trust Sent Money to Defeat Him in Oklahoma.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Republican Senators were accused today by Senator Owen, Democrat, of a deliberate effort to prevent action before the November election on his corrupt practices bill, which would put strict limitations on campaign contributions. Then the Oklahoma Senator announced that he would make an insistent fight to bring up the measure at this session of Congress, regardless of consequences to early adjournment plans.

He declared the existing campaign contributions law was a fraud on the American people, charged that the so-called lumber trust has sent $40,000 into Oklahoma to defeat his renomination because he voted to deny William Lorimer a seat in the Senate, and precipitated a lively debate in which Republican and Democratic Senators bitterly accused each other of planning to buy the approaching election.

All the carefully-laid plans of Senate leaders to make possible an adjournment of Congress late next week were threatened when Senator Owen announced that he was ready to stay here until winter to pass the bill if Republicans attempted a filibuster. He said he would make a motion to take it up as soon as the revenue bill was passed.

Last week Democratic leaders thought they had enough votes to defeat such a motion pledged from Senators who desire an adjournment. Whether Senator Owen's sensational presentation of his plea for action has changed that situation is problematical. Should his motion prevail, Republican leaders say a prolonged fight will be made on the measure, which they insist is impracticable and impossible of enforcement in its present form.

Senator Owen made his announcement after his request for unanimous consent to take up the bill immediately after passage of the revenue bill had been objected to by Senator Smoot. When the Oklahoma Senator declared the so-called lumber trust had used $40,000 fund against him, Senator Penrose, Republican, interjected:

"It is reported that it cost the Democratic party $1,000,000 to elect Woodrow Wilson."

"How about the $2,500,000 spent to elect William McKinley in 1896?" queried Senator O'Gorman, Democrat.

"That might have been so." Senator Penrose replied.

Resuming his speech, Senator Owen said he had figures showing that Myron T. Herrick, recently nominated for Senator by the Republicans in Ohio, had personally expended $22,175 in his primary campaign and that the Herrick Voters' League had spent $29,000.

"It is not difficult to understand why the Republicans of the Senate do not want this bill to pass now," said Senator Stone, interrupting this Democratic colleague. "The reason is that they expect to buy the approaching national election."

"I have heard it stated that the Democrats are trying to buy it, and that they already have raised a large fund," Senator Gallinger, the Republican leader, said.

PENROSE'S HINT.

"I have heard," said Senator Penrose, "that the Democrats already have an enormous corruption fund and that now they want to lock the door."

"The people of the United States are not going to stand any more the buying of elections," Senator Owen continued. "The people are demanding this law because the existing statute does not protect them. Reports of campaign contributions and expenditures sent to the secretary of the Senate are ridiculous. They do not include money expended for elections. I know that to be an absolute fact.

"Republicans in the Senate under cover of debate may carry on a filibuster against this bill until after the election, but they cannot fool the American people as to their motives."

Senator Penrose said the Republicans would be willing to stay here until the bill could be perfected if necessary, but that would take a long time and it would be better to wait until December.

Besides this threatened delay in adjournment, another executive tangle developed today over the revenue bill and the general deficiency appropriation bill, which has not yet been reported to the House. Republican Senate leaders notified the committees that they would not permit the revenue bill to reach a vote until the deficiency appropriation had been disposed of by both houses. The Democrats sought to get in touch with Representative Fitzgerald, chairman of the House Appropriation Committee, which has the deficiency bill still under lock and key, but found he was out of town and would not be here tomorrow. Democratic leaders said tonight, however, they were hopeful that they could get the bill before the Senate Monday or Tuesday.

ITCHING ECZEMA IS A CONSTANT BLOOD CRY

The Blood Reaches Every Part of the Body Every Twelve Seconds.

There are approximately 70,000,000 pores of openings in the skin of a human body. These connect with the blood channels by means of little canals. These canals are sometimes filled with poisons and thus the skin scales and blisters, becomes red and raw and the skin of man is like so much tissue fire. Salves and lotions, plasters, etc., do not reach the source of the trouble. To make the blood pure is the only sensible and scientific method of relief. To make the blood pure you must assist nature in the way she wants to be helped. S. S. S. is the greatest blood purifier because it is a natural one. There is not a mineral of any sort in it. It is purely vegetable in every essence. The blood welcomes S. S. S., and it quickly reaches the seat of the trouble. So great is the fame of this blood remedy that many substitutes trail along in various sections of the country. They all, sooner or later, die a natural death. S. S. STATE OUTLOOK IS ENCOURAGING

Republican Success Predicted by Chairman Mixon.

Both Hughes and Booth Take with the People.

Hundred Thousand Majority Forecast for Ticket.

SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Aug. 24.—Following in the wake of the campaign tour of Mr. Hughes, the Republican Presidential candidate, is a ground swell of genuine Republicanism. W. F. Mixon, campaign manager of the Republican State Central Committee, said tonight that reports from Northern and Central California are growing daily more encouraging, not only for the success of the national Republican ticket in California, but for the nomination of Willis H. Booth, a stalwart Republican, for Senator, and for the nomination of a genuine Republican in every Congressional district.

"As the date of the primary approaches," said Mr. Mixon, "the bogus Republicans are fading away. I am confident that Mr. Booth will win the Republican Senatorial nomination, provided the southern part of the State meets us half way in his support. Seven of the eight northern Congressional districts are certain to nominate genuine Republicans, only the Fifth District, in San Francisco, is doubtful.

"As far as the State Senate and Assembly are concerned, we are taking no part in those districts where two or more genuine Republicans are running. Our work will begin in those districts after the primaries. We are interested, of course, in seeing that genuine Republicans are elected on the county central committees in order that the Republican party shall be in the hands of Republicans.

"In all our work we are finding that the former Progressives who have returned in good faith to the Republican party are loyal supporters of Republican candidates and policies. The only friction has been occasioned by a few professional office-seekers, who are still registered as Progressives, and who are trying to secure Republican indorsements.

"The splendid campaign addresses of Mr. Hughes have done much to awaken the old Republican spirit. I feel that it will make assurance doubly sure that California goes Republican this fall in national politics by at least 100,000, and that we shall send a practically solid Republican delegation to Washington to support him in enacting the great Republican policies of preparedness and protection into laws."

EVIDENCE OF UNITY.

Among the evidences of the unity of sentiment in Republican ranks are the resolutions indorsing the candidacy of Willis H. Booth for Senator by the Republican editors who came to San Francisco to greet Gov. Hughes. Every Republican editor who came to hear Mr. Hughes indorsed the Booth resolutions; there was not a single dissenting vote.

This fact has occasioned a great deal of comment throughout the northern part of the State, as it shows clearly that the campaign to win the Republican Senatorial indorsement for Gov. Johnson is being conducted wholly outside the party. In the Johnson Senatorial headquarters here there is not a single person who was registered as a Republican before Johnson announced his candidacy for the Senate on the Republican ticket, and there is not a single person who is now registered other than as a Republican. They are plainly Republicans for revenue only.

NORWEGIANS BUY AMERICAN TANKER.

SEATTLE, Aug. 24.—The American tank steamer Mills was sold here today to Norwegian interests represented by P. Johannessen of Tonsberg, Norway, by the General Petroleum Company for a price reported to be $300,000. The Mills is a steamer of 3070 tons gross register.

PARTY ASCENDS MOUNT SHUKSAN.

SEATTLE, Aug. 24.—For the second time on record Mt. Shuksan, one of the most rugged and difficult peaks in the Cascade range, was ascended Sunday, a party of twenty-five members of the Seattle Mountaineers' Club reaching the summit after three days' climbing. News of the success of the expedition was received here today. The first ascent of the peak, which lies ten miles northeast of Mt. Baker, was made in 1906 by Anabel Curtis and W. M. Price during the outing of the Portland Mazamas on Mt. Baker. Mr. Price acted as guide for the present expedition. Twelve men and thirteen women composed the party.

JITNEY DRIVERS TEST DAW.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—Two jitney-bus drivers offered themselves as sacrifices to test the validity of a new municipal jitney ordinance today before the State Supreme Court. They were arrested when they refused to turn off Market street at Sixth at 10:30 a.m. The ordinance eliminates the jitney bus from Market street between Sixth street and the ferry between 10:30 a.m. and 4 p.m.

The Cedars of Lebanon.

[London Chronicle:] Cedars of Lebanon, which did sad damage at several places during the great gale and destroyed the Temple of the Sun in Kew Gardens, are now more numerous here than on their native mount, where the historic forests have dwindled under Turkish misrule to a few hundred trees. They were introduced into England about the beginning of the seventeenth century, and their beauty, combined with Biblical associations, made them immensely popular. Unluckily the wide canopy of foliage which gives these trees their stately appearance makes them very liable to be overthrown by storms. Of the 1500 cedars planted at Goodwood in 1761 by the third Duke of Richmond, barely 140 remain.

DYNAMITE IS FOUND IN SHERIFF'S CAR

OAKLAND, Aug. 24.—A [illegible] containing fifty sticks of dynamite was uncovered today in the garage at the home of Sheriff Veal of Contra Costa county at Martinez. While cleaning the grounds [illegible] a few feet from the house at about three feet beneath the surface. Greatest secrecy is maintained at the office of the sheriff. The box was hurried to the latters for examination. It is the indication of having been in the ground some weeks and the impression obtains that it was not a bomb by some enemy of the official, but failed to work. It is heavy enough to have blown side out of the house if exploded.

The increased cost of ingredients, it was stated at the meeting, brought the problem of either increasing the price of bread or reducing the weight of the 5-cent units.

Prince Warmly Applauded.

George W. Prince, candidate for Congress in the Tenth District, made four speeches yesterday, the largest meeting being at Paulk's Hall, Washington and Hoover streets, last night. The hall was crowded and the speakers was enthusiastically applauded. He spoke of the fact that during the eighteen years he served in Congress from Illinois that he had for California measures without an exception. He declared he had adopted this State for his home and said there is no more loyal booster in the city. He knows some of the present members of Congress and made the point that with his experience he should be able to do more for Southern California than a man who has never been in Congress. Mr. Prince also spoke at Griffith's Studio, Superior Judge Craig's home and the University Post Station. More than 100 women were sent into the district to work for Mr. Prince yesterday.

Charles Kerry, candidate for the Assembly in the Seventy-fifth District, made an excellent address. He spoke of his success in private business and declared he will give the public the same character of service that has marked his personal career.

Hon. Frank Domingues, eloquent lawyer-orator, spoke on behalf of Willis H. Booth. He criticised Johnson for attempting to deprive Southern California of the honor to which it is entitled and commented upon the nerve of a man who would ask

BOOTH HOME TO END CAMPAIGN.

Today's Itinerary Includes Many Southern Cities.

Big Meeting will be Held in Long Beach Tonight.

Following is the itinerary of Willis H. Booth for today and tomorrow:

He will arrive here this morning on the Lark and leave at noon for Santa Ana for lunch, visiting the following towns during the afternoon: Orange, Anaheim, Fullerton, La Brea, Norwalk, Downey and Huntington Park. Tonight he will speak at the Auditorium in Long Beach.

Tomorrow he will attend a barbecue at noon at Santa Barbara, returning south in the evening, having dinner at 6:45 o'clock at the Maryland, Pasadena. An hour later he will speak in Alhambra, returning again to Pasadena and then to Hollywood, where he will speak in Wilcox Hall.

Clearly outlining the duties of Republicans in the present primary campaign and earnestly urging the nomination of Willis H. Booth for United States Senator, Judge Walter Bordwell, his former opponent, spoke to a large and enthusiastic meeting of voters at Whittier last night. L. M. Whealton, former Mayor of Long Beach, L. L. Lostutter, Republican candidate for Congress, and Joseph Rominger, Republican candidate for State Senator also made addresses and all urged the nomination of Mr. Booth.

"The integrity of the Republican party depends upon the nomination of Willis H. Booth. It is a question in this campaign of whether the Republican party is to be represented by men who are Republicans or by men who are opponents of the Republican party," declared Judge Bordwell. "Mr. Booth is the only Republican candidate for United States Senate and it is the duty of every Republican to loyally support him at the polls and between now and the election."

That Gov. Johnson is resorting to wilful misrepresentation in order to stem the tide of Republican sentiment against him is the charge made yesterday to supporters of Willis H. Booth, the regular Republican candidate for United States Senator.

"At several meetings lately, the Governor has attempted to make the people believe that Mr. Booth is registered as a Democrat and in his attempt, the Governor shows the resolution list of a Boyle Heights precinct containing the name of Will Booth," said Mr. W. W. Mines, vice-chairman of the State Republican Executive Committee yesterday. "And he attempts to try and convince his listeners that this man is Willis H. Booth.

"Mr. Booth has always been a Republican, registered as such. The people should not be misled by such deceitful political tactics as those to which the Governor is resorting in his attempt to steal the Republican nomination."

Returning from the north today Mr. Booth at noon will be tendered a luncheon by the Republican leaders and business men of Orange county at Santa Ana. He will be met at the train by a delegation of business men and escorted to the hotel. Following lunch, Mr. Booth will go to Orange, Anaheim, Fullerton, La Brea, Norwalk, Downey and Whittier. At Whittier he will be entertained with dinner by the business men and Republicans of the Whittier district and will leave immediately after for Huntington Park, where he will speak at the Women's Improvement Club House at 7:15 o'clock. Following this meeting Mr. Booth will go on to Long Beach to attend the mass meeting there. Plans have been made for one of the biggest meetings of the campaign and it is expected that the demonstration in behalf of Mr. Booth will surpass all other political demonstrations of the past.

The following meetings were held last night in the interest of Willis H. Booth: Redlands, mass meeting, addressed by Hon. J. F. Stutesman; Whittier, mass meeting, former Judge Walter Bordwell; First-street school, Senator J. W. Ballard and Richmond P. Benton; No. 3209 Compton avenue, Dr. A. J. Scott; Workingmen's Hall, East Fifty-third street, ex-Congressman George E. Waldo; Seal Gardens, Watts, Hon. George P. Adams; No. 1626 West Fifty-third street, H. N. Wells.

DYNAMITE IS FOUND IN SHERIFF'S GAR

OAKLAND, Aug. 24.—A box containing fifty sticks of dynamite was uncovered today in the garden at the home of Sheriff Veal of Contra Costa county at Martinez. Workmen cleaning the grounds struck the box a few feet from the house and about three feet beneath the surface. Greatest secrecy was maintained at the office of the sheriff.

The box was hurried to headquarters for examination. It had every indication of having been in the ground some weeks and an examination obtains that it was intended as a bomb by some enemy of the official, but failed to work. The box is heavy enough to have torn the side out of the home had it exploded.

AID MILLIONAIRE TO SPEND FORTUNE.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—The eccentricities of Edward W. Morrison, aged recluse millionaire, were revealed in Federal Judge Landis's court today in connection with bankruptcy proceedings against Morrison.

Witnesses, including John Sommers, a jeweler, told of spending huge sums of money for Morrison in entertainment, in alleged pursuit of criminals and in catering to other whims of Morrison.

In one case, Morrison himself admitted, he had paid $3000 to Sommers to "send to detectives in Scotland Yard."

Throngs in the courtroom today were disappointed when adjournment for the day was reached without appearance on the stand of Alice and Margaret Burnstein, 16 and 12 years old, respectively, wards of Morrison, whom Joseph Burnstein, their supposed father, testified were really Morrison's own daughters.

STEVEDORES STRIKE OVER OPEN SHOP.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 24.—The open shop was inaugurated here today by thirty-eight firms affiliated with the Retail Lumber Dealers' Association and the Ship Owners' Association of the Pacific Coast, with the result that more than 300 stevedores, according to union officials, went on strike in the lumber yards with a promise that 800 would be out by tonight.

"We are not looking for trouble, but we are determined not to work under open-shop conditions and the matter might as well be fought out now as later," said Secretary Eaton of the Riggers' and Stevedores' Union. Eaton said the union men had no agreement with the lumbermen. Last June the stevedores struck all along the Pacific Coast, but they returned to work here about a month ago, and recently offshore shipping firms negotiated a closed-shop agreement with the union men with a wage increase.

The lumbermen and the lumber-schooner operators declared open shop yesterday when union stevedores quit two lumber yards, refusing to work with non-union stevedores.

The American Stevedoring Company, formed by the lumber and shipping men, has taken over the supplying of non-union riggers and stevedores. The lumbermen's fight for the open shop has been given the support of the Law and Order Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

MERELY MILD DIG AT THE GOVERNOR.

HENEY SAYS HIRE'M SHOULD NOT SUPPORT HUGHES.

Opening Meeting of Wilson Campaign Here is Well Attended. Principal Speaker Declares that Johnson is Utterly Inconsistent in Political Attitude.

Two thousand people filled Trinity Auditorium last night when the Woodrow Wilson Independent League held the opening meeting of its campaign. At least one-half the audience was composed of women and much enthusiasm was shown. Francis J. Heney was the principal speaker. It was down on the bills that he intended to attack Gov. Hiram Johnson, but he indulged only in a mild rap.

Former Senator Del Valle presided and was introduced by Councilwoman Lindsey. It was an observation by Mrs. Lindsey that gave Mr. Heney the opening which allowed his gentle dig at the Governor. Mrs. Lindsey said she was campaigning for Hiram Johnson for the Senate and Woodrow Wilson for the Presidency, which might be thought somewhat remarkable for a Socialist.

Mr. Heney said there was nothing inconsistent in campaigning for those two men, but, he added, "it is utterly and absolutely inconsistent for Gov. Johnson to support Hughes, believing as he does in all the things which Woodrow Wilson has done rather than talked about."

Mr. Heney said that under the spur and leadership of Mr. Wilson the Democratic party has accomplished in three years practically all the Progressives said in their platform that they wanted to be done. Perhaps that was the reason some Progressives thought they might just as well support Hughes, the whole job being complete already.

Later, he read the tariff clause of the Progressive party, which said the Republicans had broken their promises and could not be trusted. "I would like to ask my friend Theodore Roosevelt and Hiram Johnson," he said, "is the Republican party in any other hands than those of the same men who were condemned four years ago?"

Question.

WHAT NEXT TIME?

Gov. Johnson, Who was Once a Progressive and now Claims to be a Republican, Indicates He May Turn Something Else.

Gov. Johnson indicated that he may be paving the way for another political flop in speeches he made at the Lyceum Theater, First and St. Louis streets, and at the Fourteenth-street intermediate school last evening.

In the course of his Lyceum-theater address he said:

"You and I must not repine the passing of the 'Progressive party,' may that passing be but temporary or may it be permanent. The national 'Progressive' move is still alive. What matter the banner under which we have sailed in the past so long as it stood for the platform we believed best? What matter the banner under which we sail at present, or may sail in the future, if that platform remains?

"I stand now, right where I have stood for the past six years. When I had to choose between candidates I chose Hughes, the Republican candidate for President. If his policies commend themselves to me, I will support them."

The Governor did not say what he will do if the policies of the next President do not suit him—if he gets the chance to do anything. He spoke to a fair-sized audience at each meeting.

MUTT AND JEFF—It's Getting so a Guy Has to Work for a Living. . By BUD FISHER.

[Copyright, 1916, by H. C. Fisher. Trade-mark Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

Yet—

Light ruins exposed negatives just as it ruins the wholesomeness of beer exposed to light.

Ultra violet rays of light acting on beer work a chemical change, ruining the wholesomeness, in fact, decomposing the protein (albumin), impairing the nutritive value. But not in Schlitz beer.

Schlitz Brown Bottle Keeps Out the Light

thereby protecting its purity. That's why it tastes so good. Its nutritive value is unimpaired. It is not enough to make pure beer, it must be kept pure.

ASKS GIFT BACK.

Aged Woman Sues Son for Property She Claims was Deeded when Too Ill to Understand What Was Being Said to Her.

At the age of 81 years, Mrs. Chinesa H. Kidson became a suitor at court. She is seeking to recover real property which she says she was induced to deed to her son, John C. Munger, when she was ill and unable to understand much that was said to her. The consideration was, she says, that she was to be provided for during her life.

After recovering from the illness, she alleges, she asked for the return of the property, but was refused, the complaint alleges, and a threat was made to send her to the poorhouse. The property is said to have been deeded by John C. Munger to his son, Sendol B. Munger, who mortgaged it for $1200. Mrs. Kidson asks for the return of the property and the money received on the mortgage. The defendants named in the suit are Mr. and Mrs. John C. Munger and Mr. and Mrs. Sendol B. Munger of San Bernardino.

Mr. Deutsch's skull was crushed against the pavement. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital too late for surgical attention to be of avail.

Mr. Cain was arrested, but later released on his own recognizance, with the promise he would appear at the inquest to be held Saturday morning at the morgue of Edwards, Gamash & Heath.

THE WEATHER.
[Official Report.]

LOCAL OFFICE, U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, Aug. 24.—[Reported by Ford A. Carpenter, Meteorologist.] At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 29.87: at 5 p.m., 29.81. Thermometer for the corresponding hours showed 66 deg. and 76 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 70 per cent.: 5 p.m., 50 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., northwest, velocity 4 miles; 5 p.m., southwest, velocity 5 miles. Highest temperature, 92 deg.; lowest, 60 deg. Rainfall for season, trace. Barometer reduced to sea level.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.—The distribution of pressure remains practically unchanged, the high area persisting over the central portion of the country and the low areas in the Northeast and Southwest controlling the weather in their respective districts. Heavy rain occurred in Tennessee, and moderate precipitation is reported from the mountains of Arizona and New Mexico, and scattering amounts along the Atlantic coast from Florida to Virginia. It is cooler in Texas, Pennsylvania and New York, and warmer in Nevada and Colorado. The influence of the area of low pressure on the weather in Southern California is such as to give generally overcast skies. San Diego received .01 of an inch of rainfall during the past twenty-four hours. Periods of cloudy and threatening weather will prevail during the ensuing thirty-six hours in Los Angeles and vicinity, with showers in the higher elevations.

[BY PACIFIC CABLE.]

HONOLULU (T. H.) Aug. 24.—A request for twenty-four biplanes for service in Hawaiian territory was sent to the War Department today by Brig.-Gen. Robert K. Evans, commander of this department. Gen. Evans is establishing an aviation corps here and his request followed an investigation into the probable requirements.

The army officers who made the investigations recommended Kamehameha as the best site for aviation headquarters.

Gen. Evans's plan, if carried out, will mean the establishment here of the largest of United States aerial research stations, in which the weather bureau will co-operate with the military authorities.

WOULD IMPROVE CITY OF VIENNA

Great Commercial Future Seen by Citizens.

Comprehensive Plan Favored by City Architect.

[A. P. FOREIGN SERVICE.]

VIENNA, July 31.—On the theory that Vienna, by reason of its geographical position, is going to be the great connecting point and commercial center for a firmly-united commercial and industrial district extending from the Baltic and North Sea to the Black Sea, far-seeing Viennamen already are planning and urging vital and radical improvements in the old Kaiserstadt.

Their plans, which include the beautifying the already beautiful city as well as largely increasing its commercial facilities, call for many millions. The leader of the movement is the city architect, Heinrich Edmund. His plans consist of many features: The construction of new and chausees throughout the suburbs which shall connect them with the beautiful woods and hills that lie 'round about it; the construction, repair, restoration and preservation of the historic and picturesque city," the erection of a new city building with a hall of fame as a memorative of the world war, the erection of a new state and city hall, the modernization and consolidation of the present railroad system, somewhat disjointed railroad system which now terminates in more than seven depots; the construction of a modern and adequate harbor for Danube River boats and protection against high water, the building or completion of several canal bridges.

HARBOR QUESTION.

Of greatest importance to the commercial future of Vienna, in the opinion of Architect Goldemund, are the railway and the Danube harbor questions. Particularly the railway and terminal problem must be solved, he says.

He has carefully worked out tentative plans which call for the consolidation of the five main railroad lines now entering Vienna. Though terminating in a "grand central" station it is possible, some of the existing depots can be dispensed with. Instead, they lie in thickly-populated districts, their sites have a value which, in part, can offset the expense of the plan. In this connection he would erect on one such site a modern and adequate commercial center, devote the present railroad terminals to houses or business buildings and provide for an adequate passenger station, a crying need at present.

Vienna has long suffered from freshets and high water in the Danube, and Architect Goldemund believes that it is time to solve the problem. The more or less valuable available inch of ground is already occupied by warehouses, grain elevators and wharves which are entirely inadequate to accommodate the commerce that he expects after the new ground must be gained, for even if Vienna is to keep up with the commercial progress of Switzerland that at present confronts it, because it is flooded every spring, it must be made available by the construction of protection from the river.

OLD DANUBE BED.

A river harbor on a new bed is an unquestioned necessity, according to Goldemund, and can be had by making use of the old Danube bed without an immoderate expenditure of money. He plans in connection with the harbor a series of navigable canals to the present river channel and to all the railroad stations.

"The chief state authorities and the architect in discussing the matter "are now confronted with the problem not to be postponed, of deciding whether for the imperial capital and for the industrial city that which should and must have been done and could have been done in other cities. If present situation is not taken advantage of, and if, instead of quick action there should once more be a period of hesitation and dawdling, Vienna will be surpassed by other cities, and will be surpassed to the detriment of the entire half of the continent deprived of its development and its chief emporium for middle European trade, notwithstanding the fact that by its geographical position and favorable local conditions it was intended to be that."

...investment company was ...to with. The dangers that ...the company because of the topheaviness, and which later brought it to the verge of ruin, had not yet been made apparent. Mr. Elder talked in terms of millions and appeared to feel that nothing was too big for the company to finance. He made several propositions to finance buildings, one of them to the Trinity church. This was accepted after several conferences, and the construction of a magnificent building to cost $1,000,000 was begun.

STORY OF PROJECT.

The Trinity Building Company was organized, and the $1,000,000 advanced by the investment company was secured by $1,000,000 in bonds, the bonds being secured by a mortgage on the property. Three hundred and sixty thousand dollars of the bonds bear 6 per cent. interest and $640,000 7 per cent.

The arrangement turned out to be a losing venture for both the church and the investment company, and the auditorium stands as one of the gigantic blunders of President Elder, subsequently convicted on a charge of fraudulent use of the mails. The building was up four stories when the unwieldy investment concern began to topple, and a new board of directors undertook the task of salvage and reorganization. Because of the contract and because the work had progressed so far that to stop would be financially disastrous the investment company carried out its part of the bargain and the building was completed.

Two years ago next month the congregation moved into the new building, heavily in debt. It has been a long, heart-breaking struggle against an almost impossible situation.

Last November the Trinity Building Company was unable to pay the interest and other obligations. The investment company agreed to delay foreclosure or other proceedings for a year provided the deed to the property was placed in escrow, the property to be forfeited to the investment company in the event that the Trinity Building Company continued to be in default. By November 10, next, a year or more's interest will be due, together with other obligations, the total being $80,000 or $90,000, over and above the original debt.

SITUATION DESPERATE.

There is practically no chance that the investment company can make any further extension or arrangements, and, unless the church is able to meet its obligations by refinancing the project or otherwise, the big auditorium will pass into the hands of the investment company. In that case the church will have lost its $250,000 lot and the money which has been raised and paid in. The investment company will lose approximately $300,000. The building is not regarded as properly arranged as a strict business building and another $100,000 will have to be spent in remodeling it to suit business requirements.

POWERFUL AID AT HAND.

Negotiations now being conducted by the board offer several possibilities of salvation. Dr. John M. Moore, home mission secretary of the general board, will be here next month. Until that time the members will probably not know definitely the attitude of the board or of the general denomination.

That a big church, whose powerful influences for good have been manifested in this city for a period of fifty-five years, will be allowed to suffer disaster the members of Trinity Church refuse to permit themselves to believe for a minute. Many of them are confident that the general board will be able to offer some solution.

Another possibility, although remote and indefinite, is that the First Methodist Church may decide to take over Trinity Auditorium to house its growing congregation. Overtures to that effect have been made by Trinity Church. Some of the members of the First Methodist Church have informally looked over the auditorium building but the matter has not even been taken up in board meeting nor seriously considered yet. Nobody connected with the First Methodist Church has gone into the matter far enough to even form an opinion.

The First Church has a membership of 2600 and Trinity Auditorium has a seating capacity of 2500. The First Church has considered the advisability of securing bigger and better quarters for some time, but Trinity Auditorium is not at all the kind of building its members had in mind.

During the Elder regime the Los Angeles Investment Company offered $750,000 for the First Church property, it being Mr. Elder's idea to build a big building to cover that lot and the adjoining lot, then and now the property of the investment company. The deal was not consummated on account of the involved affairs of the investment company, but the First Church board still holds the property at $750,000. When the negotiations for the sale of the lot and building at Sixth and Hill streets were pending the First Church purchased a lot at Eighth and Hope streets, the intention being to erect a church edifice there in case the Sixth and Hill-street property was sold.

Regarded as a strictly business investment the value of the Trinity Auditorium is undoubtedly less than the indebtedness, but it may be that its value to a big church might be considerably more, for it was designed and built for church purposes as well as to bring in an income. At best, the possibility of rescue through a deal with the First Church now appears to be exceedingly remote.

HEROIC STRUGGLE.

The sympathies of church people throughout the city are with the devoted band of Trinity Church. Whatever dissenting influences there may have been in the church no longer exist and the entire congregation is standing with undivided allegiance back of its pastor and church board in the effort to save the situation.

The zeal and heroism of the church members have written a bright page on church history. Unusual sacrifices have been made. The women bravely undertook to shoulder a portion of the burden. Many of them worked beyond their strength. By dint of hard work and self-sacrifice they raised several thousand dollars. To them the sum represented a mountain of toil but it was pitifully inadequate to stem the flood of debt piled up by the contract with Mr. Elder's company. Such Spartan efforts deserved success and the church members, still strong in their faith, continue to hope.

CONSOLIDATION OF CHURCHES?

As a possible solution of the grave difficulties confronting Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, South, a plan was discussed at the meeting of the Trinity Building Company last night that the church consolidate with the First Methodist Episcopal Church. If it is consummated it would result in only one downtown Methodist church, which would be the largest church in Los Angeles and one of the biggest Methodist churches in the world.

NEW DIRECTORATE FOR HOME BUILDERS NAMED.

Seven of Old Board Voted Out and Two Retained; Proceedings Attacked.

HOME BUILDERS stockholders to the number of about 300 participated yesterday in a meeting at Symphony Hall, called for the avowed purpose of removing seven of the nine directors of the company and electing successors. After a sulphurous, acrimonious session, filled with fireworks, this purpose was apparently accomplished. But the action was followed by formal protests, attacking practically every step of the proceeding, and another chapter of the corporation's troubled history seems just begun.

Immediately after approximately half a million shares had been voted, directly and by proxy, removing the old board of directors, presumably electing a new board, W. B. Judson formally contested the whole action, charging illegal juggling of proxies and other irregularities. He declared he held a power of attorney regularly delivered to him by the secretary of the company, for proxies for 165,000 shares of stock, and that he was entitled to vote proxies for more than 1000 other shares. The latter proxies, he said, were wrongfully thrown out by the canvassing committee and the proxies for 165,000 shares were locked in the Home Builders safe, where he could not get access to them.

Still another ground for attacking the proceeding was that F. H. Ottelien, B. Masse and M. H. Withers, all newly-elected directors, helped count the votes by which they were chosen.

WHO THEY ARE.

The fight was directed yesterday against these members of the old board: W. G. Caldwell, president; W. R. Myers, first vice-president; George W. Beck, second vice-president; Charles W. Churchill, Joy A. Winans, E. Bouten and S. C. Wing. The other members of the old board were M. H. Withers and H. M. Rogers, leaders of the opposition, and both chosen for the new board.

Those chosen for directors according to yesterday's vote are: F. B. Butterfield, Los Angeles, who received the votes of 493,642 shares; Mr. Rogers, Pomona, 455,722; W. M. Belding, Santa Ana, 422,900; Kelly Tinker, Santa Barbara, 455,505; Mr. Withers, Hollywood, 454,745; F. H. Ottelien, Los Angeles, 410,945; B. Masse, Los Angeles, 456,005; Ben W. Park, Pasadena, 466,555; Edward Healy, Long Beach, 237,713.

It was declared the number of shares voted in each case was sufficient for election. Mr. Judson, however, contended that the 165,000 shares he said he should have voted would have completely changed results.

After the vote in favor of removing the entire old board, Melville Dozier, former deputy County Superintendent of Schools, moved that all members of the old board be barred from election to the new. The motion was defeated after some heated discussion.

QUESTIONS LEGALITY.

The attitude likely to be assumed by the old board was indicated in a statement made by Mr. Winans at the close of the meeting.

"In my opinion," he said, "and in the opinion of good legal advisers, the proceedings are illegal in a number of respects. As to whether the present board of directors (that presumably voted out) will resist on the ground of technical illegalities, I am unable to say."

Any stray echo of harmony that may have lingered in the recesses of Symphony Hall were chased from their retreat when the stockholders met at 10 o'clock in the morning. Until night the hall rang with hisses, catcalls, boos, applause and shouts of defiance. The lie was passed frequently, charges were bandied freely and a dozen times the repartee verged on fisticuffs. First blood was drawn by the opposition to the old board, when Mr. Caldwell, the president, was removed from the chair and Mr. Belding was chosen to preside, after Mr. Caldwell had made an ineffectual attempt to surrender the chair to Mr. Dozier. Then the battle-royal was on. Till late afternoon the Proxy Committee checked over the lists, and the opposing factions were busy with speeches, objections, interruptions and personalities.

It was charged by the old board members and their supporters that the proceedings were "framed," and these charges persisted after the meeting, attaching to a member of the newly-elected board said to be a private detective given some shares a few days ago to make him eligible to election, and to another member

ACCUSED OF ATTEMPT TO BLACKMAIL SCREEN STAR.

DR. RAYMOND A. SWETT, 34 years of age, surgeon, automobile salesman and man-about-town, was arrested and lodged in the City Jail early last night, charged with suspicion of having attempted to blackmail Mabel Normand, the motion-picture star. The arrest was made by Detective Edmundson, special investigator working out of the office of the Chief of Police. He alleges he overheard Dr. Swett demand $610 from Miss Normand and saw him accept in part payment a marked $20 bill.

Questioned by Detective Edmundson and other officers before being locked up, Dr. Swett declared he is a private detective and had been employed to watch the motion picture actress. He refused to give the name of his employer. Although he carried a special deputy sheriff's shield and a revolver, Swett admitted to the officers he is not a licensed detective.

In his statement Swett declared he did not ask Miss Normand for any money and that the $20 was handed to him by her of her own free will. According to his statement, he has been following the actress for sixty-one days, and was to have received $610 from his employer, and he told Miss Normand that the money would be paid to him by the person who employed him.

In the second statement, made after having been locked in jail, Swett declared he had been called to the Baltic apartments, No. 1127 Orange street, the home of Miss Normand, by the landlady of the place. He stated the landlady told him she knew he had been following Miss Normand and wanted to know why. He said she offered him $305 not to turn his reports over to the person who employed him. He alleges he turned down the offer and then was invited in to see Miss Normand herself. His arrest followed.

Detective Edmundson was detailed on the case three weeks ago, when a complaint was made to the Chief's office by Miss Normand that she was being followed and also annoyed over the telephone by some man who demanded money and threatened to "make trouble if she did not come through." Mr. Edmundson declares Swett made a direct demand for the money while talking to Miss Normand.

Detective Edmundson stated he overheard several telephone conversations between Swett and Miss Normand, and between the doctor and the landlady of the apartment-house. Each time Swett attempted to make an appointment with Miss Normand. Several days ago, according to the officer, Swett called at the apartment-house and talked to the landlady, and made an appointment to meet Miss Normand last night.

When Swett arrived at the apartment-house last night Mr. Edmundson was hiding behind a door in Miss Normand's rooms. Swett, after a short talk with the landlady, walked into the apartment and introduced himself to Miss Normand. According to Detective Edmundson, he then explained he had been following her for sixty-one days, and had learned facts prejudicial to her.

He is alleged to have then stated he had $610 due him from his employer, but rather than make any trouble for Miss Normand he would sell out to her for that amount. He is also said to have stated that if she did not "come through" she would find herself in a lot of trouble.

Acting under instructions, Miss Normand offered him the marked $20, stating she had no more money with her, but would pay the rest later. Detective Edmundson says Swett took the money, and the arrest followed.

Efforts to locate Miss Normand and get a statement from her failed.

Suspect.

MAN JAILED HERE MAY BE TEXAS WIFE-SLAYER.

A MAN who is supposed to be Ollie Beaupre of Dallas, Tex., and wanted there for wife murder, was arrested on the streets yesterday by Patrolman W. H. Behrendt. The man said he is O. P. Woods, living at No. 2222 Wall street, and had never lived in Dallas.

In the City Jail, he was identified by W. P. Stokes, United States Marshal of Dallas, and J. W. Ennison and L. D. Dellory, residents of Dallas, who said they knew Beaupre at the time of the alleged murder.

On August 5, 1915, the police department received a warning to arrest Beaupre, who had been tried for murder, the jury had failed to reach a verdict, and Beaupre had been released under heavy bond and had fled. The report said Beaupre had killed his wife with a hatchet, during a quarrel.

Detective Shy went to the address given by Woods and found that a man posing as Woods's brother lived there, but both the alleged brother and the brother's wife said they knew nothing of the man under arrest. The police have been unable to find Woods's room. He said he was employed as a barber in a shop at No. 612 South Spring street. Beaupre is a barber by trade.

Woods is about 36 years old. He talks with a distinct southern drawl. The detective bureau wired the police of Dallas last night asking for a detailed description of Beaupre. When it came the detectives asserted that it tallies in all respects with that of Woods.

SEEK OWNER OF MYSTERY HAND.

Collected Steak and Change for Worthless Check.

Investigation Reveals Only an Untenanted House.

Even Justice Fails in Effort to Solve Puzzler.

Whose hand grabbed the beefsteak and change for a worthless check that called for the difference between $31 and the cost of the meat, 25 cents?

How did the person get into the empty house, which was used as the principal "prop" in this clever scheme, and what telephone was used to call the butcher shop?

These deeply-mysterious problems were presented to Justice Crawford for solving yesterday, as he was sitting for a few hours in Justice Summerfield's court. Emmet Dawson was the person accused of possessing the strange hand that appeared through a screen and collected the steak and cash.

The person making this allegation is Emil Rudolph, a North Broadway butcher and father of a well-known cafe proprietor of this city.

According to his story, the telephone in his shop rang a week ago. A voice at the other end explained that this was "John Smith," residing at No. 123 South Daly street.

"I want 25 cents' worth of your best round steak," said the voice. "And say, I'm short of change, but I have a check here for $31, so have your boy bring change for that amount," continued the voice.

MORE MYSTERY.

Rudolph's delivery boy is the next actor in the strange little drama.

According to his story, he took the steak and the change to the desired address. Arriving there, a voice from within asked whether he was the butcher boy. He gave an affirmative reply.

"I'm just taking a bath and am all undressed. I can't come out, so here's your check," said the voice. A hand snot through the door with this paper and the boy, after turning over the change and the meat proceeded on his way, without seeing anything else.

At the shop the delivery boy turned over the check, the paper was sent to the bank, and all seemed perfectly all right until a week later, when the check came back marked, "No funds."

Butcher Rudolph hastened to the house where the meat had been sent. It was empty. Neighnors informed him it had been empty for weeks.

Young Dawson, who resides near the butcher shop, seemed to have a sudden plethora of wealth about this time and suspicion pointed in his direction. When arrested, he denied having perpetrated the clever little swindle.

A SHOWDOWN.

Yesterday morning he gladly bared his arm and showed more of it than appeared of the arm and the hand that collected the coin. The delivery boy failed to identify this part of Dawson's anatomy. The court then had to hold that the evidence was too slight to proceed further and so dismissed the case.

There is still a mystery to be solved and Butcher Rudolph is anxious to find out how it all happened. Incidentally, checks are not accepted as collateral for meat in his neighborhood any longer.

TO CHRISTEN SUB.

Wife of Constructor will Lead Ceremony at Launching of Undersea Ship Nearing Completion in Yards of California Company.

Word was received yesterday by Lieut. and Mrs. W. R. Monroe of No. 832 West Twenty-eighth street, that Mrs. Monroe had been chosen by the Navy Department to christen the L-6 submarine, which will be launched at the yards of the California Shipbuilding Company at 10:15 o'clock Thursday morning. California champagne will be used.

Lieut. Monroe is superintending the construction of the vessel jointly with Naval Constructor W. B. Fogerty.

The L-7, a sister ship of the L-6, will be launched within three weeks. The two vessels are of the even keel type, submerging by use of hydroplanes and electric motors. The boats have been under construction for two years and will be commissioned before the first of the year.

BRIDEGROOM AND GEMS GONE.

Elderly Bride Says He Must Have Wed Her for Them; Swears to Warrant.

After waiting more than a week to hear from a husband mysteriously missing, Mrs. Martha Boyce Land of No. 1106 Kingsley drive yesterday decided that he had married her less than a month ago merely to obtain her jewels, which, according to the complaint issued by Deputy District Attorney Stafford for his arrest, are valued at $1500.

"I really thought he loved me and we had a very enjoyable honeymoon," said the woman, who is 58 years of age. Her husband is 56, according to the marriage license. She admitted that her acquaintance with her husband had been short, and that the engagement was also very brief.

After several hours of investigation, the Sheriff's men declared that the indications are that Land has gone to the Mexican border.

said to own but a single share of stock.

PERSONAL ATTACKS.

Much of the fight during the day centered on Mr. Ottelien, recently ousted treasurer of the company and chosen a member of the new board. He was, incidentally, the holder of a tremendous block of proxies.

Mr. Winans spoke late in the afternoon, defending the business administration of Mr. Caldwell and assailing Mr. Ottelien.

"I wish to say that man is treacherous," he exclaimed. The answer was a chorus of hisses.

"This man, to influence you, told a lie!" persisted Mr. Winans.

Angry shouts rose and Mr. Belding bolted from the chair and told Mr. Winans, very bluntly, that his language must be parliamentary.

"I mean Mr. Winans has said enough," said Mr. Rogers, angrily.

And the speaker finished amid a chorus of interruptions, charging the stockholders were being made the catspaw for men who wished to control the company.

The report of the Proxy Committee showed Mr. Withers held proxies for 210,079 shares of stock, Mr. Ottelien for 119,465 shares, and Mr. Belding, Mr. Rogers and others for large blocks of stock, the entire number of proxies being 426,732, or a majority of the outstanding capital stock of the company.

When the resolution for the removal of the old directorate was presented, Mr. Dozier asked that directors present be given a chance to resign. The chairman drew forth his watch and allowed the directors "just three minutes" to take such action. All but Mr. Wing were present. Only Mr. Bouten, however, presented a verbal resignation, which was voted as accepted. His name was stricken from the ouster resolution.

Opposition to the old board was declared to be because of domination by a small faction, and mismanagement. The defense was based on allegations of misrepresentation as to these charges, and on the business administration of the Caldwell board.

AGAINST "STOOLIES."

Police Judge Turns a Coffee-house Man Loose When He Learns Two Policemen "Framed" Liquor Ordinance Violation to Catch Him.

Police Judge Richardson again upheld yesterday his declaration that he would not convict a man against whom evidence was secured by "stool pigeons." He dismissed the case against James Psilos, proprietor of a Greek coffee house on East Fourth street, who was arrested on a charge of having violated the liquor ordinance.

The arrest was made by Patrolmen Mendez and Hickey of the Metropolitan Squad. They testified they employed Gus Bay and George Miller to go to the coffee house, order cognac while in company with Mendez, and to pay for the liquor with marked money.

As soon as the liquor was served Hickey, who remained outside, raided the place and arrested Psilos. When the details were exposed during the trial Police Judge Richardson stopped proceedings. He said: "I am unalterably opposed to the use of stool pigeons in police work. When it is necessary to 'frame' a man in order to arrest him I do not propose to convict that man. I believe the system vicious and unworthy of the police department. I dismiss the case."

OWN HOME IS MADE PRISON.

Charged with Causing Death by Illegal Act.

Victim Former Society Girl of Indianapolis.

After being arrested on a murder charge in connection with the death of Mrs. Lida Dequine of No. 926 Wilcox avenue, Hollywood, and lodged in the County Jail, Mrs. Inez Decker was given practical freedom yesterday, being permitted to go to her home in custody of two specially-appointed women deputy sheriffs.

Mrs. Decker, who goes by the title of "Dr. Decker," and maintains an office in the Washington Building, was arrested on a complaint issued by Deputy District Attorney Stafford.

The allegations are that Mrs. Dequine, 28 years of age, died at her home on the 9th inst. from blood poisoning, caused by an illegal operation performed by Mrs. Decker. At the time of the operation, Mrs. Dequine's husband is said to have been absent from the city.

COURT IS CONSIDERATE.

When brought to the jail from her home, No. 864 North Hoover street, yesterday morning, Mrs. Decker appeared very ill and Justice Hanby, after the arraignment, because of her illness, granted the very unusual request, and permitted her to go home, in custody of officers, it being impossible to fix any kind of bail in a murder case.

Mrs. Emily Rupert and Miss Jennie Husted were sworn in as deputy sheriffs by Sheriff Cline, and after the date for the preliminary hearing had been set for next Wednesday at 2 o'clock, Mrs. Decker was taken back to her residence.

WHAT RELATIVES SAY.

Miss Gladys Dequine, No. 1628 Echo Park avenue, and Mrs. Fred Dequine, sister and mother of the dead woman's husband, were shocked last night to learn that Dr. Decker had been arrested. They were aware that Mrs. Dequine had died from blood poisoning, but had been told that it was the result of a cancerous tumor.

"We know nothing of these charges. If Lida submitted to such an operation we would have naturally been the last persons in the world to have been told about it," said the mother-in-law of the dead woman.

"I doubt if my son knows anything about it now. He was away all the time she was ill and arrived at 9 o'clock Thursday night after her death shortly after 1 o'clock. I went to see Lida the Monday before, but she refused to let us telegraph her husband, saying he had a good job and could do her more good by keeping it.

"On Wednesday her condition grew serious. She was taken to the Osteopathic Hospital the next day, but died two hours after her arrival there. I was told that she was taken there to be operated on for a cancerous tumor, but that when she reached the hospital, was too far gone. We did not know she had ever been treated by Dr. Decker. Dr. Grace Nickerson, an osteopathic physician, was attending her when we saw her," Mrs. Dequine said.

The dead woman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. McCready, live in Indianapolis, where she was educated. Her grandfather was the first Mayor of Indianapolis and as a girl Lida McCready moved in the best social circles.

ARRESTED BEFORE.

Dr. Decker says that she is a graduate of The Marion Sims Medical College of St. Louis, Mo., and has been practicing obstetrics in Los Angeles for the last ten years with the exception of short periods when she has been out of the city. According to her own statement at the time of a previous arrest, when she was suspected of being a shoplifter in February, 1915, she admitted that she was refused a license to practice other branches of medicine. According to police records she has been arrested several times, once in Milwaukee on a shoplifting charge.

Mrs. Dequine lives on a ranch at Shafter, about twenty-three miles from Bakersfield. She came here to visit her daughter, because of her own illness. It was because of her sickness that she saw so little of her daughter-in-law. She got up from a sick bed to go when she did, but would have been with her all the time, she said, had she had the faintest idea how serious her condition was.

Roy Dequine, the dead woman's husband, is an oil man. Before his wife's death, he went to Arizona, where he accepted a good position. He was told that his wife was sick, but the nature of her illness was not revealed to him. He, like other members of his family, was not informed that her condition was serious until she was practically on her death bed, according to his mother.

Three days after the funeral, Mr. Dequine took his two little motherless girls, aged 11 and 3 years, to the home of his mother on the ranch at Shafter, where they will be cared for by his people. Mr. Dequine was anxious that her daughter-in-law's parents never know the cause of her death, if it was from an illegal operation. She says it will almost kill them.

Lila Atherton, charged with similar illegal operations and arrested about a month ago, was up before Judge Nicol while Mrs. Decker appeared before Justice Hanby. Mrs. Atherton is charged with having performed an abortion on Miss Maude Elliott, and when arraigned yesterday in the Superior Court entered a plea of not guilty. Her trial was set for December 11.

After Cutting Wide Swath at Large Resort Hotels, Using Worthless Checks, He Admits Guilt and Asks the Court for Probation.

Sol Reuben, who cut a wide swath among the elite at some of the fashionable resort hotels of Southern California and who was arrested on the complaint of Manager William Nestle of Hotel Virginia at Long Beach, for passing a worthless check at that house, yesterday pleaded guilty to the charge, when brought before Judge Nichol.

Reuben, who started to cross the continent but was captured in Texas, attempted to escape from the custody of Deputy Sheriff Van Vliet when the train stopped at Yuma.

He asked the court to dispose of his case as soon as possible and filed an application for probation, which is to be heard tomorrow morning.

If there was any matter they had not quarreled over, Dr. Francis Philip Amo, a Pasadena dentist, could not recall it when questioned by Judge Wood yesterday in Mrs. Rosamarie Cornelia Amo's divorce suit, alleging desertion and nonsupport. His statement was that the quarrels had been "about everything it is possible for two people to disagree over."

Dr. Amo admitted to the court he had not lived with Mrs. Amo for two years and had only occasionally given her money. This won Mrs. Amo a decree.

John Doe Warrant Issued for Man of Unpronounceable Cognomen Wanted by United States District Attorney's Office on Statutory Charge.

Deputy United States Marshal Walton went to Yuma yesterday to bring "John Doe" to Los Angeles to face a complaint made by United States District Attorney Schoonover alleging assault on Miss Mary Hawthorn, a ward of the nation on the Yuma Indian Reservation. The girl is said to be but 11 years old.

The defendant, who is a Mexican, is in custody at Yuma, but when Mr. Schoonover tried to get his name over the telephone the man at the other end of the line tried to pronounce it and failed, with the result that it was necessary to issue a "John Doe" warrant.

Divorce Court Judge Hears About an Alleged Tall Visitor at Home of Defendant Wife, Then Condemns Thoughts of the Husband.

Judge Wood yesterday denied Theodore F. Lange a decree of divorce from Mrs. Helen M. Lange. A tall visitor at the Lange home was introduced into the trial. It was also in evidence that when the tall visitor arrived Mrs. Lange's 6-year-old daughter was sent into the hall.

The court held that a man has no moral right to jump at conclusions as to the conduct of his wife, either from the gossip of neighbors or others. Judge Monroe a year ago denied Mr. Lange a decree on the charge of the alleged habitual intemperance of Mrs. Lange. The latter was formerly an actress. She was awarded the custody of her child, provided she does not use liquor for a year.

An Epidemic Can Start in Your Home

A garbage can (covered or uncovered) subject to ordinary summer heat, will breed millions of disease germs in one day right in your kitchen.

So will an unwashed milk bottle, a clogged kitchen sink, a little old water in your refrigerator or faulty plumbing in your toilet.

Flies will carry these germs and infect your family and your neighborhood, and epidemic will spread over city, state and country. All big epidemics have small beginnings, and most of them could be prevented by proper disinfection of homes.

You can disinfect your home thoroughly, easily and cheaply with Lysol because it surely kills germs, and keeps flies away. Use Lysol often in garbage cans, sinks, toilets and cesspools.

Use Lysol in scrubbing water and for cleaning milk bottles, for soap will not kill all germs. Take these simple precautions and you will make a better fight against disease than it can make against you.

A 25c bottle of Lysol makes 2 gallons of disinfectant. Get a bottle today. Complete directions with every bottle.

The rooms were decked in a color scheme of pink and white flowers and billowy pink tulle extending from the chandelier to an archway in which, beneath a clump of magnolias, the bridal party stood for the ceremony. Prior to the service, Mrs. Lee F. Dawson sang "I Love You Truly," with Mrs. E. Levy at the piano.

The bride, wearing a veil caught to her hair in a coronet of orange blossoms and pearls, and gowned in crepe de chine, real lace and seed pearls, entered upon the arm of her father. Her bouquet was a shower of brides' roses and maidenhair fern. Her sister, Miss Olive Kelley, and Mrs. Urquhart attended the bride, while the groom had with him James Urquhart and Richard Small.

Mrs. Zoe Ballard Fuller of Lake street, has gone to San Francisco and the bay cities for a month's stay. At present she is visiting her cousin, Mrs. Paul Shoup, at the latter's country home in Los Altos.

Brings Pleasures to Visitor.

Ella Wheeler Wilcox has been seeing much of her friend, Miss Helen Mathewson, during her present visit to Southern California, the ripening of a pleasant friendship which began many years ago when Miss Mathewson and Mrs. George Drake Ruddy entertained for the writer at one of the most brilliant receptions in the history of the city. Since her arrival, several weeks ago, Mrs. Wilcox has been the guest frequently of Miss Mathewson in her beautiful new home at No. 56 Fremont place, in addition to sharing in the delights of week-end trips to Santa Barbara and Coronado. This week Miss Mathewson will take the easterner to Arrowhead for a few days' rest and companionship. Despite the wishes of the literary visitor to live quietly, it is all but impossible to resist the many alluring affairs being arranged, all, however, of an informal nature.

Off for San Diego.

Mrs. Josiah Evans Cowles, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, with Mrs. C. O. Stanton, Mrs. W. S. Bartlett of the Ebell Club; Mrs. Edward Rankin Brainerd of the Friday Morning Club, Mrs. Matthew S. Robertson, Mrs. Grantland S. Long and the latter's house guest from Texas, Miss Martha Kandler; Mrs. Mark Lewis, Mrs. Oliver C. Bryant, Mrs. A. B. Cooke, Mrs. C. C. Cotth, Mrs. Samuel Taylor Dunlap, Mrs. Laura Armstrong, Mrs. Eva Downing and a few other ladies are leaving this afternoon for San Diego, where Mrs. Cowles is to be special guest of the exposition, and where innumerable courtesies are to be extended the ladies from Los Angeles.

Mrs. G. Aubrey Davidson, Mrs. Claire McKenzie and Miss Gertrude Gilbert of the exposition city are to meet the visitors, who are to be entertained on the fair grounds Saturday morning, followed by a formal luncheon at 1 o'clock. In the afternoon a garden party will give many from the southern part of the State the opportunity of meeting the head of the Federation of Women's Clubs, and her escorts, who are a part of the cordiality committee helping to cement between Los Angeles and San Diego a genuine hospitality, which will, from time to time, be shown the distinguished visitors to this part of the State. A beautiful dinner is to be given them at the Bridges' home Saturday evening.

The entire personnel of Angeleno women are returning home on Sunday.

The trip is in no way a club affair though many of those joining Mrs. Cowles are prominent in various women's organizations here.

PLAY FOR A MILLION.

Commission's Report Shows a Large Attendance at City's Centers of Recreation; Additions to Equipment Made and Projected.

Total attendance at the city's playground and vacation centers during the year ended June 30, last, was 1,229,923, according to the annual report of the Playground Commission filed yesterday. During the year the Arroyo Seco Playground, the ninth in the system, was opened.

It is planned to establish a playground on property owned by the Los Angeles and Salt Lake Railroad just east of the river and north and south of First street. It is intended to serve a large foreign population.

Twenty-five cabins were added to the department's summer playground camp in the mountains during the year. The cost of the playground work was $81,433.68 and the department reports a strenuous but encouraging year in meeting the demands of its growing work.

Releasing Change.

BIG FOUR NOW ONE.

VITAGRAPH NOW HAS CONTROL OF V. L. S. E.

By Grace Kingsley.

According to telegraphic advices received from New York last night, the Vitagraph Company of America, continuing its policy of expansion, yesterday acquired the interests of the Lubin, Selig and Essanay companies, in the corporation known as V-L-S-E. Hereafter this will be a releasing company for the Vitagraph.

News of the Vitagraph's new acquisition was confirmed last night by Commodore J. Stuart Blackton, vice-president and producing director.

"The Vitagraph Company of America has acquired the other interests in the V.L.S.E.," said Commodore Blackton. "This concern will become a distributing company for the Vitagraph company. That is all I care to say just at this time."

In regard to a rumor of a possible Vitagraph alliance with the Triangle, Commodore Blackton said that no such step had been taken.

New Film Noise.

A new film company, formed for the production of ten-reelers, with M. M. Ward of San Francisco, at its head, and backed by the money of several capitalists of Reno, Nev., has just come into existence, and is the outgrowth of the old Premier company. It still retains that name.

The star of the organization is Tyrone Power and John Ince has been engaged as director. Edith Sterling is leading woman.

The first picture the company will make is entitled "The Planter," with story by Herman Whitaker. For the purpose of filming this photodrama, the company will go to Guatemala, traveling via New Orleans, and leaving on September 11.

Some Speed!

"Forty-five Minutes from Broadway," to be presented at the Burbank next week, promises to be one of the most spectacular and sumptuously staged productions Manager Corper has so far put on. But Wesner, who has had ample experience in directing musical comedy, is in charge of rehearsals. Mme. Keeler will make the costumes for the principals and the big beauty chorus.

Neal Burns, the clever juvenile who played with the old Gaiety Company at the Morosco, and who is one of the best eccentric dancers on the stage, is to have the role of the youthful millionaire, Bennett, in the show. James Corrigan, a great favorite with Los Angeles audiences, will play a prominent part, though it is not stated whether Jim has a tenor or a baritone voice.

Good Imitation Lawyer.

Though Wyndham Standing is proving such an excellent lawyer in "A Pair of Sixes" at the Morosco, he says he was a very bad one in real life. He has an uncle in London who is a lawyer, and he studied with him for a year, at the end of which time young Standing ran away and went on the stage.

He tells a story of his uncle, who used to go into court with a big green bag in which he carried his legal papers. Someone asked him one day in a spirit of ribaldry: "What have you got in that bag? Old clothes?" "No," answered Standing's uncle, quick as a flash, "new suits."

Next!

Joan Sawyer, the dancer, is to take a flier into pictures with Fox this fall.

Nora Will Rest.

"Mission Play" Announcement.

The sale of seats for God-speed week of the "Mission Play" opened at the Mason Operahouse yesterday morning, the engagement beginning on September 4. The play has been in active rehearsal at its own playhouse in San Gabriel all week.

Trophy of War.

Anna Wheaton, at the Orpheum, who spent last year as star of a London revue, is the possessor of a beautiful gold and enamel brooch given her by a member of the aviation corps in London. It is an exact replica of a badge which the aviator soldiers wear. Miss Wheaton prizes it highly, especially as the giver was recently severely wounded in repelling a Zeppelin air raid in London.

Leaves Cooper-Hewitts.

Edna Goodrich, now with the Morosco Photoplay Company, is preto make her debut in vaudeville at an early date. She will play the lead in a new sketch calling for three people.

Statistical Note.

Nance O'Neil, the famous stage and screen star, was married to Alfred Hickman, her leading man for the past two years in films, August 12. The wedding occurred in New Rochelle, N. Y.

Miss Williams Will Emote.

Kathlyn Williams, who has just signed up a contract with the Morosco Photoplay Company, will begin work early in September in a feature photoplay of modern life, in which the heroine, coming to a large city, falls into evil ways, but is later redeemed. The photoplay promises to give Miss Williams a great opportunity for strong emotional acting.

Her Celluloid Rival.

Lucile Lee Stewart, who appears at the Superba next week in the photodrama "Peter God," is a sister of Anita Stewart, and is said to possess quite as much beauty and talent as her better known and more experienced sister.

Villainy Still Pursues Him.

Grant Churchill, who is making a hit as the heavy, Randall Holliday, in "The Daughter of the Don," at the Majestic, will continue his villainous career as the heavy in a new Fox feature, under Director Stanton.

Argonauts Soon.

"The Argonauts," by Winfield Hogaboom, the great feature photoplay of early California days, which it took a year to make, is booked to follow "The Daughter of the Don" at the Majestic. Grant Churchill plays the masculine lead.

In Hart Picture.

Alma Reuben has been engaged, it was announced this week, to play the leading feminine role in support of William S. Hart in the new badman picture in which he is working at Inceville. Miss Reuben, as will be remembered, did splendid work in support of Douglas Fairbanks in "The Halfbreed."

Gillingwater Repeats.

Claude Gillingwater, who appeared with Edith Lyle in "Wives of the Rich," at the Orpheum season before last, is to take the sketch out again in vaudeville. Josephine Le Croix, playing Irma in Alexander Carr's sketch, is to be his leading woman.

Nan Hands It to Rita.

The flowers that went over the footlights to Rita Gould, at Pantages last night, were from Nan Halperin, who is a close friend of the Winter Garden star.

Humans Just Stagehands.

The folks who have watched Lapinski's clever dogs perform in their "Dogtown" comedy at Pantages, may be interested to know that while not a human being appears on the stage during the course of the act, eight persons are busily working just off stage, giving the canine actors their cues. Some forty dogs, eight people and nearly a carload of scenery, automobiles, etc., are carried by the act.

Bird Still Flies.

Richard Walton Tully will suspend rehearsals of his new play, "The Flame," in New York, long enough to enable him to go to Montreal to see the first performance of the sixth season of his Hawaiian play, "The Bird of Paradise," the old bird which still healthily flaps its wings and soars. The part of Luana will this year be played by June Jannis, a young actress, unknown to fame, but in whom Mr. Tully has great faith.

Real Ha-ha Villains.

Richard Walton Tully's new play, "The Flame," will have not one, but two double-dyed, good old-fashioned villains. They will be portrayed by William Courtleigh, who says his man is a "sulking demon," and Robert Paton Gibbs, and when the two actors aren't engaged hating everybody else in the play, they are to be busily engrossed hating each other.

Must Look Wealthy.

James Neill, the well-known Lasky actor, was looking at a film being run off in the Lasky projection-room the other day. The scene depicted was a theater. Though the owner of the theater was supposed to be on the brink of financial ruin the house was crowded. Neill remarked to the director on the inconsistency.

"Oh, but we have to do it that way," explained the director, "otherwise people would exclaim when they saw the picture: 'My gracious, ain't the Lasky company getting stingy! Look at the few extras they're using in that picture. They must be going broke!'"

For a Good Girl.

The Millers announce that following the engagement of June Caprice in "Little Miss Happiness" next week there will be shown a remarkable drama produced by the Fox company that every woman in town should witness. It is entitled "The Unwelcome Mother," and features an all-star cast headed by Walter Law and the famous Danish beauty, Valkyrien. This picture is said to be the most sensational film the Fox company has ever produced. Which certainly will be going some.

No Blacksmith, Either.

It has been discovered that George George, the elongated member of the Horsley Cub Comedy Company, inherits his talent from his father, a prosperous Missouri farmer. George used to plow the fields for his dad and his father is the best judge of what the towering youth is capable of doing. Recently George wrote his father to call his attention to a forthcoming picture, urging him to view it with a "P. S.—I am great, dad." Father replied: "I knew you as a farmer, son, and you were a great carpenter. As a comedian you're probably a fair plumber. So I'll save my dime." But dad went, nevertheless, and then sent George a check as a testimonial to son's portrayal of a beggar.

AT THE THEATERS.

Symphony.

Mabel Taliaferro is drawing large crowds to the Symphony this week, where she is appearing in the photodrama, "God's Half Acre." Miss Taliaferro has the sympathetic role of Blossom, a little maid-of-all-work in a home for the aged, who afterward becomes the heroine of a novel by a writer seeking local color at Rainbow's End.

Clune's Auditorium.

Capt. F. E. Kleinschmidt's "Battle Scenes from Three Fronts" is being shown for the first time in America at Clune's Auditorium this week. So often has the public been hoodwinked by pretended "war pictures" that it is eagerly going to see these genuine and authentic scenes of actual battles. The daring cameraman was in the very vanguard of the German troops, and more thrilling scenes are shown than in all the imaginary war pictures put together.

Clune's Broadway.

Pulsing with a sweet, clean heart-interest romance, "Bettina Loved a Soldier," the attraction at Clune's Broadway, is proving its drawing powers this week. The picture, a screen adaptation of "L'Abbe Constantin," a literary classic by Ludovic Halevy, tells a love story of compelling interest, with a mixture of bright comedy situations. The leading roles are entrusted with pleasing results to Francelia Billington and Louise Lovely, who are cast as two wealthy American sister of fascinating beauty. Rupert Julian makes a manly and stalwart hero, while winsome little Zoe DuRae wins all hearts.

Next week's attraction will be "The Almighty Dollar."

Miller's.

"Daredevil Kate," featuring beautiful Virginia Pearson, is attracting more than ordinary attention at Miller's Theater this week. In "Daredevil Kate" there is plenty of action, a good plot, some excellent comedy furnished by the famous Lee kidlets, Jane and Katherine, and natural scenery that adds charm to the drama.

For a week, starting next Sunday, the attraction will be June Caprice in her latest success, "Little Miss Happiness."

A Trace Here.

SEASON'S FIRST RAIN RECORDED.

Business District Excited by Midday Light Shower.

Imperial Valley Visited by its Annual August Storm.

Mexican Under Tree Killed by Bolt of Lightning.

The first rain of the season, which officially dates from July 1, fell in the business district yesterday and the Weather Bureau recorded it as a "trace," as the amount of precipitation was not large enough to make an impression on the gauges. The sudden rise in temperature to 92 deg. and the humidity during the middle of the day congealed the moisture in the light clouds and the rain descended. The people were excited by the occurrence.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

EL CENTRO, Aug. 24.—Imperial Valley received its belated annual August rainstorm late last night and this morning. The storm was accompanied by considerable lightning, which proved fatal to Jose Martinez, Mexican, of Brawley, who had taken refuge under a tree.

When the bolt of lightning struck him, Martinez was seated on the ground between two companions, Sebastian Morales and Gonzales Juario. Morales and Juario were knocked senseless and when they recovered they discovered Martinez dead, with his clothing and shoes torn completely off.

According to the story of Morales and Juario, at the coroner's inquest today, the lightning did not harm the tree, but apparently first struck their companion's feet.

Little damage was done to property by the rainfall, which was reported to be nearly one inch, but some of the country highways were practically impassable for several hours today.

The storm arose in the mountains to the west of the valley and the rainfall was reported to have been heavy.

CAMPERS ROUTED.

SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 24.—Almost on the anniversary of the big cyclonic storm last year, a terrific electrical storm swept the San Bernardino mountains today and part of it visited this valley. All along the rim of the valley from the San Jacinto mountains to the Cajon Pass, a heavy rain fell, accompanied by heavy lightning and thunder.

Thousands of campers were driven to cover, but little damage is reported throughout the region. Seventeen hundreths of an inch fell here.

Out on the desert near Cadiz, a cloudburst and high wind occurred, washing out tracks of the Santa Fe for a short distance and putting the wires out of commission. Just a year ago tomorrow a fierce south wind swept through the valley with a heavy rain and caused much damage.

QUARTER-INCH OF RAIN.

REDLANDS, Aug. 24.—A heavy rainstorm, that brought with it relief from oppressive weather because of the electrical storms on the desert, visited Redlands early this evening. It rained hard for over an hour and the parched ground was well soaked.

The rain was welcome here because it washed the dust off the orange groves and buildings, the first bath they have had for over five months.

Father T. J. Fitzgerald, of the Catholic Church here, says that twenty years ago yesterday, there was a terrible storm, the streets being filled with running water in just a few minutes and several buildings being struck by lightning.

The storm today was accompanied by thunder and lightning. In the mountains there was over half an inch of rainfall. Here the precipitation was .24, the first of the season.

COMES INTO COURT.

Woman Defendant in Oil and Mine Stock Deal Case Finally Appears for Arraignment when Forfeiture of Bail Bond is Threatened.

Mrs. Mae McEntyre, who failed on numerous occasions to appear in the Superior Court for arraignment, on the ground that she or members of her family were ill in Salt Lake City, finally came before Judge Nichol yesterday, after she had been notified that her bond of $1000 would be forfeited unless she appeared at this time.

Mrs. McEntyre is charged with obtaining money by false pretenses from Mrs. Mary Mitchell, to whom she is alleged to have sold stock in an oil and mining company. At the preliminary hearing Mrs. McEntyre declared she was under the impression that the stock was of the value printed on the face of the certificates and that she had no intention of asking more than it was worth when she disposed of the stock.

AT THE WOODLEY.

"The Woman in the Case," with the popular emotional actress, Pauline Frederick, in the stellar role, is this week's attraction at the Woodley. The play is a picture version of Clyde Fitch's stage success, with its scenes laid in Paris and America. Miss Frederick plays with all her wonderful charm the role of the devoted wife.

Blanche Sweet will appear next week in "Public Opinion." Miss Sweet will have the role of a beautiful young nurse accused of murder, the story presenting the theory that persons who depart this life return in spirit to right wrongs.

Progress.

PLAN EVALUATION OF PORT TERMINAL LINES.

REPRESENTATIVES of the Interstate Commerce Commission, who are now engaged in the task of making valuations of the physical properties of the railways in Los Angeles and vicinity, with headquarters here, announced yesterday that they had completed the work relating to the county's railway lines outside of the city limits and will at once begin the valuation of the Southern Pacific lines at the harbor. The valuation of the Salt Lake terminals at Terminal Island was completed some time ago.

In the Pacific division, of which Los Angeles county and city is a part, the valuation of about 1100 miles of track and terminal lines has been completed, under the terms of the La Follette Act. The terminals of the Southern Pacific, the Santa Fe and the Salt Lake lines in the city of Los Angeles have not yet been taken up at all.

The question of titles along the waterfront is one that requires much consideration at the hands of the appraisers, it is stated, and this is and will be, a point requiring investigation before values are finally fixed and determined. All of these issues are referred to the valuation attorney of the Interstate Commerce Commission with headquarters in San Francisco.

Some time ago a civil service examination was held with a view of having an eligible list of experts for work in the field of valuation, but so far no appointments have been made. It was intended to push the work, but the appropriation by Congress has been exhausted, and there is no telling when there will be any additions to the force. The original appropriation was merely enough to get the work started.

It is estimated that not less than $20,000,000 will be required to complete the contract of making a valuation of the physical properties of the railways of the country. The original plea was to secure the figures for use in case it was ever seriously proposed to have the railroads operated by the government.

None of the figures are available at this end of the line. They are all sent to the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington, where they are a part of the archives of that body.

After Long Prayer.

LEAPS FROM WINDOW TO FIND INSTANT DEATH.

AFTER two hours of prayer, with a silver crucifix clasped against her lips, Mrs. J. A. Murphy believed she would be forgiven if she took her life, so she wrote a short note to that effect and jumped from the fifth-story window of her apartment at No. 431 South Grand avenue, yesterday morning, killing herself instantly.

Her falling body was seen by Mrs. E. J. Barrack, who occupied an apartment directly below that of Mrs. Murphy. Mrs. Barrack ran to the window to see what had occurred and saw the crumple form on the pavement below.

Mrs. Murphy was the wife of Joseph Arthur Murphy of Stockton. She was formerly Miss Anna Long. She was married three years ago.

Recently she had trouble with her husband, and also was suffering from an incurable ailment. She was liberally supplied with funds, but was so despondent over her troubles she had threatened several times to end her life.

She wrote one note: "Good-by to Ethel and Lizzie." Another note was written to her sister, Mrs. A. A. Wismoln, No. 4009 Madison street, Seattle.

Represent Big Industry.

SEEK WIDER MARKET FOR STATE'S DAIRY PRODUCTS.

THE California Affiliated Co-operative Creameries was organized yesterday at a meeting of representatives of eleven co-operative creameries, which produce 50 per cent. of the butter consumed in Los Angeles. The meeting, held at the Rosslyn Hotel, had been called at the instance of Harris Weinstock, State market director. Mr. Weinstock, however, did not attend.

The purposes of the organization are betterment of marketing conditions, general improvement of the creamery business, and to find an outlet to a wider market for California's rapidly-growing dairy industry. It is in no sense intended to control or make a monopoly of the dairy business, and no attempt was made to combine the several dairies in a single corporation, as it was felt the interests of the public and the dairymen will be better served by each retaining its individuality in both manufacturing and selling.

The officers and directors elected for the new association are: Allison Peck of Imperial, president; J. P. Murphy of Tulare, vice-president, and N. J. Beck of Visalia. J. R. Murphy of Fresno and Joel Anderson of Imperial. Other officers will be chosen by the directors.

The creameries represented were the Delta Co-operative Creamery of Imperial, the Holtville Co-operative Creamery of Holtville, the Danish Creamery Association of Fresno, the Dairymen's Co-operative Creamery of Tulare, the Visalia Co-operative Creamery of Visalia, the Harmony Valley Creamery Association of Harmony, the Lucerne Cream and Butter Company of Hanford, the Porterville Co-operative Creamery of Porterville, the Latch Creamery Company of Laton, the Exeter Co-operative Creamery of Exeter, and the Riverdale Co-operative Creamery of Riverdale.

CACTUS AND BUTTER.

Whittier Woman Demonstrates How to Feed Cows to Advantage.

Directors of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday learned how to feed spineless cactus to dairy cattle in a manner that improves the butter rather than detracts from it. At their regular weekly meeting and luncheon, through the courtesy of Mrs. H. R. W. Strong of Whittier, who discovered the new process, they were served with the "golden head to the staff of life" from cows fed regularly on spineless cactus.

The secret is to feed the animals immediately after milking. If this is done the butter has a better color, is improved in quality and is firmer. If the feding is not so done the cactus taste lingers.

MEXICANS HANG VILLA RAIDER.

Slayer of a Popago Indian Gets His Deserts.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

TUCSON (Ariz.) Aug. 20.—The Mexican authorities have captured and hanged Chico Villa, a raider who crossed the line a few weeks ago and killed a Papago Indian near Indian Oasis. The body was seen hanging to a tree at La Nariz, Sonora, by some passing Americans a few days ago. The man had been hiding in the hills below Sonoita, but had ventured for food into San Antonio, where he was caught. In the same band was Francisco Martinez, who told that while known as Rafael Lopez he killed three Americans near Phoenix. This story has a flaw, in that no three Americans are known to have been killed near Phoenix.

PRIEST ASSAULTED.

While on his way to All Saints' Church, where he was to officiate at the 8 o'clock mass, Father Duval was assaulted by a drunken Mexican, a plumber named Francisco Acevedo, who struck him under the chin, making a painful wound. The clergyman countered by hitting his assailant with a heavy wooden box in which he was carrying some of the altar vessels, and managed to subdue the Mexican and to assist in turning him over to the authorities.

BLAISDELL FAILURE.

At Yuma is chronicled the complete failure of Hiram W. Blaisdell, who for years had led in public improvement and in the exposition of the locality's horticultural wealth. Latterly he has been resident in Los Angeles. His principal financial trouble centered in the Yuma electric lighting and water service, which has been unprofitable and which has been taken over by Los Angeles creditors. Included in the wreck is the famous Blaisdell orange grove, the first of importance in Southwestern Arizona.

WOMAN'S CAMPAIGN TRIP.

A remarkable campaign trip has just been concluded by Miss C. Louise Boehringer, school superintendent of Yuma county and applicant for the State superintendency. With a girl companion, in a Ford machine, she has covered nearly all of Arizona, as far northward as the Grand Canyon, eastward around through New Mexico in default of usable roads in Eastern Arizona, back through Duncan and Clifton and homeward through Bisbee and Tucson. Though through some of the roughest and least-settled sections of the Southwest, there was singularly little trouble, personal or mechanical. A camping outfit carried occasionally had to be used. The trip has taken about six weeks.

DEER IN AN AUTO.

A new method for transportation of deer has been found successful by Deputy Game Warden O. F. Hicks, who carried five grown does 150 miles from his ranch in the Chiricahua Mountains of Southeastern Arizona to the game preserve of Capt. J. S. Bates on the Oracle road, north of Tucson, the deer carefully packed into the rear of the Hicks automobile. The trip was made without injury to the freight. The deer had been reared by Hicks and are very tame.

Nogales now is planning the building of an electric street railway system, from the international line at its junction with Morley avenue, out through the residential part of the city and to the army camps.

ELKS' DEDICATION.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

DOUGLAS (Ariz.) Aug. 20.—Last night formally was dedicated the new $40,000 home of Douglas Lodge of Elks, No. 968. About 500 members of the order, including many visiting National Guardsmen, participated in a parade and in the inaugural ceremonies, which were led by Joe V. Prochaska of Miami, Deputy District Exalted Ruler. The new building is a handsome one, equipped within as a club for the members, as well as providing a lodgeroom that also is a ballroom. The old lodge quarters have been leased for the use of the Young Men's Hebrew Association, an organization especially for the benefit of National Guardsmen.

A contractor's agent is on the ground, to start work on the new Douglas Federal building. The contract has a time limit of fourteen months. An appropriation of $100,000 has been made for the structure, which especially will house the postoffice and customhouse.

On demurrer, Judge Lockwood at Tombstone has quashed the application for an injunction against the payment of several thousand dollars to a Los Angeles detective agency that secured most of the testimony for the many bootlegging cases at this term of court. The money was paid immediately by the County Treasurer, before further dilatory measures could be taken by the petitioners, several of whom had been victims of the law.

NOMINATION PETITIONS.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Aug. 22.—This evening will be filed the last of the nomination petitions, for all offices from Senator to precinct committeemen. The Socialists have done the best job in this regard, having filed their entire State ticket at one time. The Democrats have been forehanded and most of their petitions have been in for several days. The Republican State ticket petitions generally were filed at the last moment, as the ticket was filled only in the last few days. A notably strong addition is the candidacy of J. L. Gust for the place of Attorney-General. Mr. Gust is a Phoenix attorney of high standing and is at the head of the local Republican club. For Tax Commissioner an active campaign has been started by George W. Smalley, City Auditor of Tucson, who is making direct talks in favor of the budget system for the State government. In his appeal for economy he has been joined by Doane Merrill, a Benson banker, who will make the race for State Auditor. Each made his maiden campaign speech last night at a meeting of the Phoenix Republican Club. The last Republican to declare himself is Judge Otis J. Baughn, now on the Superior bench in Pinal county, who aspires to a place on the State Supreme bench.

The usual summer shower came during the game. The players, hardened to rain by Wednesday's downfall, played on fearlessly.

A popular suggestion was made by somebody that a collection be taken up to have Risberg's pants laundered. A committee will be organized today to handle the contributions. At first no attention was going to be paid to this. But the fear was expressed yesterday that if they were allowed to become dirtier they could not be seen at all and that Risberg would be arrested by the purity squad.

COULON-CHICO TO BOX TONIGHT

Unless Authorities Interfere with Bout.

George Thompson Named for Emergency.

Other Bouts on Programme Look Good.

Johnny Coulon will box an exhibition against Battling Chico at the Venice Auditorium tonight, unless the authorities interfere. Should Dick Donald's silvery tongue fail to convince Judge Rennie that the bout is "within the law," George Thompson of San Diego will be substituted for Coulon.

INTERRUPTED.

Just when everything was nicely arranged for the exhibition bout, Dist.-Atty. Woolwine yesterday afternoon notified Judge Rennie of Venice that the understood a prize fight was to be held between two recognized professionals and asked Judge Rennie to investigate.

Should the bout be held, and promoters Donald and Aldrich say that it will, it should be one of the niftiest exhibitions of boxing ever seen in Southern California. Coulon is one of the cleverest men who ever stepped into a padded arena and Chico is noted for his boring-in-tactics.

ALSO GOOD.

Should George Thompson be substituted the bout will be just about as good, as he has boxed Chico several times with honors more or less even, and Chico believes that he will be able to settle matters for good this time.

Johnny Oliver and Tony Ross, two fighting Mexicans, are on the programme to fight in the semi-windup for the third successive time. The last two bouts between these two sluggers have been wonderfully interesting and this third should be even better.

THE OTHERS.

The other bouts on the programme are also above the ordinary. Jimmy Brown will meet Frank DeMott, Leo Lee will meet Dewey Thompson, Jimmy Hill boxes Billy Moore and Battling Frankie will waltz with Rufus Simons.

ZIMMERMAN ON BLOCK.

CHICAGO, August 24.—A deal whereby Third Baseman Smith, Utility Player Fitzpatrick, Pitcher Barnes and Outfielder Wilhoit will be traded by the Boston National League club to the Chicago Nationals for the hard-hitting third baseman, Heinie Zimmerman, will be consummated here late today, it was said this afternoon.

HUNTER WINS TWO MATCHES.

[DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LAKE GENEVA (Wis.) Aug. 24.—Robert E. Hunter of Los Angeles engaged in the feature match in the main flight of the invitation tournament here today. Hunter, who tied for low qualifying score, defeated J. Ried, Jr., of Racine by an up in twenty-two holes. He had a less strenuous time in the afternoon and won from A. J. Rehm of Glenview by 2 up and 1 to play.

The contest between Hunter and Reid was one of the most interesting ever staged over the Lake Geneva course, and victory only came to the tall Californian when he was able to hole a fair-sized putt on the twenty-second green. Rehm held a lead of 1 up on Hunter at the end of the first nine holes of their match, but the latter displayed real championship form by winning the next two holes. The contest was all squared, however, on the twelfth, which went to Rehm, 4-5. After halving the fourteenth in fours, Hunter took the lead by winning the next hole in 5-6. As the remaining holes were halved, Hunter earned his way into the thirty-six-hole semi-finals tomorrow.

Little old man Coulon,

Scheduled to box an exhibition against Battling Chico at Venice tonight. Promoters Donald and Aldridge must appear before Judge Rennie at Venice this morning to explain the bout. If they do so to the satisfaction of the judge, Coulon and Chico will box, otherwise George Thompson of San Diego will go against Chico in place of Coulon.

All Through.

KAHANAMOKU TO QUIT A.A.U.

Hawaiian Fish to Instruct in Swimming.

But Wants to Get Records in All Races.

Expects to Beat Langer in the Distances.

Duke Kahanamoku will turn professional after September 4, Vance Veith received a letter yesterday from Honolulu containing this information.

NEAT OFFERS.

The famous Hawaiian swimmer has received tempting offers both from vaudeville circuits and from motion-picture studios. His present plan is to take a whirl on a vaudeville circuit and then go into pictures for a short while.

After that he will teach swimming. At present his plan is to conduct a school for tourists in swimming and surf board riding at the islands. It is also understood that several offers have been made him by eastern athletic clubs. As the past master of the crawl, he is in great demand.

A CLEAN-UP.

The reason for the Duke's waiting until after Labor Day before leaving the amateur ranks is that he wants to make a general clean-up and end his career with a brilliant, record-breaking victory.

All of the great swimmers have been invited to the Islande to compete against him. The islanders have generously offered to defray all their expenses. The only swimmer who beat the Duke to turn his back on the trip is Perry McGillivery.

All the others have accepted. Among them are Herbert Vollmer, who defeated the Duke in the 220; Cann, who eliminated the Duke in the 220 and beat him in the 500-yard swim, and Ludy Langer, the greatest middle-distance swimmer that the United States has ever produced.

WORKING HARD.

The Duke has been training for this carnival for the last two months. Cuhna, the other brilliant Hawaiian swimmer, has been in the water with him continually.

The A.A.U. has given the official 100-yard straightaway championship to Hawaii. This was to give the Duke a chance to come back.

But now it seems that Kahanamoku is more ambitious. He wants to defeat everybody and take Langer's title as well as Vollmer's and Cann's.

ADDED EVENT.

First the 220 yards was added as a special event. This was to give the Duke a chance against Vollmer. Quite casually it was announced a few weeks later that the 500 yards and the 440 would be added. A little later came another announcement saying the half and mile races had been added to the water programme.

Instead of these races being all on one day, they are being stretched over a week. There is only one reason. This gives the Duke a chance to enter all of them.

That the Duke is desirous of beating Langer is further borne out by this paragraph in the letter to Veith:

A WARNING.

"Langer certainly made a brilliant showing on his eastern invasion, but he better watch the Duke when he comes here. The Duke means to beat him. Every afternoon Cuhna and he swim out to blue water. They go so far that they are merely specks on the water. They must swim at least two miles. Kahanamoku, like Daniels, wants to hold every championship from the fifty yards to the mile before he quits, only he wants world's records in place of merely American."

PRACTICE STARTED.

DAVIS COACH FOR LINCOLN.

Tommy Davis, former U.S.C. athlete, has been appointed athletic coach at Lincoln High School. Foley, who has been coach at Lincoln since its first year, will teach science.

Davis was captain of the first U.S.C. team to play American football when the Trojans returned from Rugby to the old game. He made an efficient captain. Davis has also been a track, basketball and baseball man in his day. He is thoroughly competent. Before entering U.S.C. he attended Long Beach High School. Davis has been interested in playground work for the last year and helped Foley coach football last fall. The new Lincoln coach ought to get on with the boys out for the various teams. He has always been popular.

The passing of Foley out of athletics will be regretted by many. Foley nursed the Lincoln teams from nothing until they were able to give a good account of themselves in any league. His fight was an uphill one. He always stood for true sportsmanship and would sooner lose and be right than win by any fluke. His teams were actuated by the same spirit.

Tennis.

ROBERTS IN SEMI-FINALS.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SOUTHAMPTON (N. Y.) Aug. 24.—Four individuals and three pairs emerged as victors at the close of play in the Meadow Club tennis tournament here, to play in the semi-finals tomorrow. Contestants for the singles cup will be Watson M. Washburn, William J. Clothier, Roland Roberts and Joseph J. Armstrong.

The winning teams are William M. Johnston and Clarence J. Griffin, Theodore R. Pell and Joseph J. Armstrong, and R. Norris Williams II and Richard Harte.

The feature contest in doubles was between Johnston and Griffin and William A. Larned and William J. Clothier, formerly holders of the national title. The younger men from California won, 6-4, 6-4. Larned and Clothier played valiantly, but the pace was too fast. Williams defaulted in his singles match against Washburn because of a sprained ankle.

SUMMARY.

LOOKING OVER THE EASTERN TENNIS HEROES.

BY GREAYER CLOVER.

WHEN McLoughlin and Dawson dropped the first four games of their match with Church and Davis, the I-told-you-so league had their only chance. Before the match started the eastern players were the favorites because of their brilliant showing in other big tournaments. However, they reckoned without the red-headed comet, whom many predicted to be "through" because of his defeat last year. His playing against Church and Davis was of the highest standard and shows that he will cause much worry before he is downed.

The first four games of the first set were filled with flashing rallies and speedy drives by the eastern players. Church at the net and Davis in the back court played a brilliant game. After losing four straight games McLoughlin won his service, only to lose the next game to Church on his terrific service. At this point the Coast players staged a come-back and by controlling their volleys they brought the score to 5-4. Church and Davis won the next game, taking the set at 6-4.

Very Unsteady.

The first few games were lost through the unsteady playing of McLoughlin and Dawson. Dawson was especially erratic, driving many of his shots either into the net or out of bounds. Dawson was the target for most of the shots as the eastern players preferred to take a chance with him instead of McLoughlin. While in the backcourt he was weak and forced to lob, but when he got to the net he played with deadly effectiveness.

In the second set it was a case as to who was the steadier, there being no choice as to brilliance. In the first few games of the second set the eastern players held a slight lead, but Davis began to crack under the strain and netted many balls. After this the McLoughlin-Dawson team began to show their superiority, taking the set at 7-5.

The third set was a continual battle for the net position, with the Coast team having the advantage. Their teamwork was excellent and enabled them to go into the lead by taking the set 7-5.

In the fourth set all of the breaks were with the Coast players and they had little difficulty winning the set at 6-2. This concluded the match and gives McLoughlin and Dawson the right to challenge Johnson and Griffin for the national doubles championship, to be played at Forest Hill next Monday.

Maury's Form.

McLoughlin's game is too well known to be described again. Suffice it to say that he favors the net when he can get up for a kill. He is also a good backcourt player, as his drive is too hard and accurate to allow his opponent to get up to the net successfully. On his backhand stroke he uses a chop or cut shot in an endeavor to draw his opponent out of position and give the other strokes a chance. McLoughlin is an aggressive player, that is to say, his drive, his overhead and his volley are all ready to ace the point. He does not wait for his opponent to miss a shot, he jumps and makes it himself.

Dawson is more of a defensive player than any of the others. His volley is really his only aggressive shot. When caught in the backcourt he volleys in an attempt to get to the net to make the points. His backhand is very steady, but his forehand stroke is erratic. When at the net Dawson is a hard man to pass, as he volleys so well. As a doubles partner for McLaughlin he is very good, as he knows his weakness in the backcourt and always trys to get to the net.

Overhead Church.

Church has a number of strokes at his command and knows when to drive and when not to. Following in after his swift service, Church comes to the net and cuts off the return with a snappy volley. His backhand is a defensive shot, but his forehand drive is a powerful stroke and very accurate. Overhead Church is a wonder, he hits from all parts of the court and places his return for the hole every time.

Willis Davis.

Willis Davis is the latest sensation of the East. He hails from San Francisco, and like all the players of the bay section, he has a terrific drive. Both his forehand and backhand strokes are drives. He takes a full arm swing and makes almost a complete circle with every shot. Davis rarely tries to force the play at the net, as he is confident of his backcourt drive from keeping his opponent away from the net. Overhead he bounces the ball, hitting it with a flat racquet. He could not do this holding his racquet flat if he were not so tall. He drives his overhead stroke with terrific force, taking great pleasure in bouncing the ball over the fence.

Church Erratic.

George M. Church successfully defended his title as western champion by defeating Heath Byford, the winner of the tournament. The challenge round went to Church by scores of 6-4, 6-0, 6-1. The champion was much too fast on his feet and too sure of his volleys for the careful Byford.

Church played very erratic tennis in the first set and drove many balls either into the net or out of bounds. After he got to going, Heath never had a chance. On overhead strokes he is second only to McLaughlin and smashed many times for aces. When caught out of position Byford lobs, but every one of his lobs resulted in easy kills for Church. Byford played a very steady game, but his defensive style of play was no match for the aggressive Church. Church has a very swift service and Byford had much trouble in handling it before the net was covered. In killing a lob he does not hit the ball straight, but puts a twist on it as on a service ball, which makes it bounce high. McLaughlin hits the ball with great force and makes it skid along very low. Church hits the ball with almost as much force, but the ball bounces out of reach. This is the second time Church has won the western title.

Byford's Style.

In the final round of the open singles Byford defeated Jerry Webber of the Yale tennis team. Webber is a good player but is too erratic for the careful Byford. In the first set Webber had a good lead but Byford settled down and won out, 6-4. In the second set Webber played at his best and was able to nose out Byford, 10-8. Byford has a very accurate forehand drive which just skims over the net and makes a low bouncing ball and is hard to stroke. His drive is not very speedy, but is very accurate. On the service Byford cuts the ball with a vicious slice, coming down and across on the ball, and this is very effective on the turf court. For a comparison his service is very similar to that of Wynn Mace and his backhand like that of Hardeman. In stature Byford is very much like Willie Johnson, being very thin and short. If he thinks he cannot return the ball he makes no attempt to return it, as he realises that he must conserve as much of his strength as possible.

JAPANESE TENNIS STARS GUESTS AT A FINE FEED.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—Leading American tennis cracks lauded the prowess and sportsmanship of the visiting Japanese tennis players, Ichiya Kumagae and Hasihshiro Mikami, at a luncheon given by the Japanese society in their honor today.

Mikami, replying, said that friendly athletic rivalry between nations went far toward maintaining friendly relations.

Kumagae, whose defeat of William M. Johnston, the national champion, at Newport last week was the sensation of the season, will be a contender at the national championship tournament, to open next week at Forest Hills.

Shortstop and manager of the Chicago Cubs—won the Federal League pennant for the Chi-Feds in 1915. A brainy ball player and a clever manager.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—Roth's work in the second game featured the double-header in which Cleveland broke even with Philadelphia today. In the first game Speaker was spiked on the left hand, sliding into third base. His place was taken by Roth, who in the second contest, made three hits, which included two home runs and a single, scored three runs, drove in another tally and once stole home. The scores:

FIGHTERS WORK.

COLORADO SPRINGS (Colo.) Aug. 24.—With work being pushed rapidly on the big open-air arena, and the principals in their stride of hard training, prospects today were that everything would be in readiness early next week for the twenty-round championship battle between Freddie Welsh and Charley White Labor Day. Both boys plan to increase their boxing in preparation for the long, gruelling struggle for the title. Yesterday each did five fast rounds with a relay of sparring partners after the usual gymnasium workout.

JONES PROTESTS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Manager Griffith of the Washington club today was notified that Manager Jones has wired President Phil Ball of the St. Louis American League to protest the second game with Washington yesterday, in which St. Louis was beaten 4 to 2. The grounds given are that it was late, dark and that the umpires knew nine innings could not be played. Manager Jones protested to the umpires before the game, but they ruled it should be played.

Continued Delay in Washington Labor Conferences Takes Further Inroads upon Recent Gains, with Copper Alone Manifesting General Improvement—Bond Market is Irregular.

YORK, Aug. 24. — Professional traders became restive today at the continued delay in the railway labor conferences, and nothing was made further inroads upon recent gains, although most of the losses were nominal. Trading was far below the huge totals of the past week, and was characterized by a succession of moderate advances and declines. Coppers alone showed general improvement, the rest, with nine shares, registering gains of 1 to 2 points, with a fresh record for Inspiration, at 70, sugars and a few other specialities which gave their followers from pools or cliques, showed irregular advances, some of which were effaced in the final hour. Only a group were heavy when the market closed. Reading, St. Paul, Central, Norfolk and Western, Baltimore and Ohio yielded 1 point, with material recoveries in their severings. Marines declined further liquidation to the account of rumors of a forthcoming reduction of freight rates. Steel and minor industrials fluctuated within narrow limits. There was no time coming within range of the record, established on the day before, and closing at 97⅜, a net gain of less. Munitions and specialties were irregular, the greatest were irregularly small offerings, and prices were far less prominent than the little speculative interest displayed. Bonds were irregular. States of Panama 5s declined 1 per cent, and U. S. 2s, on call, advanced ¾ per cent. on

FIRM TRADING ON LOCAL EXCHANGE.

OIL AND MINING SHARES ARE ACTIVE.

Associated Oil Declines—Union Securities Continue to Show Strength—Big Jim in Demand. Carter Attracts Attention—Increased Inquiry for Investment.

Oil and mining shares monopolized the trading on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday. Prices were generally firm, although there were a few specialties which softened somewhat. After selling in the morning at 72.00, Associated Oil declined to 70.62½ bid, 71.25 asked at the close. Union Oil securities were very strong, the bonds advancing to 93½, and the stock being a persistent trader at 85.00. Brokers continue to report many buying orders for this stock, and in the opinion of some of them who have handled the security for a number of years, there are some new developments regarding the company lying back of the bullish market for Union stock. What these developments are no one seems to know, but the market would not show the underlying strength it has of late unless there was some reason for it. Opening firm at .92, Big Jim was active throughout the entire day, a total of 9200 shares changing hands. Closing sales at .90 shows that the stock has now reached a level where the most persistent efforts of bears and shorts have but little effect on it. Carter was exceptionally active, and over 13,000 shares were transferred at practically unchanged quotations. Ivanhoe, Gilt Edge, and Gold Range were firm, and Sun Dial advanced to .05 bid. Among the industrials Home Telephone preferred sold at the high figure of 74.50, and 20 shares of the common brought 40.00. Los Angeles Investment attracted more attention, and sales were registered offboard at .61¾.

Business Page: Citrus Fruits, Butter and Eggs—Current Trade—Local Produce Market

COMMERCIAL.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

It is estimated that the production of rice in California this season will total close to 1,100,000 bags, of which 200,000 will be of the Blue Rose variety. It will probably be two weeks before the first shipment of the new crop reaches this city, and another month after that before the price gets down to the regular working figure for the earlier part of the season. All indications point toward a beautiful supply, and rather low prices for the consumer. Carry-over of the old crop will be sufficient, it is expected, to take care of all requirements until the new crop begins to move on an extensive scale. Blue Rose will not move until the first of October, as it comes into the market much later than other varieties. The California rice crop comes on the market later than the crops in Texas and Louisiana, although this State usually beats other States in almost every other kind of crop. Of the season's production of approximately 1,100,000 bags of rice, the greater portion, or about 900,000 bags, will be Japanese sorts. This variety is not near as popular with the average consumer as Blue Rose rice, the acreage of which has increased this year to 200,000 bags, whereas in former seasons there was practically no Blue Rose to speak of grown in this State. Fresh prunes are showing an easier tendency, and both French and Italian sorts have been marked down considerably of late. Damson plums are cheap at 90 cents to $1.00 a lug, but even at that low figure they are not moving very freely. The dried bean market continues easy, and a number of jobbers have reduced their prices this week. Lentils are scarce, and for the more perfect specimens holders want $10 a hundred. The customary cut in prices was made in the potato list yesterday, and 5 cents a hundred represented the decline. Figs are cheap and growing cheaper, due to the rather plentiful supplies now on hand.

Another uneventful session was held on the Produce Exchange Thursday morning, and not a single sale was recorded. Eggs and butter remained unaltered. The receipts totaled 290 cases of eggs, 50,900 pounds of butter, 800 pounds of cheese, 1080 sacks of potatoes, 800 sacks of onions, 61 sacks of beans, 90 sacks of sweet potatoes, 4593 boxes of apples, 104 boxes of pears, and 568 boxes of peaches.

LETTERS TO "THE TIMES."

[The Times invites strong, clear, bright expression of opinion on current subjects, timely, pertinent and popular. Brevity would be kind in eight. Essays eschewed. Religious and personal controversies are taboo. Value is added to such letters if the signature of the writer's true name, which will be either published or withheld at the owner's request. Letters offered for publication should be written in temperate language, and are subject to editorial supervision.]

Rotten Policy.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 23.—[To the editor of The Times:] What sort of local spirit do city officials possess who go outside the city and buy electric power, to the detriment of the corporations which help pay our taxes? And this, in the face of a rate fixed by the city of Los Angeles as being the lowest compatible with a fair return to the corporations. One can almost see manufacturers rushing to Los Angeles to erect plants, in the face of such official loyalty! Furthermore, before the city had erected a single pole in the Garvanza district, these same city officials had contracted to take this outside power, or at least had so completely committed themselves that an additional unit was in advance added to the Pasadena plant to supply it. Is it possible that they are keeping the local rate unfairly high, through the Utilities Commission, or is the Garvanza current being furnished at a loss?

R.

Much for Little.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 21.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I read several days ago the item about "the longest bus ride in the world for a nickel." It described the jitney ride from Ninth and Hill to the Hotel Hollywood. It might be nothing more than mere justice to the Pacific Electric Railway to say that they do almost 100 per cent. better. The ride from Gardner Junction, the western city limit in Hollywood, to Sixteenth and Arlington, is not far from double the distance made by the jitney—and it's all for a nickel. I live in Hollywood and for three years have ridden on their cars over a stretch of unpaved track, east of Vermont avenue, that is an outrage on the public and a source of constant complaint, but I have never yet been able to so far forget all that the street railways have done for the city as to permit myself to ride in a jitney bus—and I don't think I shall. If outlying sections depended upon the busses for development, there would be no development. The railways pioneer into the vast uninhabited sections, and building of houses quickly follows. We owe them our best support.

Mollify the Cruelties.

SOMIS (Cal.) Aug. 16.—[To the Editor of The Times:] Your editorial in last Monday's Times on the recovery of a naked, poetical male mermaid on the beach at Santa Monica by Officer Ben Carrillo rouses one to reflection. An officer is trained to bowl a man over scientifically and to render him first aid when some one bowls him. Both are useful and essential. Why might he not be trained in some of the finer accomplishments, like the art of fine expression, imaginative address and so on? It would render sweet the acerbities, mollify the cruelties of his vocation, and absorb much of the shock of the report in print.

In the case referred to, Mr. Carrillo should have risen to the opportunity presented, taken the easy cue from the mermaid aforesaid when he ceased his poetry and replied:

Naked and unashamed are you?
Well, I am much ashamed for you.
Here get your duds on p.d.q.
You won't be plunged in hollow brine,
But come with me for you are mine,
I'll plunge you in a dungeon cell
In which there is no telephone bell.
Tomorrow morn the court will tell
You to cough up ten or go to the rock pile.
With a little art and a streak of humor it's very easy.

Mail Fraud Defendants Allege Malicious Prosecution.

Ask Three Hundred Thousand Dollars to Salve Hurts.

Mine Sale that Fell Through First Cause of Action.

Seeking a total of $310,000 in damages, on the score of alleged malicious prosecution, Mr. and Mrs. John Noble and Thomas Noble, Jr., filed three suits in the United States District Court, yesterday, against I. L. Shank of Titusville, Pa., and Thomas J. Wright of Oil City, Pa.

In October, 1915, a jury in the Federal Court at San Diego split hopelessly on the question of the guilt of Thomas Noble, Jr., John Noble, and H. Bert Walton, on a charge of using the mails to defraud Messrs. Shank and Wright and A. P. Cooley out of $31,000, in connection with the sale of what are known as the Noble mines in the Descanso mining district. Judge Edward E. Cushman of Tacoma, presided at the trial, while the government was represented by Assistant United States District Attorneys Gallaher and O'Connor.

The three suits filed yesterday are the sequel to this prosecution. One was filed in the names of John Noble and wife, alleging damages in the sum of $100,000, and the other two by Thomas Noble, Jr., and John Noble as individuals. They ask damages of the sum of $105,000 each.

In the suits it is alleged that in July, 1915, the defendants caused the plaintiffs to be indicted for a fraudulent use of the mails, and that the testimony leading up to the action of the Federal authorities was false, and that the orators have suffered much humiliation on account of the prosecution of the cases against them. A. P. Cooley was not made a party defendant because of the fact that he has died since the cases were prosecuted.

United States District Attorney Schoonover stated yesterday that the case against the Nobles and Walton will be again passed when the Federal Court convenes in San Diego, next month, and that it is his understanding that there will be no further prosecution of the parties.

One of the defendants, Walton, is an assayer. It was alleged in the indictment that the mines were worth $64,700, and that ore from the Eureka Cross location had assayed as high as $2575 a ton gold, and that the general average of value was $295.58 per ton of gold. Also, that on December 5, 1914, Shank, Cooley and Wright had paid John Noble and Thomas Noble, Jr., $31,000 in cash on account of the purchase of the Noble mines. They then found out, it is asserted, that the mines were of the "bloomer" variety, and filed a complaint against the Nobles and Walton.

WHERE PETITIONS ARE.

Places at Which Hollywood Voters can Attach Their Signatures and Hasten New Election for Water Bonds in the District.

The active co-operation of voters and water consumers in the Hollywood district to again having the proposed bond issue of $1,020,000 authorized at the polls is solicited by the Board of Public Service Commissioners, which yesterday issued a statement addressed to them.

This bond issue is for the purpose of buying the system of the Hollywood Water Company. TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF EVENTS OF YESTERDAY.

(At Home:) Realizing sales, based mainly upon the uncertainty connected with the railway labor situation, caused further variable recessions in a hesitant Wall street market, coppers alone showing a better tendency. Bonds were irregular.

(Abroad:) In London the American securities section lost a portion of Wednesday's rise in the stock market, with the exception of United States Steel issues, which held firm at dearer prices.

THE APT JAPS.

After only three weeks of wedded bliss Mrs. Yankakiesa, a Japanese bride, concluded that she had enough of it and refused her husband further admission to her bed and board. He pleaded in vain. He could not get in. Like the United States Senate, she debated Japanese exclusion behind closed doors. The Japs are apt students of American customs.

MISBEHAVIOR OF ROCKEFELLER.

A Baptist clergyman in Cleveland, O., preached from the pulpit a sermon which began with the statement, "Enoch had his trials because he had sons and daughters, as everyone has trials who is in the same situation." Whereupon Rockefeller, who was in the congregation, burst into a roar of laughter which astonished everybody and disconcerted the preacher. That was very unseemly conduct on the part of Jawn D.; but he probably was thinking of the trials that children have with father—who may insist on using a toothpick. Oh, Enoch, you don't know what trials are!

A RETURNED PRODIGAL.

A Detroit clergyman who expended $100 of his hard-earned salary as a worker in the vineyard of the Lord on a wine dinner for a lady who drank five bottles of champagne without batting an eye and who afterwards ejected him from her room when she found that his money was gone—this outcast wandered the streets of the city of the straits depending on pickings from garbage cans for his meals. He was discovered by one of his deacons who extended the hand of brotherhood and dragged him from disgrace back to the pulpit he had forsaken. "I do not think I shall preach again until September," said he. "But I shall put into the sermons I preach all my views and philosophies of life."

Won't his sermons be interesting? Huh!

NOT A NATIVE.

Senator Sherman not without reason named Samuel Gompers the other day "the great American skunk." No! Generally the term will strike the casual observer as quite satisfactory. Yet Samuel Gompers is not "great" even when emulating an animal chiefly famous for its objectionable odor. The skunk at least has a pleasing exterior and a valuable pelt. And nothing in heaven, in hell or on earth can ever make the cockney anarchist into an American. He is thoroughly un-American by birth, by instinct, by training, in his words, his acts, his intellect, his morals, his soul—if he has one;—from the crown of his head where his brains ought to be to the shoes on his feet he is hopelessly, eternally and to the minutest detail un-American.

WISE WOODROW.

President Wilson may have a shrewd suspicion that he was nominated for President by the St. Louis convention, but he will not know it officially until September 3, when Senator Ollie James of Kentucky will break the tidings to him by the sad sea wave at Long Branch, N. J. The President has announced his decision not to "take the stump" in this campaign. Only on special occasions and with some special purpose in view and on special invitation will he deliver addresses. He does not wish to furnish the Republican press of the country with opportunities to make caustic comments on the difference between the popular receptions accorded by the people to his Republican opponent and himself. He is a wise guy, is Woodrow W.,—in some particulars.

THE MIGHTY ATOM.

Medical science has lost a shining light in the taking off of Dr. Powell, the man who in his own person proved that a human body can be rendered immune to the malignant germs and bacilli that have multiplied in our midst as civilization has grown more complex. Whether every human body, by following the abstinence of the famous "germ eater," can be rendered similarly immune is still an open question, for it is doubtful if even for this privilege the majority would care to follow the late doctor's health regime.

For when all is said and done, however carefully we live and however generally we deny ourselves the pleasures of the table, the mighty atom of dissolution gets us all at last. Though we render our bodies germ-proof we can't save them from final corruption. But we can expect the greater miracle, calmly awaiting the hour when this mortal shall put on immortality. Were this not so, there would be melancholy force in the lines of Edgar Allan Poe:

"The play is the tragedy 'Man'
And the hero and conqueror worm."

THE PEOPLE TO PAY THE FREIGHT.

As the haze which obscured during the first days the controversy between the railroads and the trainmen's unions over an eight-hour day at ten-hour pay begins to lift it becomes startlingly apparent that the real question at issue is whether the producers and consumers of the country at large are willing to stand the additional expense of $50,000,000 yearly in transportation charges.

In their last memorial to President Wilson the heads of the railroads have made their position clear; they will pay that extra fifty million to the trainmen on condition that the Interstate Commerce Commission will grant them a corresponding increase in freight and passenger rates. This is now the crux of the controversy.

When President Wilson orders the railroads to pay this additional sum, without granting to them the means to produce it, he is renewing in the twentieth century that edict of an Egyptian Pharaoh, "bricks without straw." For the railroads are not producers; they have no fund of their own; their money must come either from investors or in the form of transportation payments. The rates which they may charge are fixed by the Interstate Commerce Commission and are based on payment for a ten-hour day. That these rates are not excessive is proved by the fact that so many roads are now in the hands of receivers. The plight of the Western Pacific Company in our own State is an illuminating example. That line alone has swallowed up forty millions of dollars in six years under existing rates; State taxes and interstate rates combined to make profitable operation impossible. Yet the voices that are now crying most vociferously for higher wages and shorter hours for the trainmen will cry even more loudly against any increase in transportation rates to meet the increased cost of operation.

This is the phase of the controversy in which the general public is deeply interested. A referendum has been taken by the trainmen's unions and the union employees have voted for short hours and long pay; why not a similar referendum vote by shippers and producers as to whether they are willing to pay increased rates that approximate $50,000,000 for the first year and a yearly increase as the production of the country increases?

President Wilson's attitude of increased pay first and arbitration concerning rates afterwards may win him some votes in unionite districts; but it will not increase his prestige in the eyes of the nation at large. He has taken the attitude of a judge who decides a case first and says that he will listen to the argument later. Compulsion for the demands of the walking delegates and arbitration for the counter demands of the railroads is a new and not attractive form of arbitrament in industrial disputes. The President favors arbitration between the railroads and the public over transportation rates, but nothing short of unconditional surrender to the labor unions. The American public has a right to expect at the hands of its Chief Executive better things.

Railroad managers are told that they must yield to the edicts of the union bosses or government ownership will follow; this is the alternative offered by the Socialistic supporters of the President and his policies. But the present controversy furnishes excellent indications that the result of government ownership would be a still further advance in wages. Politicians are always swayed by an organized minority; and there is not an instance on record wherein government ownership of railways has resulted in lower transportation rates, while there are scores of cases in which the rates have been increased. Nepotism and pork are two blotches on the face of our free government at the present time; to increase the patronage of the Federal government is to increase the opportunities for extravagance and graft.

FOR MERIT AND FITNESS.

Mr. Hughes, in his whirlwind campaign from ocean to ocean, has brought home many facts to his thousands of hearers as to what this country needs and wherein it is deficient. He has taken up and treated many grave issues, but none more important to the welfare of the nation than that of a better national service. It is high time that the old system of rewarding political supporters with offices demanding specialized knowledge was replaced with a new system where the order of merit is the only one recognized.

Mr. Hughes has drawn an interesting parallel between the efficient organization of the European governments that has enabled them to keep in motion the most tremendous war machines the world has ever known and our own inefficiency in not being able to secure our southern border line against the sporadic raids of semi-civilized bandits. For this the absence of a strict merit system in filling government appointments is mainly responsible. And political favoritism has never been carried to such paralyzing extremes as under the present Democratic administration.

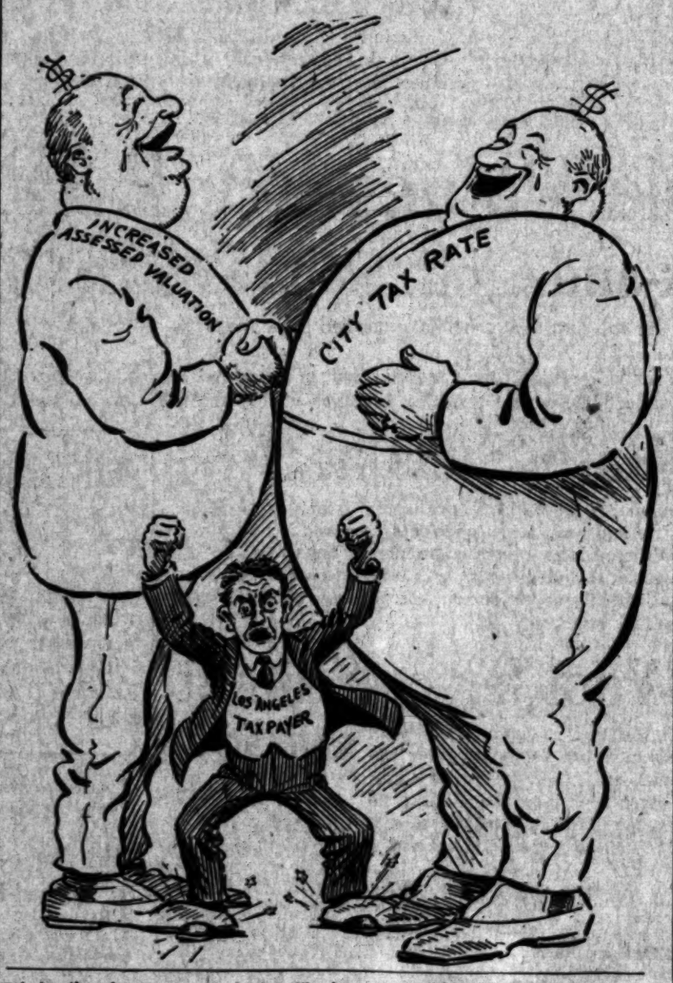
We shall soon be pitted commercially against the fierce competition of these highly-organized foreign powers—since the war is hardly likely to last for the next four years—and we cannot meet that competition by the slipshod methods that have been popularized in Washington under an unbusinesslike President ruled by sentiment and theory and swayed by a desire to pacify, not the world, but his own political supporters.

We have the money to purchase the best service procurable in every responsible office, and we have the best service possible at the command of any sufficient salary; but unless we connect up these two sources of national supply we shall not be able to hold our own against countries poorer in both respects who, however, always fit the square man into the square hole. Through the exigencies of war these countries have established the most thorough organization in history and will certainly utilize this organization in the next fight for the world's commerce.

In a government, as in a private business, the merit system alone must be the rule for management. We shall not obtain this if we continue Woodrow Wilson in office. His record is convincingly against him. He has set an opposite precedent for himself and all Democratic office-seekers will see that he holds to it. It's what they've been used to.

We have, however, a leader in the Republican party willing and able to establish in government affairs the system of appointments by merit and for fitness. Under his guidance the American people will get together in an earnest, businesslike determination for economy and efficiency in our affairs of state.

On Both Feet.



SOLACE FOR THE WIDOWED.

Application has been made to a New York court for permission to incorporate "The Widowers' and Widows' Pleasure Association." Two widowers and six widows appeared to support the application.

It transpired that only widows and widowers are eligible for membership and that the purpose of the association is stated to be to "enjoy ourselves and create pleasure and happiness for each other, to have pleasant gatherings every week and to assist each other financially or in any other way when necessary."

When you think of it, nothing could be more logical than mutual aid between widows and widowers. Both having experienced the joys and despairs of wedded life, nothing could be more reasonable than their mutual sympathetic consolation. Organized consolation seems to be their most crying need, for individual enterprise in the matter of consoling widows and widowers is fraught with danger for the inexperienced.

When a spinster or a bachelor undertakes to console the widowed catastrophe usually ensues. While "How to be Happy Though Married" has been regarded as the problem of the age, "how to be happy though unmarried" has been a much more serious one for those who have been deprived of the original problem. They invariably seem to find the cure worse than the complaint.

And if they elect to take a second plunge it is so much more desirable that they should select a similarly experienced person. Disconcerting reminiscences would not then be quite so one-sided. The virtues of the departed on one side would satisfactorily offset those on the other.

One foresees a career of great public usefulness for the "Widowers' and Widows' Pleasure Association," which has numerous advantages over a mere Merry Widows' Club, a Bachelors' Club, a Benedicts' Club or a Down-and-Out Club.

THE PURPOSE OF THE BLACKLIST.

Until the breaking out of the war the trade with South America was principally controlled by Germany and Great Britain, although the United States did some. When the war broke out Germany ceased to be able to do business with South America. We gained a considerable portion of the trade that Germany lost. Great Britain had the right under the law of nations to put an end, if she could, to the trade of Germany with South America. But she had no right to obstruct the trade of the United States or any neutral nation with Chile or Brazil or the Argentine. Yet this is exactly what she proposes to accomplish by the blacklist. She attempts to seize exclusively for herself the trade that Germany was compelled to relinquish. Congressman Bennet of New York cites an instance of this. He said: "There is an exporter in New York City, an American by birth and of ancient lineage, of Scotch ancestry. He is a world exporter, and a year ago he was sending large quantities of one commodity—I will call it varnish; it was not varnish, but it was as innocent a commodity as that. He was sending it to South America to various firms. One day the British Consul-General sent for him and told him, 'Mr. So-and-so, you are shipping large quantities of varnish to South America.' He said, 'I am.' He said, 'You will have to stop it,' and he stopped it."

The design of Great Britain is clearly to hold all her trade in South America and absorb that which has been forced to be vacated by Germany and prevent the United States from supplanting Germany or anybody else in the South American trade. To achieve this Great Britain made up and proclaimed the blacklist. An American citizen tried to ship goods from New York to firms on this list. "He went to the Houston line, which runs to Rosario, Montevideo and Buenos Aires, and they refused the freight. He went to the Prince line, running to Brazil and the River Plate. He went to the Lamport & Holt line, also running to Brazil and the River Plate, and they refused the freight. Then he went to the Norton line, which is an American line, running American ships to the River Plate ports. The Norton line not only runs vessels under the American flag, but under neutral flags. They declined to accept any shipments of American manufactures from an American port to those persons in South America whose only crime and offense was that the British government had put up its hand and said, 'You shall not trade with anybody without the consent of the British government.'"

The bad faith of the British government is evidenced by the fact that the blacklist is not confined to German firms. The Argentine list consists largely of Italian names.

Is it not the duty of our government not to confine its action to notes and protests and jabbering, but to say that an American firm in America has the absolute right to ship American goods to anybody in South America, and that the whole power of the national government will be behind any firm engaged in that kind of business?

By the blacklist Great Britain is seeking to exercise extraterritorial jurisdiction beyond its own jurisdiction and in the United States over activities over which the municipal authorities alone in this government have exclusive control.

BRITAIN'S MISTAKE.

At the start of the war American sympathy, in the Eastern States at least, was largely with the cause of the allies. In spite of the President's appeal for strict neutrality many eastern newspapers were frank to a fault in their expressions of opinion as to the rights and wrongs involved in the international quarrel.

No such feelings exist today. Neutrality, where it has not been transformed into active opposition, is overwhelmingly evident in quarters that were once almost openly pro-ally. And for this change in sentiment the actions of the British government are entirely responsible. England has allowed her determination to cripple Germany at any cost, whoever else suffers in the process, to blind her to the prime necessity of retaining the good opinions of the neutral nations.

She has thrown away her best cards. She has drawn to enmity instead of to friendship. Not only her own civilization, but that of the world, may be set back by the shortsighted policy of her present war ministers.

The Manchester Guardian, the most widely-read provincial paper in the British Isles, has editorially warned England in no uncertain terms as to the consequences of breeding suspicion and resentment in the United States. Tampering with our mail, blacklisting our citizens, holding up our commerce to neutral ports, tyrannous censorship of American correspondence and treating our protests with suave, superior indifference are acts that the American people cannot easily overlook or quickly forget. Nor has the ruthless reparation exacted of Ireland for her abortive rebellion failed to antagonize a large number of American citizens.

In the interest of humanity, for the future peace of the world this is much to be regretted. Britain will more readily remedy her war blunders in Gallipoli and Asia Minor than her more serious mistake in issuing "orders in council" to override established international law and to make her mastery of the seas a menace to friends as well as to foes.

After the war the nations engaged will have to settle the reckoning, not only with one another, but with humanity at large.

It is no sign that a candidate will win because he "is in the hands of his friends." Possibly they will save him for a better thing.

Paste August 20 and 21 in your hat. The next President of the United States will be in Los Angeles.

The Man of the Hour.

"Well, I suppose you saw your hairy friend?" remarked I to the Old Resident, as we met at the curb market.

"I did that," he answered, "and he was glad to see me to boot. He not only said so, but he looked the part. When a man can be stared at by fifty thousand panting and curious persons in two days and still be good-natured and hungry for more he's some scout, believe me. Some folks felt of him and prodded him as if he were a tough piece of sirloin, and a few hundred wild men and women shot him all up with kodaks and flashlights, but he came right back at them and every picture registers the grin of a happy and big-hearted man. The parties who had our Charlie doped out as a cold-storage proposition were crazy. They said that going to the polls for him would be a real polar expedition. They made out that he was the regular human icicle. On election day they figured on hanging out the ice card—'Ice Today'—and maybe they'd get it. But, shucks! They didn't know what they were talking about. He's the warmest baby of the bunch and he has Glad-Hand Bill looking like the shadow of an icehouse. I'm going to let my whiskers grow and if somebody says I look like Charlie I'll be tickled to death.

"Did you ask him for a job?" queried I. "I heard you wanted to be postmaster?"

"Not guilty," snorted the old man. "And you know I couldn't get it, either. This man Hughes isn't going to give jobs to people merely because they voted the ticket or ran with the machine. He doesn't owe anything to anybody, unless it is Frank Hitchcock, and he was nominated because the people and not the politicians wanted it that way. We know him enough now to be wise to the fact that when he gets to appointing postmasters and the like he'll dig out some competent business man with executive force instead of an old stiff like me that can't lick a postage stamp without wetting my whistle. What he says about the men in the diplomatic service will go all along the line. He'll not give men jobs because they can show a union card or because they rode all the way to the polls in a hack to vote for him. In the first place they've got to be ripe and fit for the job. After that the other things can take care of themselves. There are greater spellbinders, chloroformers and word-painters than our Charlie, but any man can understand what he says and believe that he means what he says. That's got mere oratory skinned a thousand miles. The old boy grows on you. The more the people see and hear of him the more they respect and esteem him. Of course he has to criticise and dispute with the opposition. That is what his party is here for; but there are no private animosities or personal bitternesses in the campaign. There are no cuss words running wild this season even if both candidates are preachers' sons."

The Blind Tiger.

Big game hunters spend much time in quest of the sightless Bengal. This wild creature is not protected by the law. There is no closed season and it may be pursued at any time—night or day. The blind tiger is the last of the man-eaters to linger in this otherwise serene Southland. What makes the species blind has been a matter for much conjecture. Some foolish persons attribute it to the raise of the son whilst others say that, as the beast gets its prey by touch, sight is unnecessary. The fact is that the animal is not as sightless as it seems. It is merely a blind, as it were.

But whether eyeless or not, this massive wild cat is a bad actor, and game hunters on his trail declare that the chase is the one big sport left to a dull and virtuous citizenry.

His lair is found in the most unusual and unexpected places. Sometimes he will find his way into the heart of the great city, where he will pursue his prey under cover of the night. In dark corners and strange byways he lurks, and shrewd hunters tempt him from his retreat by making a noise like a blue chip.

A famous hunter of big game who was registered at the Alexandria says that the eyeless Bengal is becoming quite a rarity. He likes the city as, being a man-eater, his fodder is more plentiful in the town. But the men folk have pretty much shot him to pieces and he is either so scary as to be almost undiscoverable or so subdued as to eat out of the human hand. In the one case the chase is almost hopeless and in the other almost uninteresting.

At one time he ranged almost uninterruptedly from Broadway, New York, to Broadway, Los Angeles, but now a man may walk down either thoroughfare with a fifty-dollar bill in his hat band without flushing the animal.

Sports say the hunting of game is terribly dead. They won't even grant a license to shoot craps. You have to use a bow and arrow.

An order has been issued barring bare-legged women from the beach at Atlantic City next season. The order is a sensible one. If there is nothing to prevent a woman from showing the knots on her knees the law ought to interfere.

The emergency revenue bill now before the Senate calls for the expenditure of $205,000,000. Why not raise it all, or the major part, by the enactment of a protective tariff law?

WE MUST RESTORE THE FARMER TO THE BALANCE OF POWER.

[CONTRIBUTED TO THE TIMES.]

BY DAVID LUBIN,

American Delegate to the International Institute of Agriculture; Author of "Let There be Light."

THIS summer and this month should bring the inauguration of an experiment in marketing directly from producer to consumer, through the agency of the parcel post, that is of supreme importance to practically all the one hundred millions who constitute the population of the continental United States.

The parcel post was adopted for the purpose of reducing the cost of living. There was to be direct dealing between the farmer and the consumer. This was to bring a higher price to the producer and afford a lower price to the consumer. It was pointed out that the parcel post does all this in the European countries and that it would also do it here.

But has it? No; it has not.

Why not? Because it required a system under which it could be rendered effectively operative. No such system is in operation in the United States. As a result our parcel post is a failure.

For the express purposes of holding further demonstrations of this plan Congress passed an amendment to the Postoffice Appropriation Bill. For those purposes, too, the administration at Washington undertook to clear the way through the postoffice, facilitating action for completion of the experiment in order that, upon its conclusion and upon report of results, measures could be taken for inauguration of the system on a more general scale.

The plan, in a word, realizes practically the original hope—thus far disappointed—that the parcel post would give to the consumer in the city vegetables, fruits and various meat products which would be really fresh at prices less than he is accustomed to pay, yet sufficiently high to make the transactions profitable to the producer on the farm, to pay him adequate returns upon his output and to render him, as well as his city customer, independent of the destructive factors of chance and the middleman.

The demonstration was to be a strictly typical, although a very severe, test. But it is of moment now only as being the promise of extensions in the future that are vital to the well being of the nation. Conditions apply here that are as grave as were those prevailing in Germany at the time when the fabric of German society was menaced by the teachings of Karl Marx and Ferdinand Lascelles—as grave, indeed, as those of Rome when the proud title of Roman was on the eve of its debasement under the corrupting system of grafting consuls, predaceous contractors, depraving patrons and the free circus plus free bread. The same dangers lie in wait for every people, in every age.

Those dangers are dual. They may be summed up in the forces of progress and conservatism, which are always and inevitably at war, which are potentially destructive as either secures undivided control of the State, which are both good and constructive only when each balances perfectly the energy of the other. Conservatism, embodied in a dispersed, unco-operative, rural population, stagnates a people into apathy and helplessness. The progress that goes with greatly centralized ownership of land, or with urban populations overwhelmingly preponderant, tends to self-destruction by its very impetus, rushing onward untrammeled, uncontrolled.

Germany discerned the danger and achieved the safeguard throughout the kingdoms of the empire by the establishment in security of small land holders, perhaps the most numerous class in the world. I quote from the London Times of August 2, 1913: "Farms worked by their owners: Great Britain, 10.87 per cent.; France, 60 per cent.; United States, 64 per cent.; Germany, 86.1 per cent." Those small land owners became the check upon the destructive factors that had gained too great an impetus.

Germany emancipated its farmers at a blow by the establishment of its Landwirtschaftsrath. In every section the farmers are organized into local associations, or granges, which are in turn affiliated with bodies more centralized and compact, all carrying to its logical end a system providing common protection, assembly and distribution of market information, and ultimately efficient salesmanship, through which every farmer is enabled to dispose of his products promptly, safely and for the highest market price obtainable at the time best suiting his resources for sale. Germany has fought its titanic war for two years from the immovable base provided by that tremendous organization. It is Germany's Gibraltar.

HAPPY THOUGHT.

Just think of it—September's near us! The summer days, that badly queer us, will soon be past and gone; we'll look outdoors some luscious morning and see a film of frost adorning the orchard and the lawn. September's coming, bless her gizzard, and later on come snow and blizzard, down from the arctic pole; and you and I, oh, gentle neighbor, will have to buckle down and labor, to raise the price of coal. Let winter come, with roar and rumble! It seems to me I'll never grumble again at winter blast; it seems to me I'll hail with gladness Old Boreas, whose maudlin madness has bored me in the past. The cold will be a welcome comer, for I have had my fill of summer, and dust and heat and flies, of torrid nights and scorching breezes, and prickly heat and punk diseases, and ants and brazen skies. September's coming, gentle reader, the heat, that long has been a leader, will soon be on the wing, so let all sad and baking mortals cheer up, and fill the air with chortles, and smile and dance and sing. INSPECTION TRIP IN SEQUOIA PARK.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
VISALIA, Aug. 24.—Stephen T. Mather, Assistant Secretary of the Interior, with a party of government and railroad officials, who have just made an inspection trip through the Sequoia National Park, will be guests of Tulare county Saturday night in this city at a banquet, at which citizens of all parts of the county will be present.

With Mr. Mather are R. B. Marshal, superintendent of national parks; R. S. Yard, special writer for the Interior Department; E. O. McCormick, vice-president of the Southern Pacific Company; W. F. McClure, California State Engineer; Edwin Curtiss, special photographer for the Interior Department, and George Davis.

The party made the trip through the Sequoia National Park as the preliminary to enlarging the park by adding to it thirty-two townships and planning an extensive government road system. Under the proposals which have been made, and which have been unofficially indorsed by Mr. Mather, the Sequoia Park will become a rival of the Yellowstone and the Yosemite.

RECALL PETITION IS INSUFFICIENT.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
EL CENTRO, Aug. 24.—Secretary John C. Graham, of Imperial Irrigation District, reported to the board of directors today that only sixty-seven names among more than 200, signed to a petition asking for an election to recall President Walter O. Hamilton, answer the requirements of law.

To demand a special recall election, 180 names of taxpayers in the irrigation district are required. Many of the signers' names were disqualified for technical errors.

It is expected that the Board of Directors at its next meeting on September 1, will refuse to call a special election because of the insufficiency of the petition. This is the second attempt made within a year to recall President Hamilton, the first election resulting in Mr. Hamilton's favor.

W. J. Bohan, who took over the management of the road in July following its purchase, recognized the importance of facilitating travel and freightage between the two towns. It is believed that by this and other improvements, such as new cars, surfacing, reballasting and relining the tracks, the company will be saved the amount estimated.

Besides doing away with the necessity for transfer, the broad-gauging of the road will reduce the time between Glendale and Eagle Rock from twenty-three to fifteen minutes, and half-hour car service will be started.

Upon completing this work the company is planning to extend its Montrose line from the present terminus at La Crescenta to Sunland. The company now operates an auto bus from La Crescenta to outlying points, but negotiations are under way to acquire free rights of way for a track, and as soon as these are procured the line will be built.

The cost of the improvements which are now being made on the road from Glendale to Eagle Rock will total over $100,000.

WHO'S RUNNING GLENDALE CITY?

Not the Elks nor Any Person it Seems Agreed.

Warm Dialogue in Meeting of W.C.T.U. and Council.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
GLENDALE, Aug. 24.—"I want the Council to understand that the Elks shall not run this city," cried Mrs. Hattie Gaylor, president of the Glendale W.C.T.U., at the Council meeting tonight.

"Madam," retorted Councilman F. L. Muhleman, "and I want it understood that neither the Elks nor any person is going to run the city of Glendale."

The spicy dialogue came as a climax after a vigorous protest made by members of the Glendale and West Glendale W.C.T.U. organizations against the alleged violations of the local ordinance prohibiting the sale of liquor within the city limits.

Mrs. Gaylor charged the Elks with serving alcoholic beverages in their home and to their guests.

"Glendale has been advertised as a clean, law-abiding city, and it is hurting the reputation of the town for a local organization to defy the laws of its own community," Mrs. Gaylor said. "We demand that prompt action be taken on the matter, and that the violations cease at once."

DOUBTFUL ISSUE.

City Attorney Evans, while admitting that such aNeged evasions of the ordinance in its strictest sense might have occurred, advised the committee that, the decisions of various courts under similar circumstances permit such acts. He cited cases where intoxicants were made by delivery from wet States into dry territory. He reviewed other cases where clubs had been placed under the category of families and as such were exempt.

"The matter resolves itself," said City Attorney Evans, "into the question of whether or not the ordinance can be enforced. I have examined the finding of the juries in cases similar to this and there is a doubt whether the infraction would be designated as such."

"The Council could have found out about it long ago, if they had wanted to," commented Mrs. Gaylor.

The petition was referred to a committee to take action upon it next Thursday night after the case could be thoroughly investigated by the City Attorney.

"It is all news to me," said R. D. Clements, secretary of the Elks' Lodge. "I am certain that no liquor has been sold or served here. We have no wish to oppose any ordinance. I cannot imagine where such a rumor started. Someone has been misinformed."

CONDEMNATION.

City Attorney Evans was instructed today by the Superior Court to start condemnation proceedings which will be the largest in the history of Glendale, for the widening and improvement of the Sycamore Canyon road. The area involved will reach from Verdugo Road and First street past the Broadway school, through the city limits, a distance of about two and one-half miles.

The improvements have been designed to further economy and convenience, and will care for the storm water from Sycamore Canyon, make a boulevard from Glendale to Tropico, and furnish a loop for the Pacific Electric line south of the Broadway school.

One hundred and thirteen defendants will appear in the proceedings. The cost of the opening and widening of the streets will be $5000 to $6000, and the improvements will treble that amount.

FALSE ALARM.

The fire department of Glendale and those of adjacent towns rushed to the scene of what appeared to be a terrific blaze last night, only to find on their arrival that the conflagration was one made to order by the Kalem picture company in staging an episode from the "Girl from Frisco."

OXNARD, Aug. 24.—Sight of his bloody clothing, found by local police officers in a barn, wrung from Apolonio Valles, a young Mexican, confession of his crime of killing his paramour, Petra Ojeda, with a razor.

The woman's body, horribly gashed at the throat, was found in the Mexican quarters early in the morning, and Valles, known to have been living with her, was arrested in Santa Barbara a few hours later, but denied his guilt until confronted with the bloody clothing from which he had changed into a suit belonging to his brother. He had walked toward Ventura until he met a jitney, which he hired to take him to Santa Barbara.

He is now in the County Jail and has made full confession of his crime, giving jealousy as the motive, the woman having said she was leaving him for another.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 24.—Anaconda, Mont., was chosen as the 1917 convention city, and officers were elected at the final business session of the meeting of the Pacific Coast Association of Fire Chiefs here today.

Officers elected were: George S. Wallace, Modesto, Cal., president; Louis Almgren, San Diego, vice-president; H. W. Bringhurst, Seattle, secretary (re-elected,) and Joseph Wood, Renton, Wash., treasurer.

Vice-presidents for the several States represented in the association were elected as follows: Arizona, A. F. Wright, Phoenix; British Columbia, Arthur Turner, Point Gray; California, Elliott Whitehead, Oakland; Idaho, Fred H. Kelly, Wallace; Montana, A. J. Trodick, Great Falls; New Mexico, Charles Whiteman, Roswell; Washington, W. A. Taro, Everett.

The secretary's report, read at the session today, said the attendance at the convention was 115, the largest in the history of the association.

Many of the fire chiefs will remain over until Saturday to witness the ball games between the Los Angeles and San Diego fire departments tomorrow and Saturday for the association championship trophy.

CONVENTION CLOSES.

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 24.—The California Funeral Directors' Association concluded tonight its twelfth annual convention, after sessions lasting three days. More than 100 members of the association with their families were in attendance.

Marysville was selected as the next place of meeting and the following officers were elected: President, J. J. Kelly, Marysville; first vice-president, C. J. Truman, San Francisco; second vice-president, B. Reynolds, Pasadena; treasurer, F. J. Weltl, Santa Rosa; secretary, H. W. Mass, San Francisco; sergeant-at-arms, C. N. Cooper, Oakland.

Delegates to the next national convention selected are Miss Bessie J. Wood, Oakland; D. R. Saum, San Diego; J. B. Draper, Ontario; Robert Sharp, Los Angeles, and Frank Bevan, Marysville.

SAVES THE PRESIDENT.

By a clever ruse Mrs. G. A. Davidson, wife of the president of the exposition, outwitted an insane man yesterday who thought he owned the exposition and demanded the keys of the fair from the president. To avoid antagonizing the demented man, who attempted to enter the door past the maid in an effort to see President Davidson, who had left the house, Mrs. Davidson quickly asked him to write out his demand on the porch.

While he wrote and tore up numerous notes before presenting an incoherent one in which he signed himself D. D. Sun, Mrs. Davidson called the guards from the exposition close by, who arrested him. He was recognized by Chief of Police Wilson as Hoff, a Boer war veteran who formerly lived here and was a mechanic.

REDLANDS RALLY OF REPUBLICANS.

REDLANDS, Aug. 24.—The first big Republican rally of the campaign was held tonight at the Ampitheater, and, despite the rain, an hour before the time of meeting there were several hundred enthusiastic Republicans out for the meeting. Hon. James F. Stutesman, formerly of Indiana, was the speaker, and many times he was forced to halt because of the applause.

C. A. Tripp, president of the Hughes and Fairbanks Club, presided, and State Senator King introduced Mr. Stutesman. The speaker said that in his estimation the present campaign is the most critical in history. He feels that it is especially critical in this State where a peculiar condition exists, that of a man of one political party attempting to secure the nomination for United States Senator from another party.

He warmly advocated the candidacy of Willis H. Booth and gave as the reasons, that he is a business man; that he is a Republican and has always been such, and that he is from Southern California. He spoke of the understanding that has always existed that there is to be one Senator from the north and one from the south, and said that for thirty-five years no attempt has been made to violate this.

He branded Gov. Johnson as a man who has done his best to kill the Republican party and said that he has no moral or political right to seek the Republican nomination, especially since he is registered as a Progressive.

American-Hawaiian Line to Resume Canal Trade.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Aug. 24.—A persistent rumor is afloat that the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company is soon to resume service between New York and Pacific Coast ports through the Panama Canal. Unless new charters are negotiated three of the company's large freighters will have nothing to do unless they are put back in the New York service.

The Texan is now in port at San Francisco without a charter. The Mexican is due there with the last full cargo of the season's sugar shipments from Hilo. The Floridan is thirteen days out from Newcastle, Australia, with a cargo of coal for Honolulu, and will bring what sugar was left by the Mexican.

When the Panama Canal was closed on account of slides the American-Hawaiian line suspended its coast-to-coast service, as did all other steamship companies. The high prices offered for off-shore charters on account of the scarcity of tonnage due to the European war made it impossible to compete with the railroads profitably for transcontinental business.

Now that the Interstate Commerce Commission has permitted the railroads to advance freight rates and the demand for charters has fallen off, it is expected that several lines will resume service. The Alaska Steamship Company has already announced its first sailing in November.

BIG TUNA PACK.

The tuna pack has already exceeded that of last year at most of the canneries, although the season was late in starting. With a continued run of fish for another few weeks the pack will break all records. There are indications of a late season, like that of 1910, when tuna were packed almost up to Christmas.

One indication pointed to by fishermen is that there have so far been no skipjack running with the tuna. Last year the skipjack made their appearance with the tuna in the same schools. When there are no skipjack the fishermen say the season will be a long one.

Receipts for the past week have not been so heavy as they were the first part of the month. Receipts the first, two weeks in August were so heavy that most of the canneries, with their increased facilities, were able to make a good start toward overcoming their record for last year.

Nearly every cannery now has a barge at the channel islands to receive fish and supply fuel and groceries to the fishermen. Most of the barges are completely equipped with electric lighting plants, deck houses, fuel tanks and every facility, for receiving fish sent back to the canneries in tender boats.

The yacht Vixen, owned by H. G. Sewell of the Outer Harbor Dock and Wharf Company, was stolen last night by harbor pirates. There is no clew to the theft. The Vixen was one of the oldest of the fast yachts of the South Coast fleet. She has a white hull and was painted to the water line with copper paint.

FIRE BOAT GROUNDS.

Boiler tar that overflowed on a barge of the Standard American Dredging Company in the west basin made a spectacular fire this morning and caused local firemen much inconvenience, but little damage was done.

The firemen responded to the alarm, taking a fire engine aboard the ferry T. F., the regular fire tug Warrior being unable to get under the drawbridge and negotiate the tide flats. The ferryboat got under the bridge, but grounded before the fire was reached.

FISH HATCHERY WORKS OVERTIME.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
MENTONE, Aug. 24.—J. C. Scott of the Scott fish hatchery at Forest Home has about completed the work of replacing thousands of small trout which were washed from the pools of the hatchery during the floods. The fishermen who have whipped Mill Creek this summer have profited through the loss of the hatchery, for the big trout which were washed down have graced the creels of many fishermen.

Mr. Scott is also rebuilding the pool walls, which were so badly damaged by the water. He is working hard to get everything in shape for the winter season, when he will ship trout to the various markets. Many young trout were placed in the pools before the road was opened and the cans of fish were carried in over the old pipe-line trail on the backs of burros.

A Woman's Vociferous Religious Zeal Snubbed by Church Owner.

[Indianapolis News:] J. C. Mendenhall, medicine manufacturer of Evansville, Ind., who travels extensively through the South, has just returned with a good story of a Georgia plantation owner he has known a number of years. The owner of the plantation is a religious man and tries to encourage all those around him to lead a religious life. Some time ago he built a church on his plantation and announced at the time that he wished everybody to come, but that all would be expected to contribute something for the keeping up of the church. In the course of time there was a revival in his church and great interest was manifested, people coming for miles around to attend the services. There was one woman worshiper who shouted good and loud the first night. She came the second night and shouted even louder. She had attended the church off and on since it had been built, but she had never given a penny for the paying of the preacher or other expenses of the church. The woman came again on the third night and started to shout. She did not get very far, as the plantation owner, who was present, stopped her with this remark: "I want you to understand, Sister——, that no shouting on credit goes in this church."

FIG PACKERS GO OUT ON STRIKE AT FRESNO.

FRESNO, Aug. 24.—A riot squad of policemen was called out shortly before noon today when 114 women fig pickers, employed at the Guggenhime & Co. plant walked out and then stormed the Roeding Company plant in an effort to induce a sympathy strike. The threatened riot was put down by the police.

A general strike among the 1000 employees of the fig-packing plants in Fresno is the plan of the strikers, according to their leaders. A mass meeting of employees will be held tonight to discuss a general strike and to make a formal demand for an increase in wages.

Every woman in the Guggenhime plant walked out this morning, leaving the packing-house entirely crippled. The strikers then marched to the Roeding plant and stormed the doors and forced an entrance. They had begun an excited campaign among the women workers before the police succeeded in persuading the strike leaders to leave the place. The other strikers left a few minutes later.

FLOOD CONTROL.

San Bernardino County and Cities Arranging New Plans to Curb Waters of Lytle Creek and Protect Property of Many Interests.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]
SAN BERNARDINO, Aug. 24.—New plans are now under way to curb the flood waters of the Lytle Creek and protect the property of San Bernardino, Colton, three railroads and private interests, and the project probably will result in the formation of protection districts in the two cities to cover the expense of spreading about 150,000 inches of water at the mouth of the canyon northwest of this city and conserve it for summer use.

At a meeting of representatives of the interests involved in this city a committee of five was named to decide upon the size of the district and the manner of procedure. This committee includes City Attorney William Guthrie of San Bernardino, City Attorney M. O. Hert of Colton, E. O. Rickert of the Riverside-Highland Water Company, W. M. Parker and A. A. Cox of San Bernardino.

Their report will be made to a further meeting on August 30. The proposed district in San Bernardino will include all property west of Towne Creek, almost all of Colton, together with the orchard territory served by the water companies using Lytle Creek.

Another flood-control project is moving along in the Santa Ana basin, where a pile and plank spur dyke costing about $20,000 will be constructed in the river below Colton. County Engineer J. A. Sourwine has completed plans for the protection work.

The dyke will extend from the Southern Pacific bridge east of Colton to the Pacific Electric bridge south of Colton, a distance of one and six-tenths miles. The expense will be shared by the railroads, Colton, the county and other interests.

Divorced Husband Watches as Wife is Congratulated.

Mental Anguish the Ground for Separation.

A bevy of her young women friends surrounded Mrs. Ada J. Reynolds in Judge Craig's court yesterday afternoon. She had just won a legal battle for freedom from John F. Reynolds, and her friends congratulated her.

But Mr. Reynolds did not participate in the joy. He had made a fight to clear his name of the charge laid against him, of humiliating his young and handsome wife by his conduct at the entertainments and parties, which, he said, his wife insisted upon him attending.

Mrs. Reynolds alleged extreme cruelty. She testified to a number of instances when Mr. Reynolds became intoxicated and thereby humiliated her in the presence of her friends. He defined intoxication as being helpless physically and mentally. He claimed he knew what he was doing.

BROKEN PROMISE.

Another feature of the evidence which helped Mrs. Reynolds to win her freedom was the promise she testified her husband made her after a scene at their home, that he would never drink again. But subsequently he attended a party at the Pacific Gun Club and, it was alleged, drank to excess. He said he did not care to go to these parties, as the guests were friends of his wife. He felt himself an outsider, but Mrs. Reynolds contended that he was jealous.

The court held, in granting Mrs. Reynolds a decree on the ground of extreme cruelty, that by Mr. Reynolds course of conduct he had humiliated her and caused her great mental anguish. Mr. Reynolds, the court said, insisted upon his wife conforming to his ideas. But a man who exerts his will on his wife to that extent, the court stated, makes her life very miserable.

LOVE WAS DEAD.

To show that Mrs. Reynolds no longer loved her husband, Attorney Johnson offered a letter in evidence, in which she had written, in part, that she had been terribly unhappy for years and that he had been, more or less. She said they were not suited and that she had not loved him for years.

"I could never live with you, never, never," she wrote. "Please let me alone. When you receive this letter I will be in San Francisco. The money was borrowed on my ring, so you must know that I wanted to go very badly."

The court gave Mrs. Reynolds custody of her daughter Virginia, but gave the father permission to see the child, and if there was any infraction of this order, the court said, it would result in a modification.

NICKEL-CHASER IS LOSER IN ACTION.

CAREERING CRAFTS LAND MANY IN JUSTICE COURT.

Much-bandaged Occupants of Jitney Bus that Turned Over Express Surprise at Verdict by Which Driver Loses Damage Claim.

Five much-bandaged individuals, accompanied by a trio of lawyers, awaited the outcome of a jitney-bus accident suit yesterday in Justice Palmer's court. They were passengers in the bus of A. T. Tarbell several days ago, when that vehicle turned turtle, as the result of a collision with the car of J. Hanson.

Tarbell brought suit against Hanson for damages of $299, alleging that Hanson's careless driving had caused the accident. The attorney for the defendant, Hugh T. Gordon, who was fined $5 for contempt of court by Justice Palmer on the first day of the hearing, produced witnesses and evidence to show that but for Hanson's presence of mind a serious and probably fatal accident would have resulted.

A third machine, it was asserted, traveling across an intersecting thoroughfare at a high rate of speed, caused the jitney driver to swerve toward the curb, while Hanson, coming in the other direction, had to turn around completely. Toward the end of the turn his fender bumped the jitney, which turned turtle. It was shown in court that the passenger machine was probably on two wheels when hit, and that the impact of Hanson's car was not sufficient to cause the turning over.

Justice Palmer refused to grant damages, much to the surprise of the numerous witnesses who were in the bus and had planned to bring suits of their own against Hanson.

Funeral services for Charles P. Williams, who passed away late Wednesday evening, following a short illness, will be conducted at the residence, No. 1004 Buena Vista street, South Pasadena, at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning. Rev. J. Wottan of St. James Church, South Pasadena, will officiate.

Mr. Williams was 76 years of age and was born in Stonington, Ct. He was a graduate of Yale and a stock broker of New York for several years, but had been a resident of South Pasadena for thirteen years. TO SERVE BIG DEFENSE GUNS.

Chamber of Commerce Starts Movement for Citizen Artillery Force.

The Chamber of Commerce yesterday, by resolution, assumed the initiative in a movement to form here one or more companies of volunteer coast artillery, as a reserve to help man the big guns at Fort MacArthur in case of need.

Men who received intensive training at the recent Monterey encampment, it is proposed, shall form the nucleus of the artillery organizations. It is pointed out their availability makes the project easily feasible, and that the service will be desirable, as the men would almost certainly never be called on for service away from home.

DENIES HE BRANDED BROTHER A COWARD

PRISONER COMES TO DEFENSE OF RELATIVE.

Held for Burglary, His Chief Regret is Injury Done Young Woman Who Passed as His Wife. Replies Enigmatically to Question About His Probable Plea.

John E. Morgan, one of the most remarkable criminals landed in the toils in Los Angeles for many month, for the first time since his arrest consented to talk to newspaper men yesterday afternoon at the County Jail.

His arraignment, set for Judge Nichol's court today, is the result of a continuance granted yesterday morning. This extra day to enter a plea was granted through the courtesy of Deputy District Attorney Selph, who tried Morgan in the preliminary hearing, and, despite the shrewd wit of Morgan, had him bound over to the Superior Court on a burglary charge.

"You can never tell what tomorrow may bring forth," answered Morgan to the question of whether or not he intended to plead guilty. He declared his request for further time was largely based on his desire to arrange certain money matters. He also spoke of Mrs. Pansy Rishell, the young woman who lived with him at the Alexandria Hotel as his wife.

"I would do anything in the world to right the wrong which I did her," he declared. "Should it ever be possible for me to remove the stigma have helped attach to her name I certainly will try and do so."

He especially requested that the report that he had called his brother a coward be denied, and further declared that the only reason he had not wanted his brother in his cell in jail was for the brother's own good.

CHARGE MANSLAUGHTER

Autoist Who Ran Down Boy is not at Home When Warrant-server Seeks Him, but Wife Proffers Assurance of His Appearance.

E. W. Johannes of No. 2021 Darwin avenue is wanted for manslaughter in connection with the death of Donald Holman, the 16-year-old boy of Calabasas, who, while riding his horse on the State highway, was run into by a machine driven by Johannes.

After the Coroner's jury decided that Johannes was criminally negligent in his driving, Deputy District Attorney Stafford issued the complaint. The defendant was not at home when the officers went to serve the warrant, his wife stating that he was out of town, but that he would appear this morning for service.

ARBITRATE ISSUES.

Federal Officials Solve Problems of Conflicting Entries and Settlements, in Public Land Cases, by Dividing Property Between Claimants.

Register Roche and Receiver Mitchell of the local Land Office yesterday concluded to split a quarter-section of land near Brawley between Jennie S. Garrick and Alvah A. Metcalfe. The land was withdrawn April 20, 1909, and restored to settlement October 25, 1915, and to entry January 13, 1916. The matter thus resolved itself into a question of priority of settlement, and the officials thought the proper thing would be to divide the 160 acres between the two, and an order to this effect was made.

A split opinion was rendered in the contest brought by George W. Penman against Ray L. Rumsey. Robert Barette and Charles A. McCarthy, successor in interest and substitution to Carl B. Chick. The land is located near Imperial. It was surveyed prior to reclamation work done by Penman, and the officials of the local Land Office hold that he could gain no preference right by such work. When Penman filed his entry, Rumsey, Barette and Chick had already appropriated and acquired the land.

Register Roche and Receiver Mitchell decided that the desert land entry of Rumsey and Barette shall remain intact; that the homestead entry of McCarthy be rejected; that the desert land entry of Penman be rejected as to 160 acres in section 26, on account of conflicting with the desert land entry of Rumsey and Barette, and that the desert land entry of Penman be allowed as to 160 acres in section 25, after the cancellation of the McCarthy entry. The case presented an almost inextricable maze of conflicting applications and entries.

Insomnia.

INCINERATOR MAKES OFFER TO CITY OVER WATER.

Proposes Largely to Reduce its Maximum Consumption if Charges up to the End of the Year are Canceled by Board of Public Service Commissioners.

For the purpose of settling the dispute between it and the city regarding water consumption at the incinerator, the Pacific Reduction Company wrote the Board of Public Works yesterday submitting a proposition dependent upon the cancelation by the city of all water charges up to January 1, next, by which time the amount probably will be $100,000.

The company offers to reduce the maximum consumption of water from 12,000 gallons per ton of green garbage to 9000 gallons, all water consumed over this amount to be furnished at its own expense. Through recent improvements in condensing processes the company expects to reduce the consumption below the 9000-gallon limit, in which case, it says, the city will profit by any saving in the maximum.

President Handley of the Board of Public Works said he thought the City Council should instruct the Water Board to cancel the charges. The Board of Public Works will confer with the Council regarding the matter.

Part of the "gentleman's agreement" between the Council and the Water Board, made when the latter agreed to give the city $350,000, was that the water department would not press its claim for water furnished the incinerator under the city's contract.

SPECIAL ELECTION.
CHARTER AMENDMENTS.

Several members of the Council intimated yesterday that the date of October 3, proposed by the Realty Board for holding a special election on a charter amendment providing for the consolidation of city and county tax collectors' and assessors' offices, will not work in with their plans for the submission of other propositions.

Councilman Wheeler said they wanted to again put before the people the matter of voting a bond issue for the outfall sewer, and that could not be done until six months after the date of the last election. That would place the date of the election in November.

The Realty Board's letter was referred to the City Attorney to report in connection with the initiative ordinance to permit regulated dancing in places where liquor is sold. The attorney also will draft amendments allowing railways to cross parkways and providing for the merging of city and county elections.

NOT AFTER "LEGITS."
THEATER SUPERVISION.

Legitimate theaters may be excluded from the proposed new system whereby places of amusement will be licensed by the Police Commission. A conference on the subject was held yesterday by the City Attorney, the City Prosecutor and Rev. Robert C. Barton, executive secretary of the Morals Efficiency Committee.

Rev. Barton said the legitimate theaters here are of a high class and give good, clean shows. The places aimed at are mostly small places on Main street, into which patrons are enticed by displays of partially-undressed women.

FOR STORM SEWERS.
THREE-MILLION-DOLLAR WORK

Storm drain sewer systems which will cost in the aggregate between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 are planned for the West Jefferson street and Sacatella districts. The form of the petitions asking the Council to call special elections was approved by the Public Works Committee yesterday.

Chairman Topham of the committee expects the elections will be called some time in January. The West Jefferson work is estimated to cost $1,500,000, but the bond issue in the Sacatella district will not be quite so large.

REFER TAX LEVY.
COUNCIL TO ACT TODAY.

As members of the Council wished to see what the apportionments were in the City Auditor's resolution providing for the appropriations, fixing of the tax levy was deferred until today. It will be reported from the Finance Committee. The rate will be as announced yesterday, $1.45 for the old city and tapering down to $1.10.

Refunds amounting to $35,590 will be made on unsecured personal property taxes already collected. This is due to the fact that these were made on a basis of a tax rate of $1.60, last year's rate.

BAIRDSTOWN WATER.
BETTER SUPPLY NEEDED.

Dr. Powers, health commissioner, reported to the Health and Sanitation Committee of the City Council yesterday that the water in the reservoir which supplies Bairdstown and surrounding territory does not conform to the standard of clean water. The City Attorney was instructed to take up the matter with the water board with a view to the city's serving the district without waiting for the voting of the $200,000 bond issue next month.

The old reservoir is on the Hermon hills and the source of supply is the Arroyo Seco. The reservoir is reported to be in a dilapidated condition and the water is impure, Dr. Powers said.

Expresses Appreciation.

The Council yesterday instructed the City Clerk to express to Harry H. Culver and the people of Culver City its appreciation of the offer of a three-acre park at Culver City and the Finance Committee will draw up the terms of acceptance. Councilman Wright said offers of this character should be encouraged, as this city needed all the open spaces it could get. Councilwoman Lindsey said she did not believe Los Angeles has half enough parks.

Must Cut Down Weight.

Heavy trucks and trailers having done so much damage to paved streets the Council yesterday gave favorable consideration to an ordinance proposed by the City Engineer which will limit the weight and speed of those vehicles. No truck or trailer which, with its load, has a combined weight of 16,000 pounds, will be permitted to travel at a faster rate than twelve miles an hour if the ordinance is passed. Other regulations as to tires and so forth are suggested.

Collusion Alleged.

Councilwoman Lindsey will investigate a report that through collusion between someone in the Auditor's office and loan companies the latter have been posted as to financial difficulty of city employees. Mrs. Lindsey said if that was true the culprit should be summarily dismissed. She asked the Council to appoint a committee to investigate the charge. The Council, however, referred the matter to the Public Welfare Committee of which Mrs. Lindsey is chairman.

City Hall Notes.

The Board of Public Works yesterday sent a force of men to the beach road near the long wharf to remove the earth which fell on it during the landslide early in the week. The City Engineer reported there is a strong probability of further slides.

The Mercereau Construction Company was the low bidder, at $2305, for repairing the outfall sewer pier at Hyperion but the City Engineer informed the Board of Works he estimated the work could be done by city forces for $1900. The Council will be notified of the lowest bid.

Admits He Pulled Wife Out of Bed by Hair and Threw a Plate, but She Had Thrown a Pillow at Him—Former Actress Given Decree and Support for Children.

Arthur J. Flavin admitted to Judge Wood, in Mrs. Lena H. Flavin's divorce proceedings yesterday, that he does not like married life. He said he would never marry again. He was dissatisfied and, moreover, he did not care whether his wife got a divorce or not.

He made these statements audible enough, but when he admitted he had pulled his wife out of bed by the hair when he wanted an early breakfast, and slapped her face when she told him to get his own breakfast, Judge Wood fined him $5 because he persisted in speaking in a low voice. The money the court gave to Mrs. Flavin. Mr. Flavin also said he had thrown a plate at his wife.

"Did she ever throw anything at you?" asked the court.

"Yes, a pillow."

Mrs. Flavin was granted a decree, the custody of the two children and $15 a week for their support. She was formerly an actress.

Helms and Charles Thaxter. The Keystone Quartette will furnish the musical selections for the entertainment. Dist.-Atty. Woolwine delivered the principal address at the gathering last night.

CHARGES PERJURY.

Answer in Divorce Action Leads Defendant into Trouble.

As the result of his answer in a divorce suit, filed by Clayton Cox Van Sant, denying allegations made by Mrs. Nuncie S. Van Sant of Pasadena, he had to appear before Justice Summerfield yesterday for a preliminary hearing, on a perjury charge. His wife, who accused Mr. Van Sant of beating her, pulling her hair and other indignities, alleges that in his answer to her suit he has "deliberately lied." She had him arrested shortly after one of the family rows on a charge of cruelty, and he was given a suspended sentence of 180 days by the police court. The hearing yesterday was continued until Monday afternoon, owing to a crowded calendar in the court.

ANOTHER CHARGE.

Theft of Automobile Points to Man Now in County Jail.

Issuance of a complaint charging T. L. Croon with the theft of a second automobile may result today from an investigation that is now being made. Croon was arrested in the San Bernardino Mountains several days ago in company with Miss M. Louise George on the charge of having stolen a machine from the shop of F. H. Carpenter, No. 433 South Flower street.

Another car disappeared under similar circumstances, February 15, from the same place, and Deputy Sheriffs Wright and Strong are convinced that Croon took this also. Croon, who is in the County Jail, denies the allegation of taking the car in February, or for that matter at any other time.
